IN THEATRICAL LIGHTING,
the originator has always been the leader.
That's because continuous evolution in the development of original Kliegl equipment is based upon an enormous—and constantly expanding—foundation of experience earned in the design of systems to varied and exacting individual requirements.

Current selection of Kliegl quality components make the custom design of versatile and dependable systems an easily attainable standard. And, as always, Kliegl engineering experience is available to make the most sophisticated refinements wholly practical.

Write for descriptive literature or specific application assistance.

CUMULATED DRAMATIC INDEX, 1909-1949

Forty-one annual volumes of The F. W. Faxon Company's Dramatic Index are cumulated in this comprehensive index of articles and illustrations on every phase of the theatre. Entries for critical, historical and biographical articles that appeared in 150 American and British periodicals are interfiled in a single alphabet; the appendix includes a record of books on drama and of texts of plays published from 1909 to 1949.

Approximately 350,000 entries reproduced in 2 volumes Price: $490.00

Catalog of the THEATRE and DRAMA COLLECTIONS

The New York Public Library, Research Libraries

To be supplemented

This catalog may be purchased in three individual sections, as follows:

Part I. Drama Collection: Listing by Cultural Origin

This catalog represents the major portion of the Reference Department's Drama Collection. Included are more than 120,000 plays written in western languages. Translations of plays published in the Cyrillic, Hebrew and Oriental alphabets are also listed. Excluded are children's plays, Christmas plays, and moralities. Holdings include approximately 20,000 entries for American plays; English, 21,000; French, 22,000; Spanish, 16,000; German, 14,000; and a strong representation of plays written in minor languages.

120,000 cards reproduced in 6 volumes Price: $530.00

Part I. Drama Collection: Author Listing

The cards in Listing by Cultural Origin are here presented in an alphabetical author arrangement, prepared by the staff of G. K. Hall & Co.

Estimated 120,000 cards reproduced in 6 volumes Price: $720.00

Part II. Theatre Collection: Books on the Theatre

The word "theatre" is interpreted in its broadest sense to include the stage, cinema, radio, television, carnivals, nightclub performances, the circus, and magic. Published books and periodicals in these fields are basic to the Theatre Collection. As an indication of its scope, holdings relating to the stage encompass stage history, production techniques, acting, theatre criticism, biography and material on individual theatres. Although published plays are not included at the present time, typescripts of plays, promptbooks, and shooting scripts of motion pictures make up an important segment of the Collection's holdings.

This dictionary catalog represents over 23,500 volumes and includes index citations for selected articles in various periodicals.

121,000 cards reproduced in 9 volumes Price: $480.00

EIGHT PLAYS FROM Off-Off Broadway

edited by NICK ORZEL and MICHAEL SMITH

Introduction by Michael Smith, drama critic, The Village Voice

"By hook or crook this volume should find its way into theater collections."
—Library Journal

Five Plays

by SAM SHEPARD

Shepard is the acknowledged genius of the new theater movement in America. This is the first published collection of the work of this brilliant young playwright.

paper $2.25; cloth $5.00

La Turista

by SAM SHEPARD

with an introduction by Elizabeth Hardwick

This brilliant new allegorical play in two acts depicts two young people on a holiday in Mexico, humbled in the first act by the traditional tourist's disease, and in the second act by a far more serious disease. Their humiliation becomes universal; their sickness is that of contemporary civilization. With illustrations from the original production.

Shakespeare's Hamlet

A New Version by ROUBEN MAMOULIAN

"From his wide experience of the theatre, with a streak of genius of his own, but also with attentive scholarship, and a real reverence for the play, Mamoulian has given us a revelation of how a Shakespearean play should be presented in a modern theatre...I long to see it on the stage, freed from antiquarian encumbrances." —A. L. Rowse

INCLUDED AT NO EXTRA COST!

Lavish production folio illustrating cast, Broadway stage production, historical background of MARAT/SADE. A collector's item, with over 30 photographs and engravings.

PLUS

Complete 116-page text of MARAT/SADE includes the music and lyrics to all 12 songs.

Now—enjoy the great works of the theatre from Aristophanes to Ionesco through the most brilliant performances ever recorded.

