

British Journal of Music Education

Editors: John Paynter, University of York;
Keith Swanwick, University of London Institute of Education

The principal concern of the journal is to develop debate about issues in music education and to do so without restriction of style, method, or specialism. A large proportion of contributors are practising teachers. An important part of the journal's production is the annual cassette tape with music examples related to articles published during the year.

The range of subjects covered is wide:

- classroom music teaching
- individual instrumental teaching and group teaching
- music in higher education
- international comparative music education and the development of literature in this field.

Early Music History

Editor: Iain Fenlon, King's College, Cambridge

"Highly recommended for large collections, and for all academic libraries." Magazines for Libraries

Early Music History is devoted to the study of music from the early Middle Ages to the seventeenth century. It demands the highest standards of scholarship from its contributors, all of whom are leading academics in their fields. The journal promotes interdisciplinary work and new methodologies as well as traditional approaches.

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions may be sent to either editor:	Professor Roger Parker Music Department Lincoln Hall Cornell University Ithaca NY 14853 USA	Professor Arthur Groos Department of German Studies Goldwin Smith Hall Cornell University Ithaca NY 14853 USA

The return of contributions cannot be guaranteed unless return postage is provided.

Manuscripts should be double spaced throughout (including footnotes, etc.) and should be typed on one side of the paper with ample margins. Contributors with word processors are requested to underline rather than use an italic font, and to avoid justification of right margins, automatic hyphenation and bold face type.

Footnotes should be numbered consecutively and be typed, double spaced, on separate pages at the end. Musical examples, figures, tables, etc. should also be supplied on separate sheets.

Contributors who wish to reproduce photographs should provide good black and white prints, full details of the source and the full address of the copyright holder if this differs. Photographs will not normally be considered unless they are an intrinsic part of the contribution, and their inclusion will always be at the discretion of the editors. The full address of the copyright holder should also be provided for any other material used in which the contributor does not hold copyright.

Punctuation should follow standard British practice. Single quotation marks should be used with double reserved for quotations within quotations. Punctuation that is not part of the quoted material should be outside closing quotation marks, as should footnote indicators. Longer quotations should be indented left without quotation marks and double spaced. Prose citations should be in English unless the original is of particular importance, unpublished or inaccessible, in which case the original should be followed by a translation in square brackets. Verse citations should be in the original language followed by a prose translation in square brackets.

Dates should be on the following model: c. 1740, 1840s, 5 February 1943. References should be to: Act I scene 2, op. 1 no. 2 in E major, Ex. 12 and Exx. 12–14, Fig. 3 and Figs. 6–9, motif(s) and leitmotif(s). For precise identification of pitch, use this system:

Sample footnotes (do not abbreviate journal titles):

The OPERA Quarterly

Bruce Burroughs, editor

“Fulfills beautifully the need for a serious magazine on opera addressed to the interested (as opposed to the primarily academic) reader.”—William Ashbrook

“Striking a balance between the scholar, the dedicated opera goer, and the involved layperson, . . . [this is] a handsome journal which considers all aspects of opera. . . . Librarians will find the book and record reviews invaluable, and the general reader will appreciate the wide and varied coverage. . . . Highly recommended.”
