Interactive Media

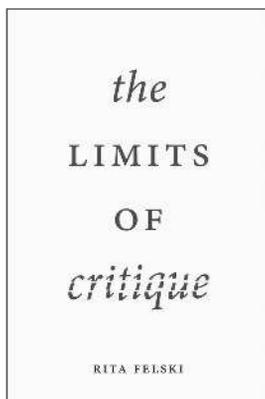

LaunchPad Solo for Literature, a set of online materials and tools, helps beginning literature students learn and practice close reading and critical thinking skills in an interactive environment. Easy-to-use and easy-to-assign modules based on widely taught literary selections guide students through three common assignment types: responding to a reading, drawing connections between texts, and instructor-led collaborative close reading.

- Access nearly 500 reading comprehension quizzes on commonly taught selections
- Watch engaging videos by well-known authors on literary elements such as character, dialogue, and voice
- Teach from more than 200 additional literary selections
- Add your own content

Literary Studies from Chicago

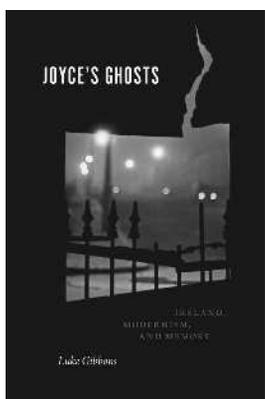

The Limits of Critique

Rita Felski

“Some books are so incisive and timely that they seem inevitable. . . . The Limits of Critique is such a book. By exploring its limits, Felski frees critics from relying on critique as the gatekeeper of literary studies and offers a prescient guide to life in a postcritical world.”—Los Angeles Review of Books

Joyce's Ghosts

Ireland, Modernism, and Memory

Luke Gibbons

“Iconology, the history of ideas, philological detail—all are called upon to yield unique and unexpected insights in Gibbons’s excellent book. It is truly a mark of Joyce’s inexhaustibility that all kinds of new studies are still reinventing him for us; but the range of Gibbons’s approaches and the wealth of learning made available to us here are surely incomparable and offer us a Joyce both unfamiliar and indispensable.”—Fredric Jameson, Duke University

For Dignity, Justice, and Revolution

An Anthology of Japanese Proletarian Literature

Edited by Heather Bowen-Struyk and Norma Field

“The finely crafted translations of short fiction and criticism that compose this groundbreaking anthology underscore the crucial role proletarian writers played in the formation of modern Japanese literature.”—Theodore Hughes, Columbia University

Literature Incorporated

The Cultural Unconscious of the Business Corporation, 1650–1850

John O’Brien

“Literature Incorporated uses the metaphor of incorporation to explore actual early corporations, Locke’s writings on money, the South Sea Bubble, insurance, abolitionist narratives, and eighteenth-century banking. This is an informed, intelligent, and unfailingly interesting example of how literary theory and economic history can enlighten each other.”—Mary Poovey, New York University

Musings on Mortality

From Tolstoy to Primo Levi

Victor Brombert

“This handsome, compact book is, in fact, a work of elegant, beautifully written literary criticism, examining how eight major writers—‘From Tolstoy to Primo Levi’—dealt with death in their fiction. It offers the highly distilled insights of a master teacher.”—Michael Dirda, Wall Street Journal

PAPER $15.00

From Reaktion Books

Albert Camus

Edward J. Hughes

“Hughes has written a concise and cogent account of Camus’s life and writings. Unlike many of his biographers, Hughes maintains an admirable critical distance from his subject. With his even language, his balanced summaries, and mostly fair analyses, he avoids the appearance of parti pris. . . . Clearly written and well researched, Hughes’s book offers a solid introduction to Camus’s life and work.”—Times Literary Supplement
