

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

LITERATURE AND THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

Mérida, Mexico

November 8–10, 1972

The Social Science Research Council sponsored this Mérida meeting to deal with the problems of cross-disciplinary research in the humanities and social sciences with a major focus on dependence in Mexico, Argentina, and the Hispanic Antilles. The following papers formed the basis for discussion:

Clara Lida, Wesleyan University, El Impacto de la Inmigración en el Movimiento Obrero Argentino (1870–1900);

Américo Paredes, University of Texas, Folklore as an Instrument of Conformity and Dissent: Mexico (1830–1840);

Noel Salomon, University of Bordeaux, France, El Facundo de D.F. Sarmiento, manifiesto de la "preburguesía" argentina del interior;

Ivan A. Schulman, SUNY at Stony Brook, Casal's Cuban Counterpoint: Art and Reality;

John Womack, Harvard, The Uses of the Humanities for the Study of Mexican Workers: 1880–1940, A Resumé;

Iris Zavala, SUNY at Stony Brook, Puerto Rico en el Siglo XIX: una literatura sin lectores.

The papers will be published during 1973–1974. It is hoped that further meetings will be organized and that eventually an extensive research project may be initiated. For additional information write: Ivan A. Schulman, SUNY at Stony Brook.

SOUTHERN ANTHROPOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Wrightsville Beach, North Carolina

March 8–10, 1973

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro and at Chapel Hill sponsored the 1973 meeting of the Southern Anthropological Society. Thomas K. Fitzgerald, UNC at Greensboro, was responsible for organizing the meeting on Social and Cultural Identity. A symposium on Latin American culture chaired by Ronald R. McIrvin, UNC at Greensboro, made up part of the program. Papers presented at that symposium included:

Ronald R. McIrvin, History of the Concept of Latin American Culture;

Marigene Arnold, Florida, La madre abnegada: One Role Among Many;

E. Thomas Stanford, UNC at Greensboro, The Place of Music in Latin American Cultural Identity;

Mary Helms, Northwestern, Heartland, Hinterland, and Complex Society in Middle America;

Mary Helms and Charles Wagley, Florida, discussants.

Latin American Research Review

CONFERENCE ON LATIN AMERICA
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
March 16–17, 1973

This two-day meeting was sponsored by Temple's Inter-American Center and the Latin American Studies Program of St. Joseph's College. The Conference program included sessions on the following topics: President Allende Thus Far, Christian Perspectives on the Marxist Experience, in the Light of "The Development of Peoples," Current Cultural and Literary Trends in Chile, and The Poetry of Pablo Neruda. Chilean poet Nicanor Parra read from his own works. The Conference concluded with an address on US-Latin American Relations in the 70's.

Speakers at the Conference included Fernando Alegría, Cultural Attaché, Embassy of Chile; Robert J. Alexander, Rutgers; Barbara B. de Aponte, Temple; Herbert Aptheker, Bryn Mawr; Edward J. Brady, St. Joseph's; Anthony Capizzi, St. Joseph's; Hernán Galilea, Temple; Paul Henriot, Center for Concern; John Henry, Woodstock College; Clement G. Motten, Temple; Nicanor Parra, Columbia; James F. Petras, SUNY at Binghamton; Olga Connor, Swarthmore; Tad Szulc, former correspondent, The New York Times; and Henry Wells, Pennsylvania.

LATIN AMERICAN-U.S. ECONOMIC INTERACTIONS CONFLICT
Austin, Texas
March 18–21, 1973

The Graduate School of Business and Institute of Latin American Studies of the University of Texas and the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research of

Washington, D.C. sponsored this conference on Latin American-U.S. Economic Interactions Conflict, Accommodation and Policies for the Future. Approximately 100 businessmen, government officials, and scholars from the U.S. and Latin America discussed U.S. economic and business relationships and the kinds of public and business policies which might help to resolve present difficulties. The following topics and papers were presented:

External Economic Relations and the Process of Development: A Framework for Discussion, Thomas F. Johnson, American Enterprise Institute, presiding;
Gerald M. Meier, Stanford, External Economic Relationships and the Process of Development: A Framework for Discussion;
Osvaldo Sunkel, University of Chile, A Latin American View;

Trade Relations: Areas of Conflict and Congruence, Gotfried Haberler, American Enterprise Institute, presiding;
Wilson E. Schmidt, Virginia Polytechnic, United States Perspectives;
Jose R. de la Torre, Georgia State University, Latin American Manufactured Exports;

U.S. District Foreign Investment and Latin American States: Contrasting Goals and Policies, George Kozmetsky, University of Texas, presiding;

