

NEWS AND NOTES

Travel grants to the International Congress of Africanists have been announced as follows:

All expense Fulbright-Hays grants:

	Discipline
William O. Brown Director, African Research and Studies Program Boston University, Boston 15, Massachusetts	Sociology
James S. Coleman Director, African Studies Center University of California, Los Angeles 24, California	Political Science
L. Gray Cowan Program of Studies on Africa Columbia University, New York 27, New York	Political Science
Joseph Greenberg Department of Anthropology Columbia University, New York 27, New York	Linguistics
Melville J. Herskovits Director, African Studies Program Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois	Anthropology
Vernon McKay School of Advanced International Studies Johns Hopkins University, Washington 9, D.C.	History

All expense ACLS economy grants, plus per diem of $150 from ASA:

Margaret L. Bates Department of History Goddard College, Plainfield, Vermont	History
Horace Mann Bond School of Education Atlanta University, Atlanta, Georgia	Education
Hibberd V. Kline Department of Geography University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh 13, Pennsylvania.	Geography
Robert Lystad School of Advanced International Studies Johns Hopkins University, Washington 9, D.C.	Anthropology
Robert T. Parsons Dean, Kennedy School of Missions Hartford Seminary Foundation, Hartford, Connecticut	Sociology- Anthropology
Roy Sieber Department of Fine Arts Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana	Art History

All expense SSRC economy grants, plus per diem of $150 from ASA:

	Discipline
Mark Karp African Research and Studies Program Boston University, Boston 15, Massachusetts	Economics
Carl G. Rosberg Department of Political Science University of California, Berkeley 4, California	Political Science
A. Arthur Schiller Department of Law Columbia University, New York 27, New York	Law

All expense grants from Organizing Committee of ICA, plus $150 per diem from ASA:

Leonard W. Doob Department of Psychology Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut	Psychology
Alan P. Merriam Department of Anthropology Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana	Anthropology
Hugh H. Smythe Department of Sociology and Anthropology Brooklyn College, Brooklyn 11, New York	Sociology

* * * * *

Members of the African Studies Association will be allowed a fifty per-cent discount on the regular price of $5.00 for Joseph Greenberg's revised and enlarged Studies in African Linguistics, which is being published by the Indiana University Research Center in Anthropology, Folklore and Linguistics. The reduction in price is provided because the publication was subsidized by the Languages and Linguistics Committee of the Association.

All American and Canadian orders should be addressed to Mr. Thomas A. Sebeok, Research Center in Anthropology, Linguistics and Folklore, Rayl House, 1825 East Third Street, Bloomington, Indiana. Overseas orders should be sent to Mouton and Co., The Hague, Netherlands.

* * * * *

Carnegie Corporation has granted $43,000 to the College of Social Studies, Kenya, for short courses for adult students, and $70,000 to the University College, Tanganyika, for support of its extra-mural program.

Recent African grants by the Ford Foundation have included: $20,000 to the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, for a conference on the place of Islam and African religions in African development, and on Christianity and religious syncretism in Africa; $100,000 to the Congo National School of Law and Administration for the construction of student housing; $110,000 to the University of Dakar, for faculty exchange with American law schools and research on African law; $23,500 to the Museum Trustees of Kenya, for development of the Coryndon Memorial Museum as a scientific educational resource; $118,000 to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for research on employment of school leavers in Nigeria, and on planning problems of the Niger River; $150,000 to the government of Eastern Nigeria for construction of a civil service training center; $11,000 to Tanganyika National Parks for an educational program on wildlife conservation as an economic resource; and $22,000 to the University of Ghana for the establishment of a test development unit at the Institute of Education.

* * * * *

A three-year research project on Southern Africa has been undertaken by the California Institute of Technology, with an emphasis on economic development. Six members of the Institute staff began preliminary field surveys in summer 1962; after the first year this team, which is primarily made up of social scientists, will be joined by scientists in such fields as nutrition, water, production methods and the composition and use of building materials.

* * * * *

Recent Publications

The Hoover Institution, Stanford University, is now publishing a quarterly Africana Newsletter, the first issue of which appeared in October. The newsletter, which was undertaken as a result of recommendations from the ASA Libraries Committee, is designed to provide practical information on such matters as reference works being published in Africa south of the Sahara, listings of acquisitions of Africa-related documents, bibliographic studies, and research projects. Addresses of government printers, book dealers, archives, periodicals and newspapers will occasionally be included. Sections on archival and manuscript collections and on news and queries will be regular features.

The newsletter, which is published in English and French, is edited by Peter Duignan. Subscriptions are $3.50 a year.

* * * * *

African Libraries, Book Production and Archives: A List of References has recently been published by the Library of Congress. The list was compiled by Helen Conover and is available from the Card Division, Library of Congress, Washington 25, D. C., at a price of 60¢.

* * * * *

The Nigerian Journal of Economic and Social Studies is now published regularly three times a year. This is the journal of the Nigerian Economic Society, with a central interest in Africa and other economically under-developed areas, but it publishes material on other topics as well.

Manuscripts from the United States are welcome; they may be sent to the Nigerian Economic Society at University College, Ibadan. U.S. subscription price for the journal is $4, membership in the society $5. Checks made out to the Nigerian Economic Society may be sent to the treasurer, Dr. Sayre P. Schatz, at the Nigerian Institute of Social and Economic Research, University College, Ibadan.

* * * * *

A Report on the First Summer Program in African Languages 1962 has been issued by the African Language and Area Center, Michigan State University. Copies of the mimeographed report are available from the Center.

* * * * *

A new listing (ER list 7.18) of current research on Africa has been compiled by the External Research Division, Bureau of Intelligence and Research, Department of State. Copies may be obtained by writing the Division, Room 8733, Department of State, Washington 25, D.C.

* * * * *

A monthly review of world events and trends in race relations is now available in the Newsletter published by the Institute of Race Relations, 36 Jermyn Street, London S.W. 1. The newsletter digests press news, and carries comment from special correspondents in East, South and Central Africa. Questions relating to immigrants in Great Britain and other areas are considered; notes on research, lectures and conferences are included. Annual subscription price, including a six-monthly index, is $2.80. Subscriptions and requests for sample copies may be sent to the Newsletter Assistant at the address above.

* * * * *

A limited number of copies of Historians in Tropical Africa, the Proceedings of the Leverhulme Inter-Collegiate Conference in History held at the University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland in September 1960, are now available. The cost of each copy is 15/- plus postage and exchange; they may be obtained from the Secretary, Department of History, University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland; Private Bag 1674, Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia.

* * * * *