PIT PONIES

There are still 13,400 used (and stabled) underground in British coalmines. No other country has such an enormous number. They should not be worked in mines for more than 11 years, and have a holiday on the surface every year. Electric battery lamps should be fixed to their collars, or their roadways electrically lit. Small ponies under 14 hands high should not be employed, and ample dimensions for comfortable travel always guaranteed. They should not be used on steep inclines or overloaded. The pace at which pit ponies work is much faster than that above ground and even if their drivers were invariably kind, their life cannot be a happy one. Nobody outside the employment of the National Coal Board or the Ministry of Fuel ever sees the ponies actually at work below ground or when brought up for good and destroyed. Why not a time limit to the use of ponies in mines? Why not an independent inquiry into what can be done in this way? Contributions gratefully received.—
D. Jeffrey Williams, Secretary, Pit Ponies' Protection Society, 69 Carlton Hill, London, N.W.8.

CHRISTMAS GIFT BOOKS

A VINCENT McNABB ANTHOLOGY edited by Francis Edward Nugent. This is a good anthology, offering something from the varied types of work to which Father Vincent turned his hand. The reader will find that he cannot help forming a picture of the saintly and gifted man who was Father Vincent. 13s. 6d.

THE LIFE OF ST DOMINIC by Bede Jarrett, O.P. Since his death, the personality of St Dominic has been a point of contention between the Church and her enemies. Here Father Bede shows the real man—the flame of truth and love that, in the footsteps of his Master, went to seek the sheep that was lost. 12s. 6d.

THE EUCHARIST AND THE CONFESSIONAL by F. D. Joret, O.P. Father Joret here treats of the Sacraments of Our Lord, he stresses the importance of frequent communion and discusses the remission of sins. After reading this book, the Christian will have a deeper understanding of the gifts Our Lord offers for our salvation. 13s. 6d.

MY SERVANT CATHERINE by Arrigo Levasti. Here is a splendid translation of Arrigo Levasti's Saint Catherine of Siena, first published in Turin in 1947. The author shows admirably the source of the saint's power, humility and attractiveness—a sincere and consuming love of God. 21s.

A SAINT OF THE WEEK by Desmond Murray, O.P. Forty-eight brief lives of saints, some famous, some little known, are here presented in a way that ensures general, effective enlivening of that deep, everyday 'catechism' holiness to which every soul of man responds. 15s.

THE CONVENT AND THE WORLD by Sister Mary Laurence, O.P. This volume will be of particular value to young women who think they may have a vocation, to Catholics and others wishing to understand the true essence of religious life, and for Superiors to place in the hands of enquirers. 9s. 6d.

AN INTRODUCTION TO CONTEMPLATIVE MEDITATION by F. D. Joret, O.P. The art of spiritual recollection has almost been forgotten by too many of the laity, and Father Joret here seeks to show his readers the predispositions necessary for fruitful recollection. 4s. 6d.

Our new Catalogue, which has just been published, will gladly be sent on request.
