

News and Notes

Activities

Patricia A. Anglim, University of California, Berkeley, received a Ford and Rockefeller Foundations Program in Support of Social Science and Legal Research on Population Policy Award. She will do research on support for Ghana's Family Planning Policy: A Research Proposal.

Peter M. Ballard, WMAR-TV (Baltimore), has been named recipient of an Abe Lincoln Award for 1972 by the Southern Baptists' Radio and Television Commission in Fort Worth, Texas.

James F. Barnes, Ohio University, is serving as director of the joint Bowling Green State University and Ohio University program at the University of Tours in France for 1971-72.

Carol Barry, Lehigh University and Cedar Crest College, participated in the Seventh Annual Mathematical Applications in Political Science, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, Blacksburg, Virginia, June 15-July 30, 1971.

Donald Barry and Carol Barry, Lehigh University, acted as Soviet law consultants and accompanied a group of lawyers from the Council of New York Law Associates, which visited the Soviet Union from September 2-8, 1971. The group visited courts and met with Soviet Lawyers in Moscow, Kiev, and Leningrad.

Peter Bechtold, University of Maryland, is spending the academic year in Cairo, UAR, engaged in research on "New Approaches to Arab Unity: The Proposed Federation of Egypt, Lybia, and Syria. He received a Fulbright grant to conduct the research.

Ralph Braibanti, Duke University, participated in a seminar in development administration in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, under the auspices of the Southeast Asia Development Advisory Group in November 1971. Dr. Braibanti was chairman of a seminar on military involvement in modernization held in the U.S. Army Institute for Military Assistance in December, 1971.

David S. Brown, George Washington University, was a guest lecturer at the University of Belgrade, and also at the Centard za Obrazovanje Kadrova in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, under sponsorship of the U.S. Information Agency.

James Brown, Southern Methodist University, will be on leave during calendar year 1972 to serve as southern regional director of the News Election

Service. He will be responsible for collecting and reporting the election returns to the networks for eight states in the South.

Charles Butterworth, University of Maryland, received a Fulbright grant for teaching and study at the University of Bordeaux where he is spending this academic year.

Richard Claude, University of Maryland, will be on sabbatical leave during the spring semester of 1972; after delivering a lecture series on the Supreme Court at the Labor Studies Center in Washington, D.C., he will be preparing a book-length study on "comparative human rights," in Geneva, Switzerland.

Marshall N. Goldstein, McMaster University, is on sabbatical leave during the 1971-72 academic year.

P. Edward Haley, Claremont Men's College, has been awarded the Sahagun Prize from the National Institute of Anthropology and History, the Republic of Mexico. The prize honors his book, Revolution and Intervention. He will be on leave the spring semester, 1972, in Washington, D.C., working on his book on American foreign policy in Asia.

Martin O. Heisler, University of Maryland, spent the Summer of 1971 in Belgium on a General Research Board Grant (University of Maryland) engaged in intensive interviews intended to shed light on the attitudinal bases of ethnic relationships in changing neighborhoods in the Brussels metropolitan area.

Chun-tu Hsueh, University of Maryland, gave a talk on the overseas Chinese in America at a seminar held by the Chinese People's Association for Friendship with Foreign Countries and other governmental organizations in Peking, China, early in November, 1971. Professor Hsueh recently returned from mainland China where he spent a month visiting his native land. Hsueh, now an American citizen, left China in 1947.

Harry V. Jaffa, Claremont Men's College, will begin a two-year leave of absence during which time he will complete the sequel to his first volume on the political philosophy of Abraham Lincoln. He has also been appointed Henry Salvatori Research Professor.

Richard J. Kestler, University of North Dakota, is on leave during the 1971-72 academic year, to pursue a National Endowment for the Humanities post-doctoral fellowship in American Indian Studies in the Anthropology Department at the University of Arizona.

Roy U. T. Kim, Drexel University, has been awarded a Fulbright Faculty Research Grant to study the Panmunjom Negotiations at the Asiatic Research Center of the Korea University in Seoul during March-August 1972.

Wilma Rule Krauss, Northern Illinois University, has been awarded a Council of Academic Dean's Grant for studying women in politics in comparative perspective. She has just returned from Israel where she delivered a paper at an international symposium on youth unrest and where she interviewed women political officials.

