

NEW FROM
HOOVER PRESS

Political Corruption: The Ghana Case

Victor T. LeVine. The first full scale case study of political corruption—the “give and take of politics”—in Africa.

Using the public record (including the Commissions of Inquiry, the Reports of Accountants-General), Dr. LeVine probes the inner workings of the process of political corruption as it affected and involved institutions and the system as a whole. By focusing on political corruption as a process, the study provides insight not only into the Ghanaian case, but into similar situations elsewhere in both non-industrialized and industrialized countries.

P138. 150 p. $7.50

Sir Donald Cameron: Colonial Governor

Harry A. Gailey. This is the first effort to analyze the totality of Cameron’s contributions to British imperial administration in the 20th century. Tracing Cameron’s public career from its beginning in Guiana until his retirement as Governor of Nigeria, it shows how Cameron’s use of his talents and energies substantially increased native autonomy in key areas of the British empire.

“Historians of the colonial period in African history will welcome the appearance of Professor Gailey’s book on Sir Donald Cameron, one of the great governors of the twentieth century. Too often works on imperial policy have emphasized the abstract. This book, the first scholarly evaluation of an administrator who left his distinctive mark in both east and west Africa, is an excellent start for what should be an important series.”

John S. Galbraith, University of California

P139. 200 p. $9.00

ORDERING INFORMATION: Send orders to: HOOVER INSTITUTION PRESS, Stanford, California 94305. All orders from individuals and from foreign firms who have not established credit with Hoover Press, must be prepaid. Include 50c for handling and postage. California residents please add 6% sales tax.

Hoover Institution Press
Stanford University, Stanford, California

The Archaeology of Benin

Excavations and other Researches in and around Benin City, Nigeria

Graham Connah

This book describes excavations and other field research conducted by the writer between 1961 and 1964 on behalf of the Nigerian Federal Department of Antiquities. Benin has long been famous for its distinctive art style, and its history has been extensively investigated. Field archaeology in Nigeria developed only comparatively recently, however, and this work represents the first significant contribution to the field archaeology of Benin, and adds to our knowledge of West Africa's archaeology in general. Illustrated £14

Nigerian Perspectives

An Historical Anthology

Thomas Hodgkin

This invaluable anthology of source material for Nigerian history and of extracts from historical writing covers the legends of origins up to the beginning of the twentieth century. For this edition Mr. Hodgkin has written a new introduction tracing the stages of Nigerian history in relation to the texts which follow. He has also added a considerable body of new material, chiefly relating to Bornu, the Hausa States, and the Sokoto Caliphate. Second edition £5.50 paper covers £295
Oxford Paperbacks

A Chief is a Chief by the People

An Autobiography

Stimela Jason Jingo

Recorded and compiled by J. A. G. Perry and Cassandra Perry

Born in 1895, the author has been closely involved for most of his life with the chiefs of his country, Lesotho, as an adviser and counsellor. This book records his remarkable personality and makes a notable addition to the small number of autobiographies by Africans. Illustrated £5.80

Labour, Race, and Colonial Rule

The Copperbelt from 1924 to Independence

Elena L. Berger

During the forty years in which Northern Rhodesia was under British control a powerful copper mining industry was established. The mines were plagued by labour troubles as white workers tried to block African advancement in the industry and blacks began to press for white jobs and higher wages. This study examines the ways in which the government and the mining companies tried to resolve the racial impasse, and the result of the efforts when Zambia reached independence. £6 Oxford Studies in African Affairs

Oxford University Press

AFRICAN STUDIES SERIES 13

Asante in the Nineteenth Century

The structure and evolution of a political order
IVOR WILKS

Asante was one of the most powerful and politically complex of the African kingdoms of the nineteenth century. This book offers a multi-disciplinary analysis of the nature of the political order in Asante before 1900. The study is based upon the rich archival resources for Asante history and upon the author's own researches in Ghana which have extended over a period of twenty years. £16.00 net

West African Food in the Middle Ages

TADEUSZ LEWICKI

with the assistance of MARION JOHNSON

The first full-scale attempt to make use of the material left by medieval Arabic historians and geographers related to foodstuffs and the preparation of food.

£8.00 net

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Revolt in Bussa

MICHAEL CROWDER

'Professor Crowder's admirably researched and lightly written study is a valuable addition to the growing number of serious, non-polemical works on colonialism. . . Crowder's book is, like all his work, well written, humanely understood and never boring. It should not be avoided because it appears over-specialized. What he chronicles in Bussa between 1902 and 1935 is in microcosm a much broader theme of colonialism at its most ham-handed.' - Richard Rathbone, The Times Educational Supplement

With 4 pages of photographs, 8 maps and 2 line drawings. £5

Faber and Faber

RACE & CLASS (Formerly RACE)

Quarterly Journal of the Institute of Race Relations

Race used to be an academic journal that abstracted and explained away the social reality of oppressed peoples, using the language, methodology and cultural bias of the oppressor.

