PETER CLEMOES

Elrington and Bosworth Professor of Anglo-Saxon University of Cambridge

Continuing the policy of its predecessors, this volume brings together new work in various branches of Anglo-Saxon studies. The Anglo-Saxons' sense of the past, their colour vocabulary and their ties of kinship are among the topics considered. Evidence for contemporary ecclesiastical architecture is extracted from an Anglo-Latin poem and evidence for the post-Conquest Anglo-Saxon emigration to Byzantium from an Icelandic saga. A leading critic of Old English literature provides a reconsideration of The Seafarer. A review article surveys the work of the last twenty years on Anglo-Saxon charters. The bibliography, the third of its kind, lists all books, articles and significant reviews published in any branch of Anglo-Saxon studies during 1973.