Charles Kunsman, Jr., San Jose State College, has been awarded a travel grant to continue research on political parties in the Commonwealth Caribbean nations.

George A. Lanyi, Oberlin College, will be on sabbatical leave during the second semester, 1971-72, working in London on a study of pre-war British Foreign Policy, and traveling in Eastern Europe during the Summer 1972 on an Oberlin College Travel grant.

Richard H. Leach, Duke University, participated in the Executive Training Seminar Program of the U.S. Civil Service Commission at Oak Ridge, Tennessee in November, 1971. Dr. Leach was again co-director of a School Management Institute at the Quail Roost Conference Center in North Carolina in November 1971. In December 1971, and January 1972, he spent time in Trinidad doing research on inter-Commonwealth relations under a grant from the Duke University Research Council.

Yogendra K. Malik, University of Akron, spent the summer of 1971 in India doing research on "Political Alienation of Party Identification among College Students of North India." He also interviewed a group of Hindi novelists in order to complete his research on contemporary political novels in Hindi.

Dorothy Nepper Marshall, University of Massachusetts, Boston, was elected to the Board of Trustees of the Ford Foundation.

Dwayne Marvick, University of California, Los Angeles, will continue as a member of the Advisory Committee of the Office of Computing Activities in the National Science Foundation for a third year.

Charles McCoy, Lehigh University, accepted an invitation from the Fulbright Commission in Korea to participate in an American Studies Seminar at the Academy Hous, Seoul, Korea, in September 1971. He lectured to other groups at the Korean National University on "Power in America: A Critique of the Pluralist Model of American Democracy" and "A Philosophical Interpretation of Changing Life-Styles of American Youth."

Manindra Kumar Mohapatra, Old Dominion University, has received a research grant from Old Dominion University Research Foundation for a study entitled, "Tidewater City Councilors and the Attentive Public: A Study of Role Expectations."

Byron T. Mook, Duke University, presented a paper on political development at a seminar at the Institute of Development Studies at the University of Sussex, England in October, 1971. In December 1971, Dr. Mook participated in a conference on civil-military relations at the University of Iowa.

Victor A. Olorunsola, Iowa State University, is on leave during the 1971-72 academic year to do research on the involvement of the military in the politics of sub-Saharan Africa under a grant from the Social Science Research Council and a Faculty Fellowship for Research in Political Science from the Ford Foundation.

David L. Paletz, Duke University, has received a grant from the Triangle Universities Consortium on Air Pollution for research on environmental politics.

Norman D. Palmer, University of Pennsylvania, is on sabbatical leave to carry out research in India and Pakistan on elections and political development. In early September he participated in an international conference on the relationship of comparative and international studies at the Rockefeller Foundation's Villa Serbelloni, Bellagio, Italy. In October he was a Visiting Professor at the American University in Cairo and delivered a lecture on "South Asia and the Great Powers" at Cairo University and one on "The Academic and the Diplomat" at the Diplomatic Institute in the Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

News and Notes

Activities

Don Peretz, SUNY, Binghamton, was elected a member of the Board of the Middle East Studies Association at their Fall meeting.

Milan J. Reban, North Texas State University, participated in the 13th Annual Seminar on "Yugoslav Socialism in Theory and Practice" sponsored by the Belgrade University's International Center of Social Sciences, September 1971.

Robert S. Robins, Tulane University, has been elected a Senior Associate member of St. Antony's College, Oxford University, and will be spending the 1972-73 academic year there.

Gerard F. Rutan, Western Washington State College, Bellingham, will participate in the U.S. Department of State Scholar-Diplomat Seminar for European Affairs, March 20-24. Professor Rutan will present a paper on Canadian-American Relations to the seminar.

Jerry M. Silverman, McMaster University, will be on leave during spring 1972. He has received a grant from the Asia Society to study the attitudes of defeated candidates in the Vietnamese 1967 election to the lower house.

Zdenek J. Slouka, Columbia University, has become a Fellow of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. for 1971-72.

June Louin Tapp, American Bar Foundation and University of Chicago, will be on leave this spring semester as a Fellow in Law and Psychology at Harvard University.

Barbara Teters, Iowa State University, has been elected Vice President of the Midwest Conference on Asian Affairs.

