The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing

Theodore L. Blumberg

A most cogent guide to good legal writing. Blumberg emphasizes the importance of cultivating a clear and engaging prose style. He not only provides a typology of the profession's most common literary sins; he explores the motivations behind them. At once witty and exhilarating, The Seven Deadly Sins of Legal Writing will change the way lawyers and scholars do business.

Under pressure of disbarment this book should be read and understood by every lawyer, most of whom forget they, and the judges who read their miserable briefs, are human beings.

— Gerry Spence

A remarkable and concise roadmap to more effective, intelligible and persuasive legal writing. An invaluable desktop resource.

— Theodore B. Olson

Theodore L. Blumberg practices corporate and entertainment law in Manhattan. A graduate of Temple University School of Law, he is a frequent contributor to The New York Law Journal and a lecturer in the Fahringer seminars in legal writing.

Gothic Literary Studies Series

FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF WALES PRESS

Series Editors:

Andrew Smith, Sheffield University

Benjamin F. Fisher, University of Mississippi

Since its heyday in the eighteenth century, the Gothic has flourished in a variety of contexts. Once associated with a Romantic culture that embraced print media, the Gothic later found its way into radio, film, television, music and, more recently, video games. The Gothic Literary Studies series explores the history of the Gothic from the eighteenth century to the present day as well as the religious, medical, and geopolitical contexts of the Gothic in all its many manifestations.

When Melodies Gather

Oral Art of the Mahra

Samuel Liebhaber

The Mahra people of the southern Arabian Peninsula have no written language but instead possess a rich oral tradition. Samuel Liebhaber takes readers on a tour through their poetry, collected by the author over the course of several years. With over sixty audio and video recordings of poems in the Southern Arabian language of Mahri, this project lets you dive in and experience the practice of crafting poetry in an unwritten language.

The more theoretically minded might begin with the theory section to find out how to classify poetry that doesn't fit into formal genre categories. And if you prefer to start with the backstory, you can find out all about the history and culture of the Mahra, the people who produced this poetry.

Start reading at whenmelodiesgather.org. Or visit sup.org/digital for information on all of our digital publications.

EVOLUTION OF DESIRE A LIFE OF RENÉ GIRARD

CYNTHIA L. HAVEN

René Girard (1923–2015) was one of the leading thinkers of our era—a provocative sage who offered a bold, sweeping vision of human nature, human history, and human destiny. In this first-ever biographical study, Cynthia L. Haven traces the evolution of Girard's thought in parallel with his life and times, and reveals his insights into the collective delusions of our technological world and the changing nature of warfare. Evolution of Desire: A Life of René Girard provides an essential introduction to one of the twentieth century's most controversial and original minds.

978-1-61186-283-6 • $29.95 • paper • 346 pgs.

KINGS OF DISASTER DUALISM, CENTRALISM AND THE SCAPEGOAT KING IN SOUTHEASTERN SUDAN

SIMON SIMONSE

Simon Simonse's study of the Rainmakers of the Nilotic Sudan marks a breakthrough in anthropological thinking on African political systems. Taking his inspiration from Girard's theory of consensual scapegoating, the author shows that the longstanding distinction of states and stateless societies as two fundamentally different political types does not hold. Kings of Disaster proposes an elegant and powerful solution to the vexed problem of regicide.

Editor-in-Chief

Prof. Dr. Albrecht Classen

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Humanities (ISSN 2076-0787) is a peer-reviewed, open access, scholarly journal that aims for the highest research standards. We welcome contributions that address fundamental issues in the Humanities from any meaningful perspective, combining past and present concerns in order to blaze a path toward the future. Interdisciplinary approaches are particularly welcome. All submissions will be critically reviewed by peers, aiming for the highest possible scholarly level. Being an online journal, the published papers will reach their desired audiences faster, more reliably, and much more easily than traditional print versions, while upholding the same, if not even higher, scholarly standards.

the SHELBY CULLOM DAVIS CENTER for HISTORICAL STUDIES

Call for Fellows for 2019-20

During the 2019-20 academic year, the Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies will focus on the topic of “Law & Legalities.” This seminar will bring together visiting scholars working on law in societies around the world and throughout human history, on topics including (but not restricted to) state administration, gender and sexuality, race, religion, property, science, environment, technology, war, migration, commerce, medicine, disability, incarceration, and human rights. How have legal, illegal, quasi-legal, and extra-legal forms of social order interacted in different periods and places? We will consider the historical possibilities and predicaments that have emerged within legal and juridical systems (both ‘hard’ and ‘soft’), as well as the conflicts that have arisen from the overlapping jurisdictions of custom, community, religion, nation-state, empire, and international bodies.

For more information and to apply, visit:
history.princeton.edu/fellowship

Fellowships are awarded to employed scholars who are expected to return to their position. Verification of employment and salary will be requested prior to approval by the Dean of the Faculty. PhD required.

The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of recommendation for fellowships is December 1, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, cover letter, research proposal, abstract of proposal, and contact information for three references.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.
