A QUARTER OF MANKIND

An Anatomy of China Today

Dick Wilson

A clear, comprehensive and well-balanced introduction to the whole subject of Communist China, by the Former Editor of the Far Eastern Economic Review. Mr Wilson vividly conveys the feel and flavour of recent events in China by selective quotations from the official Chinese press, by lively anecdotes, and by the use of eye-witness reports. 45s

CHINESE JOURNEY Jan Myrdal and Gun Kessle

After the success of their first book Report from a Chinese Village, the authors profited from the unique facilities granted them by the Chinese authorities to produce this exceptional portrayal of Chinese Communism in the lives of the common people. The combination of subtle writing and brilliant photography—39 pages of coloured plates, 83 pages of black and white—make a most admirable introduction to modern China. 45s

FRONTIERS OF CHINA Francis Watson

“I have come across no other book which surveys the extreme complexity of China’s frontiers so succinctly, lucidly and accurately (down to small details). But its great virtue lies in the presentation of those frontiers in Communist hands as a dynamic.”

MAO TSE-TUNG

Portrait of China's Leader

'Mao Tse-tung' by Stuart Schram 7s6d

As a poet of distinction, as a political philosopher of distinction, and as a strategist whose 3,000 mile trek across China has become a legend, Mao Tse-tung has devoted his life to China and the Chinese peasants.

This book by Stuart Schram, the fifth in the new Penguin sub-series Political Leaders of the Twentieth Century, sifts fact from fiction and presents a new biography of Mao Tse-tung's long struggle to free the greatness of China and give a new meaning to Marxism. It describes in detail the Chinese Peoples' Republic that has shaped a whole pattern of revolution for poor peasant societies.

This portrait of Mao Tse-tung is an important addition to the library of anyone interested in contemporary China.

also in the Political Leaders series:
de Gaulle, Krushchev, Lenin, Stalin.

WHO'S WHO IN COMMUNIST CHINA

Drawing on its own extensive biographical files, on major Chinese Communist publications and on selected foreign publications, Union Research Institute of Hong Kong has compiled its first English language edition of Who's Who in Communist China. The book provides succinct and accurate historical data on 1,200 individuals to assist those seriously concerned with Communist China affairs.

Professor A. Doak Barnett, Columbia University, says in his introduction that Who's Who in Communist China is "not only a valuable reference book containing basic information on particular leaders in Communist China but also an important source of material for the study of many broad questions, both historical and contemporary, relating to leadership and politics in China."
