

We are pleased to announce that Radiocarbon is now available on-line at no charge to subscribers through our new arrangement with CatchWord (www.catchword.com/titles/00338222.htm). This new service will allow easier access and searches than our previous in-house service. More options will be added in the months to come. Also, new subscribers can sign up easily.

We are committed to maintaining both the print subscription combined with on-line access. Radiocarbon has always scored highly in its “impact factor” compared to other scientific journals, and we believe these new ventures will improve this position.

Tim Jull

ERRATUM

In Volume 41(1), 2000, the captions were reversed for Figures 5 and 9 in Color Plates 3 and 5. We apologize for the error.