

been in preparation for two years, with the co-operation of national reporters in some thirty countries. These Congresses attract over 500 participants from more than fifty countries, including those of Asia and Africa—officials in the control organs of central governments, directors of national institutes of training and research and professors of administration and administrative law. Further details from Don L. Bowen, director, American Society for Public Administration, 6042 South Kimbark Avenue, Chicago 37, Illinois, or from P. A. Schillings, Director General, International Institute of Administrative Sciences, 25 rue de la Charité, Brussels 4, Belgium.

The Southern California Political Science Association has held three meetings: (1) in July at Occidental College with Hans J. Morgenthau, University of Chicago, speaking on "The Paradoxes of Democratic Government"; in November at Loyola University with William Ebenstein, Princeton, speaking on "Franco's Spain"; in January (1962) at Pomona College with Maurice Shock, University College, Oxford University, speaking on "How Europe Views the Cold War." Officers of the Association for the year 1961-62 are president, Raymond G. McKelvey, Occidental College; secretary-treasurer, William F. Fitzgerald, Loyola University; executive committee: Carl Q. Christol, University of Southern California; Jeniellen Ferguson, San Fernando Valley State College; Ivan H. Hinderaker, University of California, Los Angeles; Lester H. Phillips, University of Redlands; William S. Stokes, Claremont Men's College.

Section K—Social and Economic Sciences—of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will hold sessions for contributed papers at the annual meeting of the A.A.A.S. in Philadelphia, December 26-31, 1962. Association members interested in presenting a paper at these sessions should forward titles and abstracts not later than September 10 to the Secretary of A.A.A.S. Section K, Donald P. Ray, National Institute of Social and Behavioral Science, 863 Benjamin Franklin Station, Washington 4, D. C. Papers should be based on current or recently completed research. The American Political Science Association is an affiliate member of the Section on Social and Economic Sciences of the A.A.A.S.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

1962 FOREIGN SERVICE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION TO BE GIVEN IN SEPTEMBER

The Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service of the Department of State, after careful study and consultations with private and government authorities concerned, has decided to schedule the 1962 Foreign Service Officer written examination on September 8, 1962.

The September date should give students more free time to prepare for the examination without interrupting summer or academic work. Too, the Board of Examiners will be able to begin oral examinations in November thereby enabling the induction of successful candidates soon after the close of the school year.

Candidates are eligible to take the examination if they are between the ages of 21 and 31 and have been U. S. citizens for nine years as of July 1, 1962. Candidates who are 20 years of age may take the examination if they have completed their junior year.

Application forms for designation to take the examination may be obtained by writing to the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. The completed application form must be received by the Board by July 23, 1962.

The department of government at Indiana University will establish a faculty seminar on political and administrative development, stressing the conditions under which viable political institutions, capable of directing and controlling public bureaucracies, emerge. The role of various elites or leadership elements in these societies will be studied through selected case studies by participating faculty members, research associates and graduate students. Fred W. Riggs, professor of government, will serve as seminar director. Financing is provided by a three-year grant of $105,000 from the Carnegie Corporation.

The Mershon National Security Center awarded the prize of $2,500 for the best book-length manuscript on national security submitted in 1961 to George Stambuk, department of government, Indiana University. The manuscript, American Military Forces Abroad: A Postwar Pattern In International Relations, will be published by the Ohio State University Press in 1962.

University Bureau Research in Government—An Inventory of Current Projects, published for the Conference of University Bureaus of Governmental Research, American Society for Public Administration, by the Bureau of Government, University Extension Division, University of Wisconsin, Madison, 1961. 122 pp. Copies may be secured from the Wisconsin Bureau for $1.

Dartmouth College has received a grant of $100,000 from the Carnegie Corporation of New York for two related national security studies. Eugene Lyons will examine the command of international armed forces and Louis Morton will analyze command and other problems of World War II.

The Lilly Endowment of Indianapolis, Indiana has awarded Duke University $75,000 as the continuation of its research program in Christianity and Politics. The Program was initiated by the Lilly Endowment in 1957. The program is administered by Dr. John H. Hallowell, professor of political science.

Under grants received from the Ford Foundation and the New York State Senate, Columbia University, Hunter College, and Syracuse University have established a graduate New York State Legislative Internship Program, comparable in scope and intent to the APSA Congressional Fellowship program. The three-year grant of $75,000 from the Ford Foundation is supplemented by an annual grant of $10,000 from the New York State Senate. Dr. Ruth Weintraub, professor of political science and director of the graduate program in Arts and Science at Hunter College, is director of the Internship Program. Professors David Truman of Columbia University, Frederick Zimmerman of Hunter College, and Frank Munger of Syracuse University, compose the executive committee, and Professor Donald G. Baker of Skidmore College is faculty supervisor of the program.

