A Courtship after Marriage

Sexuality and Love in Mexican Transnational Families

Jennifer S. Hirsch

"A superb, insightful, and original study of Mexican migrants and the challenges of marital devotion and separation they face across time and space. Exemplary in its detail and rigor."

—Matthew C. Gutmann, author of
The Romance of Democracy

$60.00 cloth, $24.95 paper

María Sabina

Selections

Edited by Jerome Rothenberg

With Translations and Commentaries

by Alvaro Estrada and Others

"María Sabina is one of the great figures of American shamanism. Her Chants is a masterpiece of indigenous visionary poetry. Her Life is the account of a woman who transcended her own culture and its material poverty to become one of the great women of the twentieth century."—Homero Aridjis

La Lucha for Cuba

Religion and Politics on the Streets of Miami

Miguel A. De La Torre

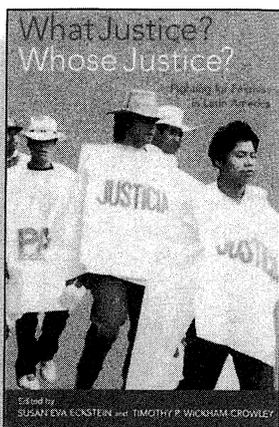

De La Torre shows how this once marginalized group of Cuban exiles has risen to power and privilege and how religion has figured in this ascension. His work also un.masks and explores intra-Hispanic structures of oppression operating among Cubans in Miami through the lens of religion and culture.

Facundo

Civilization and Barbarism

Domingo F. Sarmiento

FIRST COMPLETE ENGLISH TRANSLATION

Translated by Kathleen Ross

Introduction by Roberto González Echevarría

This classic work has become an integral part of the history, politics, and culture of Latin America since its publication in 1845. Partially translated into English shortly after it was first published, this foundational text appears here for the first time in its entirety.

Laughter Out of Place

Race, Class, Violence, and Sexuality in a Rio Shantytown

Donna M. Goldstein

"Goldstein returns anthropology to what it does best while taking the reader on a no-holds-barred ride through the tragicomic world of a Rio favela. She captures the bittersweet laughter of Brazil's vast subterranean underclass of domestic servants who keep their anger and despair at bay by laughing and spitting into the face of chaos, injustice, and premature death."

—Nancy Scheper-Hughes,

author of Death without Weeping

Public Anthropology, $60.00 cloth, $24.95 paper

Colonial Subjects

Puerto Ricans in a Global Perspective

Ramón Grosfoguel

"A substantial contribution to the historical and interpretive sociology of the modern world. It is written as both a critique of the modernist paradigm, and as a reinterpretation of the contribution of Puerto Rico to the making of the modern world from a 'decentered' perspective."

—Philip McMichael, author of

Street of Lost Footsteps

Lyonel Trouillot

Street of Lost Footsteps

By Lyonel Trouillot

Translated and introduction by Linda Coverdale

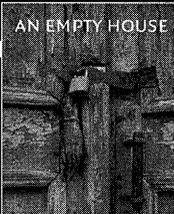

Lyonel Trouillot's harrowing novel depicts a night of blazing violence in modern-day Port-au-Prince, and recalls hundreds of years of violence stretching back even before the birth of Haiti in the fires of revolution.

An Empty House

By Carlos Cerda

Translated by Andrea G. Labinger

A story of contemporary Chile by one of its most prominent novelists, An Empty House depicts the dissolution of an upper-middle-class family against a chilling background of exile, return, and discovery.

Macadam Dreams

By Gisèle Pineau

Translated by C. Dickson

A cyclone inexorably sweeps Eliette into her past in this novel about the wayward violence of love and nature in Guadeloupe.

The Silver King

The Remarkable Life of the Count of Regla in Colonial Mexico

Edith Boorstein Couturier

Pedro Romero De Terreros, the first Count of Regla, was born in Spain in 1710, but when he was twenty-one, his parents sent him to live with an uncle in New Spain to assume control of the family's businesses. Edith Couturier uses Regla's career to address the growing social tensions of the eighteenth century in New Spain.

Church and State Education in Revolutionary Mexico City

PATIENCE A. SCHELL

Examines primary, vocational, private, and parochial education from 1917 to 1926 and shows how it was affected by the relations between the revolutionary state and the Roman Catholic Church.