G. W. Thumm, Bates College, attended a conference on Training Jurists for the New Europe held at Campione d'Italia, Italy, September 1971. He also participated in the second international conference of the International Institute of Humanitarian Law, on the subject, "Humanitarian Rules and Military Instructions," held at San Remo, Italy, September 1971.

Manfred C. Vernon, Western Washington State College, Bellingham, has been granted letters patent confirming his appointment as one of six members of the International Point Roberts Board of the International Joint Commission of Canada and the United States.

Yung Wei, Memphis State University, has returned from a year at the National Chengchi University, Taiwan, as a Visiting Professor of political science.

Warren Weinstein, SUNY, Oswego, was elected Secretary of SUNY African Studies Faculty Association for 1971-72. He received a summer Research Grant from SUNY Research Foundation for work on political protest in Central Africa. Professor Weinstein presented a paper at the 1971 annual convention of the African Studies Association and will read one at the February meeting of the SUNY ASFA annual convention.

Gilbert R. Winham, McMaster University, will be a Guest Scholar at the Brookings Institution, during the second term of 1971-72.

Robert C. Wood, University of Massachusetts, has been elected a trustee of the Charles F. Kettering Foundation.

Theodore P. Wright, Jr., SUNY, Albany, delivered the keynote address on "The Question of Minority Identity in a Pluralistic Society" to the Third Annual Conference of the Consultative Committee of Indian Muslims in U.S. & Canada at Green Lake, Wisconsin, September 1971.

Jong Hae Yoo, Eastern Michigan University, has been granted leave for 1971-72. He will teach at Yonsei University, Seoul, Korea.

News and Notes

Staff Changes

New Appointments

Kenneth Allen, instructor, University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

Donald K. Alper, lecturer, Western Washington State College, Bellingham.

Howard Aster, assistant professor, McMaster University; formerly Canadian Parliamentary Intern.

Alfred Balitzer, assistant professor, Claremont Men's College; formerly of California State College, Los Angeles.

Frank Belloni, assistant professor, University of Arkansas; formerly of University of California, Los Angeles.

Alan E. Bent, assistant professor, Memphis State University.

Louis R. Beres, assistant professor, Purdue University.

Kenneth Bowler, instructor, University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

A. Stephen Boyan, assistant professor, University of Maryland, Baltimore County; formerly of Pennsylvania State University.

Bernard Bray, associate professor, Talladega College; formerly of Bradley University.

John E. Burke, lecturer, McMaster University; formerly of University of British Columbia.

Gerald E. Calderone, instructor, Ohio University.

Eileen Dooley, instructor, Loyola University of Chicago.

Gerald Dorfman, assistant professor, Iowa State University.

Bryan T. Downes, associate professor, University of Missouri, St. Louis; formerly of Michigan State University.

William Ellis, associate professor, University of Michigan.

Lutz Erbring, lecturer, University of Michigan.

Charles M. Ferguson, assistant professor, Columbus College.

Michael Fleet, assistant professor, University of Southern California.

Ellen P. Flerlage, assistant professor, University of West Florida; formerly of University of Illinois.

Granville J. Foster, assistant professor, Columbus College.

Kenneth M. Friedman, instructor, Purdue University.

Neil J. George, instructor, SUNY, Geneseo.

Alexander Ghehardt, instructor, University of Maine, Bangor.

Francois-Pierre Gingras, assistant professor, McMaster University.

Robert C. Grady, assistant professor, Eastern Michigan University.

Joseph S. Haberer, associate professor, Purdue University.

Vagn K. Hansen, assistant professor, Virginia Military Institute.

Heather W. Johnston, instructor, Purdue University.

Melville Kahn, assistant professor, Stephen F. Austin State University.

Charles W. Kegley, Jr., assistant professor, Georgetown University; formerly of Syracuse University.

Hong N. Kim, managing editor, ASIAN FORUM, West Virginia University.

William R. Klecka, assistant professor, University of Cincinnati; formerly of Northwestern University.

Paul Lermack, instructor, Bradley University.

Joel Lieske, assistant professor, University of Cincinnati.

Richard Loss, assistant professor, Loyola University of Chicago.

News and Notes

Staff Changes

Nicholas P. Lovrich, Jr., assistant professor, Metropolitan State College, Denver; formerly of University of California, Los Angeles.