Now, Race and Class is opening its pages to radical intellectuals, especially those from Third World countries, whose scholarship stems from, and is addressed to, the need to combat racism and imperialism, not least in their own disciplines.

Recent issues have included articles on: Imperialism and archaeology; Trade Unions and immigrant workers in Western Germany; Revolution in the Gulf; Radicalism and change in the West Indies; Fascism in Britain; Demystification of Tibet; Analysis of classes in South Africa; Decolonisation in Vietnam.

Quarterly £5.50 or $15.00 a year £1.50 or $4.00 single copies

Distributed by the Institute of Race Relations, 247-9 Pentonville Road, London, N.1.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to the Journal are welcomed. They may be submitted in either English or French. They should not exceed about 6000 words (excluding footnotes), except with the prior approval of the Editors. A summary of the contents of the article, not exceeding about 300 words in length, should be attached on a separate sheet. Contributors are asked to observe closely the conventions listed in the Notes for Contributors, inside the back cover of Vol. XV, no. 1. It is essential that contributors observe these conventions, as the Journal now goes straight into page proof. This severely limits the number of corrections which are possible.

Page proofs will be sent, if necessary by airmail, to each contributor (or his nominee) provided that the Editors have been given an address through which he can be reached without delay. Corrections should be kept to the minimum, and should be corrections, not new material. If they are to be incorporated in the master proof corrected by the Editors, it is important that the contributor should return the page proofs, by airmail if necessary, to the Editor named when they are sent out (and not to the Cambridge University Press), within ten days of his receipt of them.

Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free separates. Additional separates may be obtained at reasonable cost, provided that they are ordered before publication on the special form sent out with the galley proofs.

All contributions and books for review should be addressed to The Editors, The Journal of African History, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, London, W.C.1.

JOURNAL OF AFRICAN HISTORY, VOLUME XVI, NO. 1
CONTENTS

	page
I A West African Cavalry State: the Kingdom of Oyo By ROBIN LAW (University of Stirling)	1
II Myth and legend as functional instruments in politics: the establishment of the 'Alawi Dynasty in Morocco By B. A. MOJUEAN (University of Ibadan)	17
III Peanuts and Colonialism. Consequences of the commercialization of peanuts in West Africa, 1830-70 By GEORGE E. BROOKS (University of Indiana)	29
IV Trade, Islam, and the Mahdia in Northwestern Wallaggā, Ethiopia By ALESSANDRO TRIULZI (Istituto Universitario Orientale, Naples)	55
V The end of red rubber: a reassessment By ROBERT HARMS (University of Wisconsin)	73
VI The making of an imperial slum: Nyasaland and its railways, 1895-1935 By LEROY VAIL (University of Zambia)	89
VII Unis and Bna: the rôle of 'Traditionalist' parties in Niger, 1948-60 By FINN FUGLESTAD (Centre of West African Studies, Birmingham and Norwegian Research Council)	113
REVIEW ARTICLE
Archaeology at Kalambo: terminology and historical interpretation By J. E. G. SUTTON (Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria)	137

BOOK REVIEWS

Foreign Relations of African States, Colston Papers no. 25. Edited by K. Ingham (JAMES MAYALL), 143; A History of the Bemba: Political Growth and Change in North-eastern Zambia before 1900. By Andrew D. Roberts (JOSEPH C. MILLER), 145; Portuguese in South-east Africa 1488-1600. By Eric Axelson (RICHARD GRAY), 148; West African Chiefs. Their changing status under Colonial Rule and Independence. Edited by Michael Crowder and Obaro Ikime (D. H. JONES), 149; Structure and Conflict in Nigeria. By K. J. W. Post and Michael Vickers (ROBIN COHEN), 150; South Africa: The Birth of a Protest, 1870-1924. By A. B. Davidson (A. R. C. BOLTON), 152; African Women in Towns. By K. Little (DAVID PARKIN), 154.

SHORTER NOTICES

Description of the Cape of Good Hope and Matters concerning it. By François Valentyn, edited by E. H. Raidt (ROBERT ROSS), 156; François le Vaillant, Traveller in South Africa and his collection of one hundred and sixty-five water colour paintings 1781-1784. Edited by A. M. Lewin Robinson, assisted by P. W. N. Selicks (S. M.), 157; The Road to Aba. A study of British Administrative Policy in Eastern Nigeria. By Harry A. Gailey (D. H. JONES), 157; Histoire de l'Afrique Contemporaine, de la deuxième guerre mondiale à nos jours. By Marianne Cornevin (W. G. CLARENCE SMITH), 158; East Africa. By W. T. W. Morgan (J. E. G. SUTTON), 159.

© Cambridge University Press, 1975

Printed in Great Britain at the University Press, Aberdeen