International Social Work

Editor-in-Chief
Dr Francis Turner
York University, Ontario

International Social Work is a scholarly refereed journal designed to extend knowledge and promote communication in the fields of social development, social welfare and human services. Its major focus is on international themes in the delivery of services, the functions of social work professionals, and the education of social workers. Social policy and social service provision provide the context for this focus.

The journal places particular emphasis on articles concerned with comparative analysis and cross-national research. Attention is given to trends and issues in social welfare policy and social work practice with a scope extending beyond any one nation. Consideration is also given to new developments in the training of social work professionals and their roles in social development and social service programmes. Occasional thematic issues of the journal focus on specific international developments in these fields.

International Social Work is published quarterly in January, April, July and October
ISSN: 0020-8720

A journal of socialist theory and practice in social welfare

Critical Social Policy is the UK's leading journal in the field of social welfare theory and practice. Published three times per year, it serves as a forum to encourage and develop an understanding of welfare issues from socialist, feminist and anti-racist perspectives.

Each issue of the journal publishes informed articles which discuss a wide range of social policy issues including racism, housing, health, education and social work.

The journal also contains reports of struggles in the community over welfare issues - for example, health services in working class areas and the problems of the YTS training - and there is a regular commentary section which examines recent developments in social policy.

Recent articles include:

'Sorry love' - violence against women in the home and the state response Sara Maguire

Social welfare Down Under Edgar Carson and Hugh Kerr

Marginality, youth and government policy in the 1980s

Notes for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy and Sociology, University of Leeds, Leeds LS2 9JT. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy, University of Newcastle, Newcastle upon Tyne NE1 7RN.

2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 8,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.

3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.

5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words, and a title page providing information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements.

6. Contributions should conform to the usual journal style and a brief style sheet is available from the editor on request. Particular attention should be paid to the journal requirements about references and tables. Contributors are expected to write in gender-neutral language.

7. Notes should not contain bibliographical references: these should be built into the text and the Harvard (author/date) system used. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. Notes and bibliographical references should be typed (double-spaced) as separate sections at the end of the article.

8. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm × 155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.

9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them.

10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.

11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