ROBERT J. ALEXANDER of Rutgers will serve as visiting professor of government at Columbia during 1962-63 with primary assignment to the newly created institute of Latin American studies.

CHARLES W. ANDERSON of the University of Wisconsin has been awarded an SSRC foreign area research grant for Latin-American work in 1962-63.

DAVID W. BARKLEY, associate professor of political science, Northeastern University, attended the Wilton Park conference, Steyning, Sussex, England, December 1 to December 16, as a Ford Fellow. While there, he led one of the discussions on the topic: "The Control of the State in Modern Society: An American Point of View."

PAUL C. BARTHOLOMEW, professor of political science at the University of Notre Dame, is the recipient of a $25,000 grant from a private, civic-minded donor for a study of the Third Indiana Congressional District.

RUTH BAUMANN, associate professor of political science, University Extension Division, University of Wisconsin, has been appointed an assistant to the dean of extension for the administration of the Wisconsin Urban Program which is supported by a grant from the Ford Foundation, retaining part time her position in the bureau of government.

WALTER T. BOGART of Middlebury College has retired for reasons of ill health as chairman of the department of political science. DR. HARRIS E. THURBER has been named to succeed him as chairman. LEE A. LENDT, formerly at Columbia University, is now teaching in the department.

RONALD F. BUNN of the University of Texas will serve as visiting associate professor of government at Indiana University for the year 1962-63.

FRED G. BURKE, Syracuse University, begins a leave of absence for a year of continuing research in East Africa starting in July 1962.

WILLIAM N. CHAMBERS, professor of political science at Washington University (St. Louis) will be on leave of absence for the academic year 1962-63.

JOHN W. CHAPMAN of the University of Pittsburgh, delivered a series of lectures in Poland at the Uniwersitet Marii Curie-Sklodowskiej, Lublin and at the Wyzsza Szkola Ekonomiczna, Krakow.

CARL Q. CHRISTOL, professor of international law and chairman of the department of political science at the University of Southern California has been appointed to the chair of International Law, Naval College, for 1962-63. TOTTON J. ANDERSON will serve as chairman of the political science department at the University of Southern California during Dr. Christol's absence.

MORRIS H. COHEN, associate professor of government, Clark University, has been elected president of the Worcester Plan "E" Association, the Worcester civic improvement organization.

JOHN A. CRITTENDEN, formerly of the University of North Carolina and recently law and behavioral science research Fellow at the University of Chicago Law School, has accepted an appointment as visiting assistant professor of political science at the University of Southern California.

RALPH CROW, American University, Beirut, has been appointed visiting associate professor for 1962-63 at Indiana University.

HENRY W. EHRMANN of Dartmouth College has been invited to deliver a lecture at the Free University of Berlin during an international gathering of political scientists organized May 8-10 to celebrate the inauguration of the new building of the Otto-Suhr-Institute (Institute of Politics) of the Free University. During July Professor Ehrmann will serve as Fulbright lecturer and director of studies at the American Seminar in political science to be held in Nice, France. He will spend the fall term on research leave in Paris and will also lecture at the Universities of Paris and Bordeaux.

DAVID G. FARRELLY, UCLA, has been appointed by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors to a 25-man committee which is charged with the study and review of the county charter. Professor Farrelly is chairman of a subcommittee on political activities of classified county employees.

PETER J. FLIESS, professor of government, Louisiana State University, delivered the Maurice Falk Lectures at Carnegie Tech on January 10 and 11, 1962. The general subject of the lectures was Thucydides and the Politics of Bipolarity.

MERRILL R. GOODALL on leave as professor of government in the Claremont Graduate School, Claremont, California, has been appointed by the United Nations as its public administration advisor to the Government of Nepal. His assignment in Kathmandu begins March, 1962.

BERTRAM GROSS, professor of administration, Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, who is spending 1961-62 at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, is serving as visiting professor of political science at the University of California, Berkeley, during the spring semester, 1962.

ROBERT W. HATTERY, assistant professor of political science, has assumed the assistant directorship of the institute of world affairs education, Extension Political Science Department, University Extension Division, University of Wisconsin.

C. LEONARD HOAG has been Fulbright Lecturer in political science at Kyung-Pook University, Taegu, Korea during the academic year 1961-62, having been granted a leave of absence from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

J. C. HUREWITZ of Columbia, who will be on leave during 1962-63, will spend the year at the center for advanced studies in the behavioral sciences.

ALDOUS HUXLEY is serving as the Ford Rotating research professor in governmental affairs in the department of political science, University of California, Berkeley, for the spring term, 1962.

THORSTEN V. KALIJARVI has been appointed visiting professor of political science at the Pennsylvania State University for the winter and spring terms of 1962. He had recently served from 1957-1961 as United States Ambassador to El Salvador.

MAGID KHADDURI of the school of advanced international studies, will be at Columbia as visiting professor of government in the academic year 1962-63.