To receive at once your uncut, original cast recording of MARAT/SADE, on three 12-inch, long-playing records—mail the coupon at the right. This $18.85 retail value is yours—free—to introduce you to the benefits of membership in the Theatre Recording Society.

Share the opening-night jolt of MARAT/SADE

If you were lucky enough to be a first-nighter at MARAT/SADE, you will never forget the shattering force with which this play hit the unsuspecting theatregoer. Even critics emerged visibly pale...and called it the most soul-shattering experience of their careers.

Now, this exciting adventure in "total theatre" has been captured for all time on superb long-playing records. Here in turbulent action, wry political satire, and bawdy Brechtian song, is the seething lunatic asylum at Charenton, presided over by the most fascinating lunatic of all...the Marquis de Sade. And every volt of opening-night electricity is brought to your living room by the same inspired cast that brought it to the Broadway stage.

Performing for you are exclusive, star-studded casts—available nowhere else!

A Broadway producer can rarely even hope to assemble on one stage the brilliant artists who perform for you, regularly and exclusively, through the Theatre Recording Society. For example, Laurence Olivier, Michael Redgrave, Joan Plowright and Sybil Thorndyke in Chekhov's Uncle Vanya...Siobhan McKenna, Cyril Cusack—and Ionesco himself—in The Chairs... Ralph Richardson and Anna Massey in Cyrano de Bergerac...Lee J. Cobb and Mildred Dunnock in Death of a Salesman. These great plays—and great artists—are typical of the superb productions available to you with membership in the Society. Each complete play is beautifully boxed and contains a lavish production folio. Some plays include the full text, handsomely bound as a separate volume.

Members save 33 1/3 %

Though Society's recordings sell for up to $24.80 per set at retail...as a member, you pay only the low price of just over $4.00 per record, plus a small shipping and handling charge. Your only obligation is to accept as few as four plays over the next year from the many offered. There is no extra charge for stereo.

Claim your free MARAT/SADE now—an $18.85 value!

Mail the coupon to receive your free 3-record set of MARAT/SADE...plus your first Society selection for which you will be billed later. (Select one of the three choices on the coupon.) THEATRE ARTS BOOKS publishes a number of books which have proved their worth to those involved in planning and equipping theatres:

AN INTERNATIONAL VOCABULARY OF TECHNICAL THEATRE TERMS, by Kenneth Rae and Richard Southern, has, in adjoining columns, equivalents for 637 most used technical theatre terms in eight languages. It costs $4.25.

SOUND IN THE THEATRE, by Harold Burris-Meyer and Vincent Mallory, is "the first book to set forth in authoritative detail what one can do with sound by electronic control." - Electronic Industries. $6.95.

THEATRICAL LIGHTING PRACTICE by Joel E. Rubin and Leland H. Watson. "For the beginner it presents very interesting and important facts; for the specialist it provides a clue to the problems that arise in related fields." - Jean Rosenthal, Theatre Arts magazine. $5.95.

A METHOD OF LIGHTING THE STAGE, by Stanley McCandless, is "the best semi-technical text available in the areas it covers." - Educational Theatre Journal. (Many practitioners in the field assert this is not "a method" but "the method".) $2.95.

We publish two other books by Dr. Richard Southern: STAGE SETTING FOR AMATEURS AND PROFESSIONALS is "a virtually definitive discussion (complete with countless illustrations).. ..There is no other book in print that devotes this amount of space to simple settings for places with little or no facilities." - Dramatics. PROSCENIUM AND SIGHT-LINES is "a decided delight to read....Dr. Southern's 'method' is a foolproof one." - Theatre Design & Technology. Each of these two books costs $5.95.

THEATRE TECHNICIANS' ALMANAC 1968, by Jean Rosenthal and others at Theatre Production Service, provides an eminently handy and well-organized engagement calendar, and, like The Farmers' Almanac, reading material of a various and sometimes curious but always fascinating kind. It is a salmagundi, useful to the theatre technician and a delight to anyone with an ounce of curiosity. It is paperbound and costs $2.50.

