

years he remained an oto-laryngologist of distinction and of practical importance.

To those of us who had experienced the animation and enthusiasm of his mind, his death brings almost the same shock of surprise as is aroused when a young colleague is lost, and that we may well regard as the most enviable characteristic of his make-up, its energy and fresh youthfulness.

THIS year's volume aims, like its predecessors, to be a faithful reflex of current Medical and Surgical thought. It is, therefore, of necessity coloured by the consideration of the many new problems which are thrust upon us by the War. These problems will confront the general Practitioner on every hand, and he must be prepared to deal with them.

Hence the current volume has a unique value, in that it furnishes the reader with a careful review of the latest achievements in War Surgery and Medicine, which will be of value now and in the years to come, and which cannot be obtained from any other source.

The civil side of the Practitioner's work has, of course, not been neglected.

The new "Annual" continues to be, as in the past, a digest of the best modern teaching, culled by experts from the medical literature of the world.
