

Courage and Conscience

Black and White Abolitionists in Boston

Edited by Donald M. Jacobs

Foreword by John Hope Franklin

Until recently little was known of the contributions of African Americans in the antebellum abolition movement. Massachusetts, having granted voting rights early on to black males, was a center of antislavery agitation. Courage and Conscience documents the black activism in 19th-century Boston that was critical to the success of the abolitionist cause.

The Way of the Cross Leads Home

The Domestication of American Methodism

A. Gregory Schneider

"[An] imaginative, brilliant, and profound case study of American Methodism. . . . Schneider's reading of Methodist discourse provides a truly innovative way of thinking about nineteenth-century American faith, gender, family, and culture."

—Donald G. Mathews

This richly detailed study of the rise of American Methodism and its social and cultural impact focuses on Methodist religious practice.

Santería from Africa to the New World

The Dead Sell Memories

George Brandon

" . . . a compelling and coherent description of the processual development of Santería." —Karen McCarthy Brown

Brandon follows the path of this Yoruba religious tradition from Africa to Cuba to New York City. In following Santería's historical and anthropological evolution, Brandon discusses broader questions of power, multiculturalism and cultural change.

Spiritual Spectacles

Vision and Image in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Shakerism

Sally M. Promey

"Sally Promey's Inquiry . . . critically engages current issues in the study of visual culture: what do images do; how do they work; what needs do they fulfill; just what is their 'power'? Her compelling case study joins fundamental concerns of art historians with those of students of religion and history . . . By means of an exacting examination of Shaker drawings as the site of both expectation and encounter, Promey successfully situates these Spiritual Spectacles at the meeting point of the 'inner' and the 'outer' eye." —Linda Seldel, author of Jan van Eyck's Amolfini Portrait: Stories of an Icon

"Promey has brought to her work an excellent sensitivity to the religious issues involved, keen sight and powers of observation, and a very creative interpretive framework." —Stephen J. Stein, author of The Shaker Experience in America

Mother's First-Born Daughters

Early Shaker Writings on Women and Religion

Edited by Jean M. Humez

"Israel, you have begun to bear for other souls, and you must never give out, till the last soul is gathered in. When you get home, tell your father and stepmother that your mother is risen from the dead." —from the book

A fascinating introduction to the world of the early Shakers, this anthology documents the contributions to Shaker religion made by women during its first seventy years. It gives a more accurate vision of Shakerism and highlights the ways in which gender can play an important role in the creation of a new religious institution.

April 6 - 9, 1994

University Place Hotel,
Indianapolis, Indiana

The fourth conference in the series on The Public Expressions of Religion in America will address the topic of religion in the creative arts. Special attention will be given to music, literature, and the visual arts through both analysis and public performance.

Music — Two world premier compositions for orchestra and chorus, among other selections, will be performed by the Indiana University School of Music at the historic Circle Theatre in downtown Indianapolis on the evening of April 7. Claude Baker and Robert Ward will create the pieces celebrating the diversity of public religious expressions in America.

Literature — Author John Updike will read from his fiction and comment on the expression of religious themes in his work on Friday, April 8.

Visual Arts — The art of such photographers as Walker Evans, Paul Strand, and Ansel Adams will be displayed at a public exhibit that will run concurrent with the conference. The exhibit will reflect the regional diversity in religious architecture in America. Catalogue author Peter Williams and curator Nan Brewer have developed and designed the week-long exhibit.