“A groundbreaking book . . . For those interested in questions of social change, it provides sobering evidence of the difficulties involved. This work should be the standard on education and church-state relations in Mexico City for many years to come.” —William H. Beezley

$50.00

Militarism, Ethnicity, and Politics in the Sierra Norte de Puebla, 1917–1930

KEITH BREWSTER

Tells how the people of the Sierra Norte de Puebla came to terms with challenges facing them in the wake of the Mexican Revolution while examining the phenomenon of caciquismo in the postrevolutionary period as seen in the career of Gabriel Barrios Cabrera.

“The research is superb. . . It is a significant contribution both to the literature of Mexico’s regions and to the literature on the phenomenon of caciquismo.” —Timothy J. Henderson

Working Women in Mexico City

Public Discourses and Material Conditions, 1879–1931

SUSIE S. PORTER

A new look at industrialization in Mexico that focuses on women wage earners across the work force, from factory workers to street vendors.

“Porter successfully brings together a history of industrialization, gender relations, and urban transformations that transcends the official narrative of Revolutionary chronology. The story she tells continues to be relevant for our own times as free trade agreements and global industrialization incorporate more Mexican women in the formal wage economy.” —Patrick J. McNamara

Also of interest, a distinguished historian recalls his life and career—

Memories of a Hyphenated Man

RAMON EDUARDO RUIZ URUETA

Historian, author, and intellectual, Ruiz has established himself through such books as Triumphs and Tragedy: A History of the Mexican People and Cuba: The Making of a Revolution, and in 1998 he was awarded the National Humanities Medal by President Clinton. Now he turns his pen on his own life to offer a personal look at what it really means to be American by birth but Mexican by culture.

THE HACIENDA IN MEXICO

By DANIEL NIERMAN AND ERNESTO H. VALLEJO

Translated by MARDITH SCHUETZ-MILLER

Foreword by ELENA PONIATOWSKA

This beautifully illustrated book presents photographs, site plans, building plans, and elevations to document all aspects of the hacienda—the compound, big house, chapel, spaces for production, materials and construction methods, and architectural details. The accompanying text discusses these elements, as well as the hacienda's historical development and the ways in which its productive activities shaped its architecture.

ALL RELIGIONS ARE GOOD IN TZINTZUNTZAN

EVANGELICALS IN CATHOLIC MEXICO

By PETER S. CAHN

Drawing on extensive ethnographic fieldwork, Cahn investigates why the coming of evangelical churches to Tzintzuntzan has produced neither the interfaith clashes nor the economic prosperity that evangelical conversion has brought to other communities in Mexico and Latin America.

CARNIVAL AND OTHER CHRISTIAN FESTIVALS

FOLK THEOLOGY AND FOLK PERFORMANCE

By MAX HARRIS

"Dr. Harris has preempted a field almost unto himself: the study of contemporary festivals that have their origins in tradition, history, and the great religious celebrations of the past. . . . [This book] represents a masterful achievement."

FILMMAKING IN REVOLUTIONARY NICARAGUA

By JONATHAN BUCHSBAUM

"This is the only major study of Nicaraguan cinema and, as such, it is invaluable not only to film students, but also to third world studies and cultural work. . . . In a world dominated by corporate culture, the effort by a small, poor, underdeveloped country to construct a national film project has importance as a model despite its failures."

THIS AMERICA OF OURS

THE LETTERS OF GABRIELA MISTRAL
AND VICTORIA OCAMPO

EDITED AND TRANSLATED BY
ELIZABETH HORAN AND DORIS MEYER

"Meyer and Horan have done extraordinary and valuable work in collecting and editing the letters of Victoria Ocampo and Gabriela Mistral in This America of Ours. . . . Ocampo and Mistral's exchanges often reveal their differing approaches to literature, politics, and feminism and, as such, provide an example of the richness and variety of women's intellectual engagement in Latin America."

DEFIANCE AND DEFERENCE IN MEXICO'S COLONIAL NORTH

INDIANS UNDER SPANISH
RULE IN NUEVA VIZCAYA

By SUSAN M. DEEDS

"Deeds provides an impressive synthesis of the complex interaction of diverse factors—demographic, political, economic, social, cultural, and linguistic—that resulted in the transformation of Indigenous societies and identities in northern New Spain during the Spanish colonial period. It is a major contribution to the theoretical literature on identity and to the history of northern Mexico and Latin America in general."

