Erratum:

In his Presidential Address, "The Competence of Political Science: 'Progress in Political Research' Revisited," which appeared in the March 2000 issue of the Review, Matthew Holden discussed the article by Frank R. Baumgartner and Beth L. Leech, "The Multiple Ambiguities of 'Counteractive Lobbying,'" American Journal of Political Science 40 (May 1996): 521–42, which is a critique of David Austen-Smith and John R. Wright, "Counteractive Lobbying," American Journal of Political Science 38 (February 1994): 25–44. In his footnote 20, page 10, Holden stated that "using J-STOR, I am surprised not to have found a response by the authors they critiqued." Austen-Smith and Wright did reply to the Baumgartner and Leech critique in their article "Theory and Evidence for Counteractive Lobbying," American Journal of Political Science 40 (May 1996): 543–64. Baumgartner and Leech then responded to the Austen-Smith and Wright reply in their article, "Good Theories Deserve Good Data," American Journal of Political Science 40 (May 1996): 565–9. On the first page of this last article, the editor of the AJPS noted, "To provide closure on the debate, Professors Austen-Smith and Wright were not asked to respond to this manuscript."
