Asian Religions in Practice

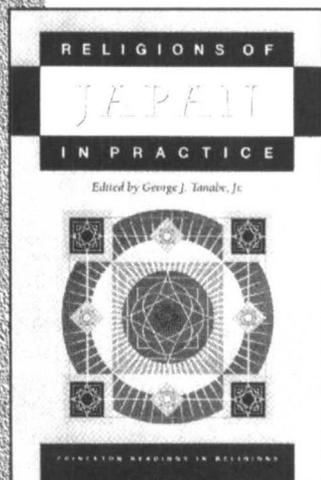

An Introduction

Edited by Donald S. Lopez, Jr.

Princeton Readings in Religions is a series of anthologies on the religions of the world, representing the significant advances that have been made in the study of religions in the last thirty years. This volume brings together the introductions to the first five volumes of this acclaimed series.

The authors are leading scholars of Asian religions: Richard Davis (India), Stephen Teiser (China), George Tanabe (Japan), and Donald Lopez (Buddhism and Tibet). They bring together the best and most current research on their topics, while series editor Donald Lopez provides an introduction to the volume as a whole.

Religions of Japan in Practice

George J. Tanabe, Jr., Editor

This anthology reflects a range of Japanese religions in their complex, sometimes conflicting, diversity. In the tradition of the Princeton Readings in Religions series, the documents included here serve to illuminate the mosaic of Japanese religions in practice. Each text is preceded by an introductory explanation of the text's essence, written by its translator.

The Constitution of Japan

A Documentary History of Its Framing and Adoption

Edited by

Ray A. Moore and Donald L. Robinson

The Constitution of Japan was framed, adopted, and promulgated in 1946. It took effect on May 3, 1947. This collection presents more than 500 documents, the electronic equivalent of 8,000 pages of material, that chronicle some of the most interesting events in constitutional history.
