

New Books in Butterworths African Law Series

Farran's Matrimonial Laws of the Sudan

By C. D'OLIVIER FARRAN, B.C.L., M.A.(OXON.), Ph.D. (SHEFFIELD), Barrister-at-Law; Head of the Department of International and Comparative Law in the University of Khartoum, 1958-1962; sometime Lecturer in the Universities of Sheffield and Liverpool

This new book is not only the first to deal with a particular aspect of the Sudanese legal system, but it is probably the first full length study dealing with the interplay of various legal systems of family law within a single state. Discussing an area which Dr. Farran terms "a microcosm of Africa" where several systems of marriage law operate concurrently—Mohammedan, Christian, Customary and Civil being the most important—this book will appeal not only to practitioners in the Sudan but to all who are interested in the law in Africa.

Obi on the Ibo Law of Property

By S. N. CHINWUBA OBI, B.Sc.(ECON.), LL.M.(LOND.), Barrister-at-Law; Research Officer in African Law, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London

This new book in Butterworths African Law Series deals with the law relating to land and movables in Iboland, an area in the Eastern Region of Nigeria with a population of about six million. Also covered are such things as fishing and hunting rights, succession, sale and women's rights, but although the theme is mainly customary law the effects of the impact of English legal ideas have been indicated. Courts and practitioners in Nigeria will find this a valuable book, and it should be of wide interest elsewhere to all who are interested in the study of African customary law.

THE CRIMINAL LAW AND PROCEDURE of Lagos, Eastern Nigeria and Western Nigeria

SIR LIONEL BRETT

of Magdalen College, Oxford, and of the Inner Temple, Judge of the Supreme Court of the Federation of Nigeria and

IAN McLEAN, M.A.

of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, formerly Senior Lecturer at the Institute of Administration, Northern Nigeria

This is the first textbook for the practitioner on the criminal law in Nigeria. It deals comprehensively and in detail with substantive law and procedure, with case law and statute. It will be essential to all practising the criminal law, whether as judge, magistrate, lawyer, court official or policeman. Its comprehensive scope will make it essential as a work of reference.

The Criminal Procedure Act, the Evidence Act, the Criminal Code, legislation relating to appeals and minor criminal statutes are printed in full as they apply to Lagos. Each section is fully annotated, giving the variations applicable to the Eastern and Western Regions, all relevant Nigerian cases and comparative references to English law as found in Archbold, Pleading Evidence and Practice in Criminal Cases.
