

FIGURES

|                                                                                                                                                                                                        |          |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|
| 0.1 Deutsche Wohnen & Co. enteignen's cheerleading squad dancing in front of the Reichstag                                                                                                             | page xii |
| 1.1 Berlin S-bahn driver giving his signature in support of DWE's referendum                                                                                                                           | 2        |
| 2.1 Socialisation: Lawful, affordable, good. A pastiche of Ritter Sport advertisement created by Joanna Kusiak as part of the public art exhibition Die Balkone in Berlin Prenzlauer Berg, 2021 | 12       |
| 2.2 Bruno Taut's Carl Legien Estate in Berlin Prenzlauer Berg                                                                                                                                          | 21       |
| 2.3 Jabberwock, a powerful fictional creature from Lewis Carroll's nonsense poem Jabberwocky featured in his book Through the Looking-Glass, and What Alice Found There                  | 34       |
| 2.4 Wir bleiben Alle – 'We Are All Staying Put': An occupied tenement block at Brunnenstrasse 183; occupiers evicted by the police on 27 October 2009                                           | 36       |
| 3.1 The spectres of expropriation in front of the Deutsche Wohnen Headquarters in Frankfurt, 18 June 2019                                                                                              | 42       |
| 3.2 Mira on Election Day                                                                                                                                                                               | 45       |
| 3.3 Election evening games: Will it be possible to overthrow the rule of corporate landlords?                                                                                                          | 47       |
| 3.4 Collecting signatures in Berlin-Marzahn                                                                                                                                                            | 52       |
| 3.5 DWE announces the second referendum in front of the Rotes Rathaus (Berlin City Hall), 23 September 2023                                                                                            | 54       |
| 3.6 'We have to do everything ourselves': The spectres of expropriation dancing in front of the Rotes Rathaus                                                                                          | 55       |
| 3.7 DWE's organisational structure                                                                                                                                                                     | 66       |

|                                                                                                                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 3.8 Poster for the 1926 referendum to expropriate the property of the former ruling houses                                                              | 67  |
| 4.1 Facsimile of the official signatures on the Grundgesetz                                                                                      | 72  |
| 4.2 Opening meeting of the Parliamentary Council in Bonn, 1 September 1948                                                                              | 76  |
| 4.3 The statue of Elisabeth Selbert in Kassel                                                                                                           | 79  |
| 4.4 'CDU fights for the Gemeinwirtschaft '; this 1947 poster shows that the Christian Democrats stood for a socialisation and solidarity economy | 81  |
| 4.5 Wolfgang Abendroth by Zersetzer.com                                                                                                                 | 86  |
| 4.6 Electoral poster of Solidarność on a Warsaw tram                                                                                             | 91  |
| 5.1 Hermannplatz 2050: An Artwork by Gosia Zmysłowska                                                                                                   | 104 |
| 5.2 Felix's apartment at Carl Legien Estate                                                                                                             | 108 |
| 5.3 Colourful loggias at Carl Legien Estate                                                                                                             | 109 |
| 5.4 Bruno Taut's Horseshoe Estate in Berlin-Britz built by GEHAG                                                                                        | 111 |
| 5.5 'Architecture of financialisation': A housing project by Vonovia in Alt-Tempelhof, completed in 2021                                                | 112 |
| 5.6 Alpine Architecture: An outlandish utopia by Bruno Taut                                                                                             | 114 |
| 5.7 Organisational structure of the AöR, a democratic institution that would manage socialised housing                                                  | 126 |
| 5.8 'Doughnut economics' by Kate Raworth                                                                                                                | 133 |
| 6.1 Waiting for the tram                                                                                                                                | 138 |
| 7.1 Dancing before the law                                                                                                                              | 166 |