A card sent to us at 333 Sixth Avenue, New York City, 10014, will bring our free, complete catalogue which describes these books in more detail as well as ones by Robert Edmond Jones, Edward Gordon Craig, Lee Simonson and our other distinguished authors.

Spectrum  Books

published by Prentice-Hall, Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey 07632

“... I do not hesitate to say that it is the best publication of its type, greatly helped by up-to-date illustrations and most reliable documentation. I recommend it highly. . . .”

—William W. Melnitz, University of California, Los Angeles

Invitation to the Theatre

by GEORGE R. KERNODLE

“A magnificent portrayal of the theatre as a wide and comprehensive art encompassing stage, films, music, drama, ballet, dance, radio, and television. . . .”

—George Freedly,

Library of the Performing Arts at Lincoln Center

Giving students a broad view of the theatre arts, this widely acclaimed book focuses on the literature of the drama and examines the relationships between modes of plays, styles of acting, and theatrical architecture and production. At the end of each chapter, there are exercises which involve the student himself in the creative process: for example, he is asked to analyze a particular aspect of a play or production, to try original writing or staging, or to take part in individual or group demonstrations. The book includes annotated bibliographies and over 300 illustrations. 667 pages. $8.50

Two outstanding books...

by STANLEY KAHAN

“An Actor's Workbook is . . . an excellent addition to the field of acting books. I am especially pleased with the scenes and their arrangement, and the exercises. . . . I will continue to use Kahan's text, Introduction to Acting, and will use An Actor's Workbook as a supplement.”

—Ruth Arrington, Northeastern State College

AN ACTOR'S WORKBOOK. A highly practical and flexible manual for the student-actor. Detailed exercises—improvisations, pantomimes, vocal drills—and over 50 scenes from well-known plays offer a wide experience in a variety of dramatic situations. Bibliographies for complete versions of each play, critical works, and available recorded performances are included. Paperbound. 320 pages. $5.25

INTRODUCTION TO ACTING. A classic text for the first course in acting, with scenes from 39 outstanding plays illustrating and elaborating points in the discussion. Provides coverage of both the internal “method” and the external “technique.” With over 40 photographs and 20 line drawings. 312 pages. $6.95

11 internationally prominent playwrights talk about their work, themselves and each other

"Valuable material about the working methods, views on theatre, aims, aspirations, and so on of these playwrights . . . Brief biographical sketches on each playwright add immeasurably to the research value of the book . . . Harold Clurman's introduction is, in itself, a concise history of 20th Century drama."—Library Journal

A Variety of Drama Texts

READERS THEATRE HANDBOOK

A Dramatic Approach to Literature

By LESLIE IRENE COGER, Southwest Missouri State College

MELVIN R. WHITE, Brooklyn College

A text explaining the development, techniques, and materials of Readers Theatre and providing ideas and procedures for script preparation, casting, directing, producing, and performing literature in this relatively new interpretive medium. The authors write, "A group of English and Speech teachers would undoubtedly be excited if someone were to announce: 'I have a means whereby students can be influenced not only to love good literature but also to become tremendously excited over it, to analyze the meanings and style with avid interest, to want to share their enthusiasm with other students and with parents and friends.' Readers Theatre is such a means." 1967, 270 pages, illus., softbound, $2.95

THE CRAFTSMEN OF DIONYSUS

An Approach to Acting

By JEROME ROCKWOOD, Montclair State College

A practical, sequential treatment of the techniques necessary to create a role—from script analysis to performance. In the chapter on style, Professor Rockwood discusses manners of the Restoration period: "In spite of the frivolity that lurked below the skin, manners on the surface were formal and polished. Even husbands and wives bowed and curtsied to each other. A gentleman greeted a lady by bowing and kissing her hand. (When kissing a lady's hand, do not clutch it and haul it to you. Offer her the back of your hand, she will place her fingertips on it, and you gently draw her hand to your lips.) And only dolts allowed their noses to touch the lady's hand." 1966, 243 pages, illus., softbound: $2.95, hardbound: $3.95

THE DISCOVERY OF DRAMA

By THOMAS E. SANDERS, Miami-Dade Junior College

An introduction to drama, comprised of a short history of the drama, an explanation of the differences between reading and seeing a play, and chapters devoted to each of the following: tragedy (classical, Shakespearean, modern), comedy, tragicomedy, and poetic drama. Editorial commentary is interspersed with the nine plays through the use of two different type faces. Discovery of Literature Series. Ready in March, approx. 512 pages, softbound, prob. $4.75

CONTEXTS OF THE DRAMA

by RICHARD GOLDSTONE, City College of New York.