PAUL KECSKEMETHI of the RAND Corporation will serve as lecturer in government and senior fellow in the research program on communism at Columbia University, in 1962-63.

KWANG-HSUN TU has been teaching on a Fulbright Exchange professorship at the University of Washington and University of California at Santa Barbara.

JOSEPH LAPALOMBARA, professor of political science at Michigan State University, who is spending 1961-62 at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, is serving as visiting professor of political science at the University of California, Berkeley, during the spring semester, 1962.

LOUIS E. LAMBERT has been appointed to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Traffic Safety for the State of Indiana.

WALTER H. C. LAVES has been appointed consultant to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare at Indiana University on its programs in international education.

REAM A. LAZARO has been named director of the institute of administrative management and lecturer in public administration at the University of Pittsburgh.

M. NELSON MCGEARY, professor of political science at the Pennsylvania State University is on leave of absence during the spring and summer terms of 1962. He will be working in Washington in the office of Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

ARTHUR W. MACMAHON lectured in March and April at the University of Buenos Aires, under an AID-supported cooperative arrangement between the Economics Faculty of that university and the Columbia Graduate School of Business; his subject was trends in research and teaching in public administration. In May and June he was engaged in staff work on "education and training" for the Committee on Foreign Affairs Personnel, a study group set up in Washington by the Carnegie Endowment with the cooperation of the Department of State.

DOUGLAS H. MENDEL, formerly at UCLA, has received a grant from the contemporary China committee of the SSRC/ACLS to study Sino-Japanese relations. He will also spend September and October as guest lecturer at the Department of Oriental Studies, University of Melbourne, Australia.

NORMAN D. PALMER, professor of political science at the University of Pennsylvania, who is in South Asia on an assignment for the Council on Foreign Relations, with the assistance of a Guggenheim Fellowship and a grant for research on Asia from the American Council of Learned Societies, delivered a series of lectures at universities in India, Nepal and Pakistan.

RICHARD L. PARK, associate professor of political science at the University of Michigan, has been appointed representative in India of the Asia Foundation.

J. WILLIAM ROBINSON, chairman, department of political science and international relations at Whittier College, has been appointed director of the 39th annual session of the institute of world affairs to be held December 2-5, 1962 in Pasadena. The Institute will again be sponsored by the University of Southern California in cooperation with the colleges and universities of the Pacific area.

OLEM M. SMOLANSKY, UCLA, received a Rockefeller research grant to conduct a study of Arab politics.

FRANCES L. STARNER, assistant professor of political science, San Jose State College, is on leave, 1961-62, on her second Fulbright Award. She is engaged in research on far eastern agrarian politics and has her headquarters in Manila, P.I.

IRVIN STEWART, professor of political science, West Virginia University, is on leave of absence from March 1, 1962 to September, 1963, in order to undertake, at President Kennedy's request, the newly created position of Director of Telecommunications Management.

JOSEPH L. SUTTON, Indiana University, has been appointed as a member of the Ford Foundation Foreign Area Training Fellowship Committee.

S. LAIRD SWAGERT, professor of political science, San Jose State College, is on leave, 1961-62, engaged in work for the Stanford Research Institute.

FRANK N. TRAGER, professor of international affairs, New York University, is on leave to serve on the faculty of the National War College for the academic year 1961-62. During the summer of 1962 he will participate in the 44th Conference on "The Defense of the West," at Wilton Park, Sussex, England. He will then return to the National War College for the academic year 1962-63.

SCHUYLER C. WALLACE has resigned as dean of the school of international affairs at Columbia and will be on leave from the University for the next two years, to serve as director of the Ford Foundation's Foreign Area Training Fellowship program.

QUINCY WRIGHT will spend 1962-63 as visiting professor of international relations at Columbia University.

HARMON ZEIGLER of the department of political science at Emory University has been appointed field supervisor (southern region) by the National Opinion Research Center, University of Chicago.

APPOINTMENTS AND STAFF CHANGES

JOHN H. BALLARD of San Jose State College has been promoted to the rank of associate professor.

ROBERT A. BARRETT, a doctoral candidate at the American University, has been appointed as lecturer in the school of government and public administration, the American University, effective February 5, 1962.

JEWEL L. BELLUSH has been promoted to assistant professor in the department of political science at Hunter College.

ELIOT S. BERKLEY has been appointed dean of the college of the Kansas City Art Institute.

PAUL BERNSTEIN has been appointed instructor in the political science department, University of Pennsylvania.

JOHN D. BORN, JR. has been promoted to assistant professor in the department of history and political science, University of Nevada, Reno.

DON L. BOWEN was appointed executive director of the American Society for public administration by the Society's council meeting here. This appointment, effective as of January 1, 1962, was announced by Elmer B. Staats, the society's president and deputy director of the U. S. Bureau of the Budget.

DONALD BRANDON has been promoted from