NATIVES, EUROPEANS, AND AFRICANS IN SIXTEENTH-CENTURY SANTIAGO DE GUATEMALA

By ROBINSON A. HERRERA

"This certainly is a pioneering and original work . . . [that] in many ways stands alone. Methodologically, in its use of untapped primary sources and aims, it follows in the footsteps of the early James Lockhart (Spanish Peru, 1530–1560), but goes well beyond it in time frame and scope. . . . The author's documentary and archival support base is massive. I find his arguments convincing and well based."

A LAW FOR THE LION

A TALE OF CRIME AND INJUSTICE
IN THE BORDERLANDS

By BEATRIZ DE LA GARZA

In this engrossing account of the 1912 slaying of two prominent Mexican landowners and the subsequent trial of their Anglo killer, de la Garza sheds new light on the interethnic struggles that defined life on the border a century ago, on the mystique of the Texas Rangers, and on the legal framework that once institutionalized violence and lawlessness in Texas.

TURN-OF-THE-CENTURY PHOTOGRAPHS FROM SAN DIEGO, TEXAS

By ANA CAROLINA CASTILLO CRIMM
AND SARA R. MASSEY

This collection of photographs from the estate of amateur photographer William Hoffman captures the cosmopolitan Mexican American town of San Diego at a vibrant moment in its history between 1898 and 1909. An introductory historical chapter constitutes the first published history of Duval County, which was one of the most important areas of South Texas in the early twentieth century.

New from the Inter-American Development Bank

Labor Markets in Flux

Economic and Social Progress in Latin America: 2003 Report

Inter-American Development Bank

There is a widespread perception that the structural reforms implemented in Latin America in the 1990s have failed to spur employment growth. This year's edition of Economic and Social Progress in Latin America investigates whether this disappointing outcome can be explained by an abnormal adjustment to rapid changes in goods and capital markets, increased female participation in the workplace, technological change, and secular changes in the sector composition of output. It includes a CD-ROM with data on labor markets in the region.

$26.95 paperback

Fiscal Federalism in Latin America

From Entitlements to Market

Eduardo Wiesner

The book's aim is to help policymakers meet the challenge of decentralization to improve public sector performance at all levels of government by appropriately assigning jurisdiction over public goods, services, tax authority, and user charges.

$24.95 paperback

Community Colleges

A Model for Latin America?

edited by Claudio de Moura Castro and Norma García

Community Colleges: A Model for Latin America? explores how these institutions can help address the challenges faced by post-secondary education in the region.

$24.95 paperback

Competition Policy in Regulated Industries

Approaches for Emerging Economies

edited by Paulina Beato and Jean-Jacques Laffont

This book offers conceptual and practical approaches to help emerging economies identify competition problems in infrastructure sectors and find legal and structural solutions.

$24.75 paperback

Who's In and Who's Out

Social Exclusion in Latin America

edited by Jere R. Behrman, Alejandro Gaviria, and Miguel Székely

The book explores various forms of social exclusion in Latin America, including residential segregation in Bolivian cities, exclusion in health care in Brazil, barriers to legal status of Nicaraguan immigrants in Costa Rica, geographic isolation in El Salvador, and educational inequality among the indigenous in Mexico.

$24.95 paperback

Focus on Capital

New Approaches to Developing

Latin American Capital Markets

edited by Kenroy Dowers and Pietro Masci

Macroeconomic and structural policies, accounting practices and standards, bond market development, market infrastructure, derivatives markets, corporate governance, ethics, human capital, and regional integration all play a role in developing capital markets.

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

A Journal on Capitalism and Socialism

Managing Editor
Ronald H. Chilcote
*University of California,
Riverside*

Join a forum for discussion and debate on the political economy of capitalism, imperialism, and socialism in the Americas. A theoretical and scholarly journal, Latin American Perspectives provides you with an in-depth look from participants and scholars throughout the Americas, with issues frequently focusing on a single problem, nation, or region.

LAP offers a vital multidisciplinary view of the powerful forces shaping the Americas, such as:

Economics – and the study of the moral, political and social desirability of economic policies

Political Science – and the patterns of social action that underlie the operation of nations, the competition for power, and the conduct and misconduct of governments

International Relations – particularly as they affect the nationalist movements and internal problems of Latin American countries

Philosophy – theoretical and applied to the hard realities of developing nations

History – a critical view, with frequent inside views of history in the making

Geography – the environmental condition, ecology, and exploitation of resources

Sociology – organized groups, social institutions, and the new social movements, including feminism, ecology, and urban and rural labor

Anthropology – the culture, ethnicity, and resistance of peoples of the region

Literature – the personal poetic comments of activists and revolutionary scholars