Available March, 1968

The twelve representative plays in the volume range from Sophocles to Albee. In addition to a general introduction with notes on the genres within the drama, each play is preceded by a brief biographical note and a "motivating introduction." "Afterwords," written on an introductory level by critics commissioned especially for this text, follow most of the plays. Sophocles: Antigone. Euripides: Hippolytus. Shakespeare: Anthony and Cleopatra. Moliere: The Miser. Ibsen: Hedda Gabler. Chekhov: The Three Sisters. Shaw: Caesar and Cleopatra. O'Neill: Hughie. Wilder: The Matchmaker. Williams: Summer and Smoke. Anouilh: Becket. Albee: The Zoo Story.

THE THEATRICAL IMAGE

by JAMES H. CLAY, Brandeis University; and DANIEL S. KREMPEL, Syracuse University. 320 pp., $6.95

Comes to grips with the thorny problems of discovering the playwright's intention and inventing valid ideas for communicating that intention. This is a truly basic book for both layman and specialist and an appropriate one for courses from the basic Introduction to Theatre to the most advanced ones in directing and design.

"For the interpretation of the plays alone Mr. Driver's book is well worth reading. But for its unpolemical contribution to the dialogue between pagan and Biblical historical consciousness, it also deserves discussion . . . such a discussion as Mr. Driver's—which presents without simplification, through the analysis of the drama, the alternative pictures of human action which proceed from the two orientations to time—does a service by keeping open the dialogue." —Susan Sontag, The Supplement to the Columbia Daily Spectator.

“If a thousand men were not to pay their tax-bills this year”

“How does it become a man to behave toward this American government today? I answer that he cannot without disgrace be associated with it....In other words, when...a whole country is overrun and conquered by a foreign army, and subjected to military law, I think it is not too soon for honest men to rebel and revolutionize. What makes this duty the more urgent is the fact that the country so overrun is not our own, but ours is the invading army. . . . There are thousands who are in opinion opposed to . . . the war . . . who, esteeming themselves children of Washington and Franklin, sit down with their hands in their pockets, and say that they know not what to do, and do nothing.... They hesitate, and they regret, and sometimes they petition; but they do nothing in earnest and with effect. They will wait, well disposed, for others to remedy the evil, that they may no longer have it to regret.... What I have to do is to see, at any rate, that I do not lend myself to the wrong which I condemn. . . . If a thousand men were not to pay their tax-bills this year, that would not be a violent and bloody measure, as it would be to pay them, and enable the State to commit violence and shed innocent blood.”

—HENRY DAVID THOREAU,
Civil Disobedience, 1849, commenting upon
American involvement in the Mexican War.

We, the undersigned writers and editors, believing that American involvement in Vietnam is morally wrong, pledge:

1 None of us voluntarily will pay the proposed 10% income tax surcharge or any war-designated tax increase.

2 Many of us will not pay that 23% of our current income tax which is being used to finance the war in Vietnam.

Willful refusal to pay federal income taxes is a violation of Sec. 7203 of the Internal Revenue Code and is punishable by up to one year in prison and/or up to $10,000.00 in fines.

To: WRITERS and EDITORS WAR TAX PROTEST
P.O. Box 255, 127 West 83rd Street, New York N.Y. 10024

I believe American involvement in the war in Vietnam is morally wrong.

As a writer / editor, I wish to add my name to the Writers and Editors War Tax Protest. I disassociate myself from my government's actions in Vietnam and I am willing to use my next tax return to vote no-confidence in the present Administration. I enclose a check (payable to Writers and Editors War Tax Protest) for $10.00 or more to help pay for running more advertisements and for other expenses.

I do not wish to add my name but I am in sympathy with what you are doing. Enclosed is my check for $

I would like more information. Please send me your fact-sheet on tax refusal.