Jesse Marquette, assistant professor, University of Akron.

Michael J. McGrath, instructor, Purdue University.

Robert F. Melson, associate professor, Purdue University; formerly of Michigan State University.

Abraham H. Miller, associate professor, University of Cincinnati; formerly of University of California, Davis.

Nicholas Miller, instructor, University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

Charles M. Monsma, assistant professor, Eastern Michigan University.

Joel Moses, instructor, Iowa State University.

James H. Nichols, Jr., assistant professor, McMaster University.

N. Patrick Peritore, assistant professor, University of Missouri, Columbia.

Jerry Rankin, assistant professor, Bradley University.

Harold C. Relyea, professional staff member, Congressional Research Service, Library of Congress; formerly of American University.

Cedric Robinson, lecturer, University of Michigan.

Douglas E. Rosenthal, attorney, Fried, Frank, Harris, Shriver & Jacobson, and project director, Russell Sage Foundation.

Jerrold G. Rusk, associate professor, Purdue University; formerly visiting the Institute of Sociology, Catholic School of Economics, The Netherlands.

Arlene Saxonhouse, lecturer, University of Michigan.

Roger C. Schaefer, instructor, Ohio University.

Andrew Semmel, assistant professor, University of Cincinnati.

Vincent J. Sherry, assistant professor, University of Southern Mississippi.

James A. Stegenga, associate editor, TRANSACTION magazine.

John Sullivan, assistant professor, Iowa State University.

Frances Svensson, assistant professor, University of Michigan.

Rolf H. W. Theen, associate professor, Purdue University; formerly of Iowa State University.

Alan R. Thoeny, associate professor, Memphis State University; formerly of U.S. Air Force Academy.

Kenneth H. Thompson, associate professor, University of Southern California.

Herbert K. Tillema, assistant professor, University of Missouri, Columbia; formerly of University of Houston.

Robert Warren, professor, University of Southern California.

Geoffrey R. Weller, assistant professor, Lakehead University, Ontario; formerly of Bishop's University, Quebec.

Frank L. Wilson, associate professor, Purdue University; formerly of Iowa State University.

James Wisner, assistant professor, Loyola University of Chicago.

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

Carol Barry, visiting assistant professor, Lehigh University, 1971-72.

Lynton K. Caldwell, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; professor, Indiana University.

J. Leo Cefkin, visiting professor, California State Polytechnic College; professor, Colorado State University.

William S. Crotty, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; political science department, Northwestern University.

Paul A. Dawson, acting chairman, Spring 1971-72, Oberlin College.

Ismet Giritli, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; professor, Istanbul University.

Donald L. Horowitz, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; former Department of Justice attorney.

J. H. Kalicki, research associate and lecturer, Princeton University.

Wilfrid L. Kohl, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; formerly with Ford Foundation.

Tosh Lee, visiting assistant professor, University of Southern California.

Joseph L. Lemay, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; assistant professor, Rutgers University.

Judith A. Merkle, visiting assistant professor, University of Oregon, 1971-72.

Donald E. Milsten, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; assistant professor, University of Maryland.

Joan M. Nelson, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Amos Perlmutter, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

W. Parkes Riley, visiting assistant professor, University of Oregon, 1971-72.

Zdenek J. Slouka, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; assistant professor, Columbia University.

Jean E. Smith, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars; professor, University of Toronto.

Frank X. Stegert, visiting professor, University of New Mexico.

Brian Winchester, visiting lecturer, Iowa State University.

Frances Zemans, visiting instructor, Loyola University of Chicago.

Administrative Appointments

Marver H. Bernstein, President, Brandeis University.

Patrick J. Conklin, associate director, Federal Executive Institute, Charlottesville, Virginia; formerly of SUNY, Albany.

Charles F. Denton, dean, School of Social Sciences, Fresno State College.

David R. Derge, President, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Morton J. Frisch, director of graduate studies, Northern Illinois University.

Anthony Fusaro, acting chairman, Northern Illinois University.

S. M. Haider, professor and chairman, University of Baluchistan, Quetta, Pakistan; formerly of Duke University.

D. Alan Heslop, chairman, Claremont Men's College.

Arthur L. Kalleberg, chairman, University of Missouri, Columbia.

Virginia M. Kemp, assistant vice president for academic affairs, SUNY, Geneseo.

