RESEARCH IN AFRICAN LITERATURES

ABIOLA IRELE, EDITOR

Research in African Literatures is published four times a year and is the premier journal of African literary studies worldwide. It serves as a stimulating vehicle in English for research on the oral and written literatures of Africa. Reviews of current scholarly books are included in every number, often presented as review essays, and a forum offers readers the opportunity to respond to issues raised in articles and book reviews. Special issues and clusters of articles reveal the broad interests of the readership.

WAR AND SLAVERY IN SUDAN

Jok Madut Jok

Jok exposes the enslavement of black peoples in Sudan which has been exacerbated, if not caused, by the circumstance of war. Throughout, he stresses that the search for settlement of the north-south conflict must be made in conjunction with a campaign to end slavery.

240 PAGES • 4 B/W ILLUSTRATIONS, 2 MAPS
CLOTH $55.00 • PAPER $24.95

THE NEGRO

W.E.B. Du Bois

Afterword by Robert Gregg

Originally published in 1915, The Negro is one of the first comprehensive histories of African and African-derived peoples, from their early cultures through the period of the slave trade and into the twentieth century. In his examination of race as a social construct having no foundation in biology, Du Bois anticipates much recent scholarship, and The Negro remains fresh, dynamic, and insightful to this day.

272 PAGES • PAPER $14.95

BETWEEN SLAVERY AND FREEDOM

SPECIAL MAGISTRATE JOHN ANDERSON'S JOURNAL OF
ST. VINCENT DURING THE APPRENTICESHIP

Edited by Roderick A. McDonald

Foreword by Richard S. Dunn

"Anderson's view of the emancipation process stands surrogate for a great many other well-meaning Britons and Americans in the nineteenth century who combined antislavery with racism, and who worked to achieve freedom for the blacks—but on exceedingly restrictive terms." —from the Foreword
