

Editor's Notes

The Merrimack Valley Textile Museum has issued a revised edition of Business Manuscripts in the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum. Copies will be sent postpaid upon receipt of 50¢ in stamps or coins. Orders or inquiries should be addressed to James C. Hippen, Curator, Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, P.O. Box 266, North Andover, Massachusetts 01845.

The Intermountain Economic Review (IMR), a new journal, will be published semiannually at the University of Utah beginning October 1970. Graduate students will be the editors and student contributions will comprise the majority of the content. Faculty contributions will be solicited, partly from well-known economists and partly from young faculty in the Intermountain West. For further information write: Editor, Intermountain Economic Review, University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah 84112.

The Department of History of Notre Dame University, the Society of American Archivists, and the National Archives and Records Service (Region 5) are presenting a symposium on using the resources of the Presidential Libraries. It will be held on Friday, October 30, 1970 in the Continuing Education Center on the Notre Dame campus. For further information write: Regional Archives Branch, Federal Records Center, 7201 South Leamington Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60638.

The Curator of the Orin G. Libby Manuscript Collection at the University of North Dakota announces the completion of a microfilm edition of the Dakota Territorial Records. Prices and other information may be obtained by writing the Curator, Orin G. Libby Manuscript Collection, Chester Fritz Library, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, North Dakota 58201.

The American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) announces the opening of the annual competition for the best historical manuscript dealing with the science, technology, and/or impact of aeronautics and astronautics on society. The AIAA contest carries a cash prize of $500 and the opportunity for publication in the AIAA Historical Monograph Series. Manuscripts for the first contest must be submitted by June 30, 1970. Manuscripts and inquiries should be addressed to: Professor I. B. Holley, Jr., Department of History, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina 27706.

The Fifth International Congress of Economic History will be held August 10-14 in Leningrad.

All travel arrangements in Russia, including visas, must be handled through Intourist. Certain selected travel agencies can provide visas.

Special flights are being arranged from Paris to Leningrad by Monsieur H. Furet, École des Hautes, 54 Rue de Varennes, Paris. The rates are as follows for 6 days, hotel, daily trip to Congress, two meals, and air flight:

Double with bath	approximately $218
Single with bath	approximately $245
Double without bath	approximately $184
Single without bath	approximately $211

There is also an arrangement for 15 days to include the International History meeting in Moscow. Rates are $383, $454, $298, and $367.

Group flights to Leningrad or Paris can be arranged, provided we have at least 50 passengers. The rate would be approximately $400 to Leningrad and return, and $275 New York to Paris and return.

There is also a group arrangement for transportation, visa, excursions, etc. New York to Leningrad (14-21 days), $367 round trip air flight plus $16.70 per day first class double, or $21.00 single. Minimum number of passengers is 15. If you are interested, write to:

HERMAN E. KROOSS
Economic History Association
100 Trinity Place
New York, New York 10006

The Center for Coordination of Ancient and Modern Studies, at the University of Michigan, hopes to encourage and assist various kinds of comparative and/or collaborative studies along two main lines: the influence of antiquity on the modern world, and comparisons between ancient and modern experience in many fields (political, social, and economic structures, law, literature, art, philosophy, cosmology, etc.). The Center has inaugurated a series of planning conferences and also proposes to publish a newsletter from time to time. For further information, write: Professor Gerald F. Else, Director, Center for Coordination of Ancient and Modern Studies, The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104.