William R. Klecka, assistant professor and directory, Behavioral Science Laboratory, University of Cincinnati; formerly of Northwestern University.

William W. Lammers, professor and chairman, University of Southern California.

Marjorie Lansing, chairman, Eastern Michigan University.

Abraham H. Miller, director of graduate studies, University of Cincinnati.

Steven Muller, president, Johns Hopkins University.

Virginia C. Parkum, associate project director, Pennsylvania Health Research Institute, Inc.

News and Notes

Staff Changes

O. William Perlmutter, executive director, New York State Temporary Commission to Review the Compensation Received by Members of the Legislature and the Judiciary.

Robert Sasseen, chairman, San Jose State College.

Allen M. Shinn, program director for political science, National Science Foundation; formerly of University of Texas.

Barry Nathan Stein, assistant executive director, Midwest Universities Consortium for International Activities, Inc.

Norman C. Thomas, chairman, University of Cincinnati; formerly of Duke University.

Alfred Tuchfarber, assistant director, Behavioral Science Laboratory, University of Cincinnati.

Henry A. Turner, acting vice chancellor for academic affairs, University of California, Santa Barbara.

Ralph W. Tyler, acting president, Social Science Research Council.

Kent M. Weeks, professor and dean, University of Dubuque, Iowa.

Roy Young, vice chairman, San Jose State College.

Promotions

Re Sumo Attuquayefio, Grambling College: professor.

Stanley V. Anderson, University of California, Santa Barbara: professor.

Richard D. Baker, University of Oklahoma: professor.

Nicholas J. Barabolak, St. Mary's College: professor.

Martin Birnbach, San Jose State College: professor.

Ronald Brunner, University of Michigan: assistant professor.

David D. Dabelko, Ohio University: assistant professor.

Roger H. Davidson, University of California, Santa Barbara: professor.

James L. Elston, University of Arkansas: assistant professor.

Paul M. Freedenberg, Tulane University: assistant professor.

Michael R. Gordon, University of California, Santa Barbara: associate professor.

Wolfram F. Hanrieder, University of California, Santa Barbara: professor.

William C. Havard, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University: University Professorship.

Douglas A. Hibbs, Jr., Massachusetts Institute of Technology: assistant professor.

Arthur L. Kalleberg, University of Missouri, Columbia: professor.

Alfred Katz, Bradley University: associate professor.

Richard J. Kestler, University of North Dakota: associate professor.

Samuel A. Kirkpatrick, University of Oklahoma: associate professor.

William McCraw, San Jose State College: associate professor.

Ralph Minar, Western Washington State College, Bellingham: associate professor.

John E. Moore, University of California, Santa Barbara: associate professor.

Hisham Sabki, Eastern Michigan University: associate professor.

Joel Samoff, University of Michigan: assistant professor.

Guenther Schaefer, SUNY, Binghamton: associate professor.

Alan Seltzer, University of Maryland, Baltimore County: assistant professor.

Kenneth Sherrill, Hunter College, CUNY: associate professor.

Yawsoon Sim, Grambling College: associate professor.

James A. Stegenga, Purdue University: professor.

Robert D. Tice, Memphis State University: associate professor.

Kurt K. Tweraser, University of Arkansas: assistant professor.

Francis Walsh, St. Mary's College: associate professor.

Richard S. Wells, University of Oklahoma: professor.

Robert G. Wesson, University of California, Santa Barbara: professor.

David M. Wood, University of Missouri, Columbia: professor.

Garth Youngberg, Iowa State University: assistant professor.

Correction

In the Fall 1971 PS, Harold D. Clarke, University of Windsor, was listed as an instructor instead of an assistant professor. PS regrets this error.

Additions Dissertations-in-Preparation Political Theory

Russell A. Dondero, Toward the Democratic Community: A Critical Evaluation of Democratic Theory from a Contemporary Radical Perspective, University of Minnesota.

CHANGING YOUR ADDRESS?

If you are planning a move, please fill in the form below and return it to the American Political Science Association, 1527 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. Address changes should be received at the Association by the 5th of the month to be included in the monthly update of the Association mailing list.

Name _____

OLD ADDRESS _____

NEW ADDRESS _____

_____ (Zip) _____

_____ (Zip) _____