

advances

in psychiatric treatment

From the Editor

- 159 Hopefulness
Joe Bouch

Editorial

- 160 What makes a medical leader?
Dinesh Bhugra

Articles

- 162 Medical leadership: competencies in action
Shruti Garg, Jon van Niekerk & Margaret Campbell
- 171 Sensorimotor approaches to trauma treatment
Janina Fisher
- 178 Working with offenders: challenges to the recovery agenda
Eluned Dorkins & Gwen Adshead
- 188 Commentary 'Forensic service user': transitional identity or life sentence?
Glenn Roberts
- 191 Differences between psychopathy and other personality disorders: evidence from neuroimaging
Sagari Sarkar, Ben S. Clark & Quinton Deeley
- 201 Service user involvement in mental health research: a user's perspective
Michel Syrett
- 206 Treatment of personality disorder: skills-based therapies
Sue Evershed
- 214 Ethical perspectives on suicide and suicide prevention
Chris Kelly & Eric Dale
- 220 The zone of parental control and decision-making in young people: legal derivation and influences
Tim Hawkins, Ben Player & Martin Curtice
- 227 Hope in psychiatry
Beate Schrank, Mark Hayward, Giovanni Stanghellini & Larry Davidson
- 236 Correspondence

In other words

- 187 Excerpt from *Memoirs of my Nervous Illness
Daniel Paul Schreber

Cover image

© iStockphoto/Todd Bates.
In this issue, Kelly & Dale (pp. 214–219) consider how key philosophical principles regarding suicide can guide decisions on clinical intervention.

<http://apt.rcpsych.org>
ISSN 1355-5146