

Notes for contributors

PREPARATION OF MANUSCRIPTS

There are three ways to contribute to NJL: articles, debate contributions and book reviews. Debate contributions are appropriate, in particular, for comments on articles published earlier in NJL.

Manuscripts (articles and debate contributions) will normally be read by three referees.

Contributors should submit their manuscripts in fully anonymised double-spaced PDF files attached to an e-mail message. The main body of the e-mail message should include (i) the name and full contact details of the author(s), (ii) the title and the category of the paper, (iii) an abstract of 100–150 words summarizing the content, and (iv) 5–10 key words or short phrases in alphabetical order. The name(s) of the author(s) must not be included in the file.

Papers accepted for publication should also be submitted electronically, in a Word file and an identical PDF file, with any tables, figures and figure captions in separate files. The text should be double-spaced, with standard margins on all four sides of each page, page numbers at top right, and the right margin non-justified. The paper's title, the name(s) of the author(s), an abstract, key words/phrases and the full postal and e-mail addresses of the author(s) should be presented at the start of the paper, in the order just listed.

Forms of the language(s) under discussion cited in the running text should be in italics; phonetic representation should be included in square brackets [...], phonemic representation between slant lines /.../, English glosses should be added directly after a cited non-English form between single quotes, and reconstructed and non-occurring (ungrammatical) forms should be preceded by an asterisk *.

Each example sentence in a language other than English must be translated into English. A word-for-word gloss is obligatory, whereas an idiomatic translation may be omitted when the meaning is clear from the word-for-word gloss. The word-for-word glosses should be in italics and aligned under the original forms, and the idiomatic translation should follow on a separate line below, enclosed in single quotes.

The full version of Instructions for Contributors is available from NJL's website, journals.cambridge.org/NJL, or from the editors.

PROOFS

First proofs of articles, debate contributions and book reviews will be sent electronically, as PDF files, to the (first-named) author, who will be expected to correct them and send proof corrections electronically within three days of receipt.

The Nordic Association of Linguists

The Nordic Association of Linguists (NAL) is an organisation whose aim is to promote the interests of linguists, especially those working in the Nordic countries, and of linguists working specifically with the languages of the Nordic countries.

The activities of the Nordic Association of Linguists include:

- the Nordic Journal of Linguistics, published for the Association by Cambridge University Press;
- two conference series, the Scandinavian Conference of Linguistics and the International Conference on Nordic and General Linguistics, organised under the auspices of the Association (proceedings are published for both series);
- some financial support to graduate students in Nordic languages or linguistics.

Membership of the Nordic Association of Linguists includes a subscription to the Nordic Journal of Linguistics; the rate for full members is £30 (US$48) and student members £16 (US$25). For membership enquiries, please consult the NAL web site, <http://cc.joensuu.fi/linguistics/nal>, or contact NAL at nal@joensuu.fi

CONTENTS

- 1 Note from the Editors
- 3 Call for papers: NJL Special Issue on the Nordic Languages and Second Language Acquisition Theory

Articles

- 5 Nicole Dehé
An intonational grammar for Icelandic
- 35 Gunlög Josefsson
Peas and pancakes: On apparent disagreement and (null) light verbs in Swedish
- 73 Marit Julien
Clause-final subjects in English and Scandinavian
- 111 Helge Lødrup
Animacy and long distance binding in Norwegian
- 137 Patrizia Paggio
The information structure of Danish grammar constructions

Reviews

- 165 Tania E. Strahan
Laurie Bauer: The Linguistics Student's Handbook
- 174 Stig Eliasson
Lyle Campbell & William J. Poser: Language Classification: History and Method
- 183 Publications received in 2008

Cambridge Journals Online

For further information about this journal please go to the journal website at:

journals.cambridge.org/njl

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS