Reading Renunciation

Asceticism and Scripture in Early Christianity

Elizabeth A. Clark

“A remarkable act of reading and writing . . . informed by a profound knowledge of the ancient texts and by a mastery of postmodern critical theory.”

—Wayne A. Meeks,
Yale University

A study of how asceticism was promoted through Biblical interpretation, Reading Renunciation uses contemporary literary theory to unravel the writing strategies of the early Christian authors. The book is a close examination, in the author's words, of how “the Fathers' axiology of abstinence informed their interpretation of Scriptural texts and incited the production of ascetic meaning.”

“Through arguments that are dense, supple and exciting, Clark shows us the church fathers ruthlessly exploiting their own foundation texts. This is a magisterial work by a major scholar.”

—Averil Cameron, Keble College, University of Oxford

THE REFASHIONING OF CATHOLICISM, 1450-1700

A Reassessment of the Counter Reformation
ROBERT BIRELEY, S.J.

Bireley argues that early modern Catholicism was both shaped by and an active response to the profound changes of the sixteenth century, only one of which was the Reformation. He explains how this experience exemplifies Christianity's continual, and necessary, refashioning by and accommodation to contemporary society and culture.

PIOUS PERSUASIONS

Laity and Clergy in Eighteenth-Century New England

Erik R. Seeman

"Pious Persuasions deftly examines the faith of New England's 'second century.' It also engages the major historiographical issues, including the importance of the Great Awakening, the troublesome relationship between clergy and laity, and the degree to which lay spirituality should be construed as 'individualistic' or 'communitarian.'"—Charles L. Cohen, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Early America: History, Context, Culture
Jack P. Greene and J.R. Pole, Series Editors

$36.00 hardcover

THE SMOKE OF SATAN

Conservative and Traditionalist Dissent in Contemporary American Catholicism

Michael W. Cuneo

"A fascinating look into a series of subcultures within and adjacent to Roman Catholicism . . . Cuneo does an excellent job of distinguishing the fundamental differences that separate the world views of each of these groups, as well as the internal factions into which each is fragmented."—Sociology of Religion

$16.95 paperback

HUTTERITE BEGINNINGS

Communitarian Experiments during the Reformation

Werner O. Packull

"The years of painstaking research in untold towns, cities, and libraries in Europe, as well as in North America, the empathy the author brought to the subject . . . the skill evident in translating, especially technical terms, and the firm grasp of both minute details and their implications, as well as the overall story, have raised the level of historical scholarship to a new high."—Cornelius J. Dyck, Church History

IRISH PILGRIMAGE

Holy Wells and Popular Catholic Devotion

Michael P. Carroll

"Represents the best summary so far of the evidence and arguments pertaining to Irish popular Catholicism from the Reformation to the Famine. It is a major contribution."—John H. Simpson, University of Toronto

$38.00 hardcover

THE UNIVERSITY GETS RELIGION

Religious Studies in American Higher Education

D. G. Hart

"D. G. Hart adds the missing historical dimension to the debates over the role of religion in American public and intellectual life. His own perspective—that the American university may not be the place to teach and transmit religion—is idiosyncratic and unsettling."—Bruce Kuklic, University of Pennsylvania

$38.00 hardcover

THE AMERICANIZATION OF RELIGIOUS MINORITIES

Confronting the Constitutional Order

Eric Michael Mazur

Mazur recounts the experiences of Jehovah's Witnesses, Mormons, and Native Americans as cases in which minority religious groups seek to practice their faith in a constitutional order that recognizes a higher authority different from, and sometimes incompatible with, their own.

$38.00 hardcover

CONSTANTINE AND THE BISHOPS

The Politics of Intolerance

H. A. Drake

"It will strike a very important blow for reason and sanity vis-à-vis the 'authenticity' of Constantine's commitment and, in doing so, take its place among the new works that are helping us recover from the false history imposed by the propagandists of the 'Enlightenment.'"—Rodney Stark, University of Washington

Ancient Society and History

Texts and Studies in Reformation and Post-Reformation Thought

The heritage of the Reformation is of profound importance to the church in the present day. Yet there are significant gaps in our knowledge of the intellectual development of Protestantism in the sixteenth century. This series publishes significant works—monographs and sound, scholarly translations—that present the breadth and detail of the thought of the Reformers and their successors.

Martin Luther as Prophet, Teacher, and Hero

Images of the Reformer, 1520-1620

Robert Kolb

The author outlines the continuing role of Luther's legacy, suggesting that succeeding generations of Reformers used Luther in different ways as they faced changing circumstances in the church of their own age.

Dying for God
Martyrdom and the Making of Christianity and Judaism

DANIEL BOYARIN
Scholars have come to realize that we can and need to speak of a twin birth of Christianity and Judaism, not a genealogy in which one is parent to the other. In this book, the author develops a revised understanding of the interactions between nascent Christianity and nascent Judaism in late antiquity.

Government by Polemic
James I, the King's Preachers, and the Rhetorics of Conformity, 1603-1625

LORI ANNE FERRELL
This rhetorical and historical analysis of sermons in the James I era argues that the official polemic of Jacobean government belies its claim to religious consensus and political moderation in pre-Civil War England.
$49.50 cloth

Urbane and Rustic England
Cultural Ties and Social Spheres in the Provinces, 1660-1780

CARL ESTABROOK
It has been generally assumed that cities and towns in early modern England became expanding spheres of influence, diffusing urban values in the countryside, and promoting widespread interaction between urban dwellers and villagers and rustics. This study systematically reexamines urban-rural interaction within the Bristol area to see whether rural life was indeed transformed by urban influences.

Congregational Missions and the Making of an Imperial Culture in Nineteenth-Century England

SUSAN THORNE
This book explores the missionary movement's influence on popular perceptions of empire and race in 19th-century England. The foreign missionary endeavor was one of the most influential channels through which 19th-century Britons encountered the colonies, and because of their ties to organized religion, foreign missionary societies enjoyed great access to a popular audience.

At War with the Church
Religious Dissent in Seventeenth-Century Russia

GEORG B. MICHELS
This detailed study examines the social, religious, and institutional conflicts accompanying the Russian schism of the 17th century. By analyzing who opposed the reforms of Patriarch Nikon (1652-58) and under what circumstances, the author presents a complex and multi-faceted world of popular religious resistance that has been hidden from view for centuries.

The Quiet Reformation
Magistrates and the Emergence of Protestantism in Tudor Norwich

MURIEL C. MCCLENDON
"The scholarship is first rate, the analysis thoughtful and penetrating, and the writing clear and crisp. McClendon nicely places her story about whether the English reformation gained its major impetus from 'below' or 'above.' . . . It is a book which will be one of the models in its field of early modern urban history." —J. Sears McGee, University of California, Santa Barbara

Awards of the American Society of Church History:

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize, offered annually, is a subvention fund of $1,000 to assist a press in publishing a book-length manuscript in church history. The prize is limited to first books. The monetary grant will be made upon receipt of a commitment in writing from a publisher accepting the manuscript. Entries in their final form must be received by 1 November.

The Albert C. Outler Prize is an award in the amount of $1,000 to the author of the best book published in the two previous calendar years in ecumenical church history. "Ecumenical" is to be construed as concerned chiefly with problems of Christian unity and disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements in any historical period. Authors of eligible books or any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration; authors should submit a copy of the book. Nominations must be received by 1 March in even-numbered years.

The Philip Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1,000 to the author of the best book published in the two previous calendar years, originating in the North American scholarly community and presenting original research on any period in the history of Christianity. Authors of eligible books or any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration; authors should submit a copy of the book. Nominations must be received by 1 March in odd-numbered years.

The Jane Dempsey Douglass Prize is an annual award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best essay published during the previous calendar year on any aspect of the role of women in the history of Christianity. Authors of eligible articles and any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration. Nominations, accompanied if possible by a copy of the article, must be received by 1 August.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize, offered annually, is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent graduate whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced end-notes, must be submitted by 1 July.

A work may be submitted for only one ASCH competition. For more information, or to nominate a book or submit a manuscript, write to the American Society of Church History, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701.

Church History: Studies in Christianity and Culture is published four times per year (March, June, September, and December) by the American Society of Church History. Membership dues for individuals are $40 per year for regular membership, $20 per year for retired persons who previously held regular membership for at least five years; and free for two years for graduate students with the approval of a professor who is a member of the Society (after two years, graduate students pay $20 annually until graduation). Institutional subscriptions are $50 per year. Foreign postage is an additional $10 per year. Single issues are $15. Please make remittances payable to "American Society of Church History."

Send manuscripts, books for review, and requests about advertising to the editorial office. Manuscripts should run 6,000–11,000 words (or approximately 20–35 pages), not including endnotes, and should be printed double-spaced in 11- or 12-point font; endnotes must be printed double-spaced on separate pages following the text. The editors request (1) three copies of the manuscript (in order to protect the author's anonymity during the review process, the author's name should appear only on the title page of the essay); (2) three copies of a 200-word abstract (if Church History publishes the essay, the abstract may be printed above the first line of the text of the article and/or it may be included on the forthcoming Church History webpage); (3) a 3½-inch diskette containing the manuscript and abstract (instead of sending a diskette, you may submit your manuscript and abstract by electronic mail). Further guidelines are available on request.

Church History is printed by the Science Press division of Mack Printing Group, Ephrata, Pennsylvania. Periodicals postage paid at Red Bank, New Jersey and additional mailing offices. Postmaster: Send address changes to American Society of Church History, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701.
