

David Friedrich Strauss and his Theology

HORTON HARRIS

A study of David Friedrich Strauss, certainly the most notorious and arguably the most important theologian of the nineteenth century. His Life of Jesus (1835), which repudiated the historicity of the Gospels, split the century into two theological eras and set in motion the 'Quest' for the historical Jesus.

Dr Harris presents his study as a theological biography with extensive quotations from Strauss' writings and letters. This is the only study in English of this controversial figure. £5.20 net

Jesus and the Pharisees

JOHN BOWKER

A study of the Pharisees as they appear in the New Testament and in their relations with Jesus. Mr Bowker makes available by translation and commentary the most important Greek and Semitic source material. His full introduction explains the many problems and uncertainties which surround this apparently well-known but little-understood group. £4.20 net

Paul's Intercessory Prayers

The Significance of the Intercessory Prayer Passages in the Letters of Paul

GORDON P. WILES

A study of the communal worship and private prayers of the early Christian Church, in particular the intercessory prayer passages in Paul's seven recognised epistles. Professor Wiles is concerned to discover what these prayers reveal about Paul's ministry and his apostolic strategy. £7.20 net

Christ and Spirit in the New Testament

Studies in honour of Charles Francis Digby Moule

Edited by BARNABAS LINDARS, S.S.F. and

STEPHEN S. SMALLEY

The editors have grouped the studies in this volume around the themes 'Christ and Spirit', two of the most controversial areas in current New Testament study, which are also the areas with which Professor Moule has been most concerned as editor, author and teacher. £8.30 net
