

Forthcoming Articles

Taylor Hollander (Orchard House School in Richmond, Virginia), "Making Reform Happen: The Passage of Canada's Collective Bargaining Policy, 1943-1944"

Daniel Nelson (University of Akron), "The Other New Deal and Labor: The Regulatory State and the Unions, 1933-1940"

Rosemary Nossiff (Rutgers University), "Abortion Policy Before Roe: The Link Between Interest Groups and Parties"

Special Issues

Paula Baker (Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars), "Money and Politics" (Winter 2002)

Erwin Hargrove (Vanderbilt University), "The Future of the Democratic Left in Industrial Democracies" (Winter 2003)

The Journal of Policy History is pleased to announce the recipient of the Ellis Hawley Prize for 2000.

This prize is awarded biennially for the best article published in a two-year period by a junior scholar.

Marie Gottschalk
University of Pennsylvania

The Elusive Goal of Universal Health Care in the United States:
Organized Labor and the Institutional
Straightjacket of the Private Welfare State

Journal of Policy History, Volume 11, Number 4, 1999

The Journal of Policy History wishes to thank Brian Balogh, Amy Bridges, and Paul Quirk for serving as members of the Ellis Hawley Prize Committee. The time and great care that they put into the selection process is greatly appreciated.