

INTERNATIONAL MORTALITY AND LONGEVITY SYMPOSIUM 2014

15 - 17 September 2014, Birmingham UK

The International Mortality and Longevity Symposium 2014 will focus on improving our ability to forecast future mortality by drawing on the knowledge, insights and techniques of a wide range of specialities including; medics, demographers, epidemiologists and underwriters. This two night residential conference has a reputation for lively discussions and debates, with lots of opportunities for networking with a diverse range of attendees.

The conference aims to expand delegates' horizons by giving a better view of the scope of current mortality research in a wide variety of relevant disciplines, and by providing a forum to discuss the implications for actuarial practice.

Who should attend?

The International Mortality and Longevity Symposium 2014 will be of interest to all actuaries concerned with pricing or reserving for mortality and longevity, underwriters, demographers, epidemiologists, policy-makers, gerontologists, other medical researchers, and all those with an interest in better understanding and projecting mortality and longevity.

JOURNALS

Journal of Pension Economics & Finance

Editors

Steven Haberman, Cass Business School, UK

Moshe Milevsky, York University, Canada

J. Michael Orszag, Watson Wyatt, UK

The Journal of Pension Economics & Finance (JPEF) is the only academic journal focusing on the economics and finance of pensions and retirement income. The ageing population, together with the shrinking workforce, heralds a growing pensions crisis, which has become a key public policy issue in developed countries and elsewhere. JPEF provides a valuable and influential forum for international debate in this area.

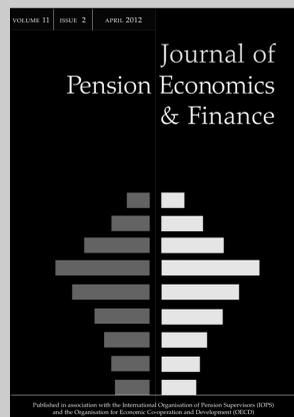

The journal publishes original research papers, covering a variety of topics, including pension fund management, the regulation of pensions, and pensions and labour markets.