- Jack N. Behrman, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, Using International Companies in Latin American Integration;
- Constantine V. Vaitos, Andean Common Market, Latin American Governments' Policies;
- Thomas D. Willett, U.S. Department of the Treasury, U.S. Goals and Public Policies;
- Panel Discussion of Trade and Investment Issues, William P. Glade, Jr., University of Texas, presiding;
- Ronald Muller, The American University, and Carlos A. Melferrari, School of Business Administration of São Paulo, panelists;
- U.S. Direct Foreign Investment and Latin American Economic Development: Conflict and Congruence—Case Studies, James W. McKie, University of Texas, presiding;
- Raymond F. Mikesell, University of Oregon, Conflict and Accommodation in Direct Foreign Investment: The Copper Industry;
- Nicholas K. Bruck, Inter-American Development Bank, The Finance Sector;
- Jack Baranson, Harvard Business School, The Drive Toward Technological Self-Reliance in Developing Countries;
- Alternative Forms of U.S. Business and Economic Involvement in Latin America: Their Contributions and Feasibility, James R. Bright, University of Texas, presiding;
- Lawrence G. Franko, Center for Education in International Management, Geneva, Switzerland, Joint Ventures in Developing Countries: The Mystique and the Reality;
- Paul N. Rosenstein-Rodan, Boston University, Investment Codes, Guarantees and Divestment Arrangements;
- Peter P. Gabriel, Boston University, Alternatives to Direct and Portfolio Investment;
- Richard D. Mallon, Harvard University, Portfolio Investment and Public Programs;
- Panel Discussion of the Long-Term Viability and Optimal Forms of Active U.S. Involvement in the Development of Latin America—Summary, Conclusions and Options, Walt Whitman Rostow, University of Texas, presiding;
- Edward S. Mason, Harvard University, moderator;
- Jose Antonio Fernandez Arena, The National Autonomous University, Mexico; Guido Di Tella, University of Buenos Aires; Alexander Lipsman, U.S. State Department; Thomas D. Lumpkin, Gulf Oil Company, Latin America; Alfonso Pastore, University of São Paulo; and Stephen F. Robock, Columbia University, panelists.

Several small group discussions were held during the course of the conference. Workshop leaders and specially invited discussants included the following: William S. Barnes, Tufts University; William A. Dymaza, Rutgers University; Gert Rosenthal, National Economic Council, Guatemala; John Walton, Northwestern University; and George M. Scott, Wendell C. Gordon, Calvin Patton Blair, and Woodfin Lee Butte, University of Texas at Austin. The following background papers were presented by University of Texas faculty:

Latin American Research Review

Michael E. Conroy, U.S. Economic Policy Toward Latin America: Imperialism, Altruism or Egalitarianism?;

Russell M. Moore, U.S. Economic Relations with Latin American Nations;

Karl M. Schmitt, U.S. Diplomatic and Defense Interests in Latin America.

Robert B. Williamson and Karl M. Schmitt were responsible for coordinating the conference program. For additional information write: Pat Boone, Administrative Assistant, Institute of Latin American Studies, Sid W. Richardson Hall, University of Texas, Austin, Texas 78712

Workshop sessions and their topics and leaders were as follows:

John Walton, Northwestern University, Latin American Urban Elites and the Structure of Development;

William A. Dymnsza, Rutgers University, Trade Relations: Conflict, Congruence and Future Policies;

George M. Scott, University of Texas, Multinational Corporations' Goals and Policies;

Eric N. Baklanoff, University of Alabama, Latin American Government's Changing Policies Toward Economic Development and Foreign Investment;

Calvin Patton Blair, University of Texas, U.S. Goals and Public Policies Regarding U.S. Direct Investment in Latin America;

Woodfin Lee Butte, University of Texas, Joint Ventures: Uses and Abuses;

Wendell C. Gordon, University of Texas, Investment Codes, Guarantees, and Divestment Arrangements;

R. Van Dyck Coates, IBM of Uruguay, Alternatives to Direct and Portfolio Investments (Sales of Capital Equipment, Licensing and Royalty Agreements, Management Contracts, and Miscellaneous Management and Consulting Services);

Luis Escobar, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, Washington, D.C., Portfolio Investment and U.S. Public Aid Programs in Lieu of Private U.S. Business Involvement in Latin America;

Ronald Muller, The American University, Institute of Latin American Studies Students Association (ILASSA) Workshop.

WORLD EDUCATION AND THE THIRD WORLD—EMPHASIS LATIN AMERICA The North American Regional Conference and Annual Meeting of the Association of World Colleges and Universities began in Brownsville, Texas at Jacinto Traviño and then moved on to the Instituto de Estudios Iberoamericanos, Saltillo, Mexico. The Conference focused on World Education as a Liberating Educational Force.

Workshops were organized around the following themes: emerging concepts in the Third World; development, education in Cuba as a force for social change,

190

Spanish language training; creative uses of technology in education, and alternative forms of the World University. For information write: Charles J. Penn, Executive Secretary, Association of World Colleges and Universities, 18 West 86th Street, New York, N.Y. 10024.

SOCIETY FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES
University of Leeds
March 28–30, 1973

R. F. Colson and D. Preston organized the annual conference which was held at at University of Leeds. The program was made up of two open discussions: Latin American Studies in Higher Education: The Immediate Future and The European Economic Community and the Prospects for Latin American Trade, and thirty-one papers organized in six sections: economics, geography, history, literature, politics, sociology, and anthropology. The following papers were presented:

1. Recent Interpretations of Latin American Economic Development, D. E. Goodman, London School of Economics, convener;
Geoffrey Bertram, Oxford, Exports, Foreign Investment and Peruvian Economic Development in the 1920's;
Francisco Sercovitch, Sussex, Technological Dependence in Argentina;
P. O'Brien, Glasgow, A Critique of Latin American Dependency Theory;
J. Foweraker, Oxford, The Frontier in the West of Paraná from 1950: a Study in Primitive Accumulation;
K. King, Oxford, Recent Brazilian Monetary Policy;
J. Wells, Cambridge, The Distribution of Earnings in Brazil, 1960–70;
2. Geography and Agriculture, D. Preston, Leeds, convener;
R. Bromley, Swansea, Wales, Intra-urban Market Cycles in Quito, Ecuador: Evidence and Suggestions for a Re-Interpretation of Periodic Central Places;
J. Taylor, Aberystwyth, Wales, Current Problems in Brazilian Coffee Production;
J. Colin Crossley, Leicester, A Location Model for Beef Product Manufacturing: the River Plate Countries;
A. Morris, Glasgow, Location Factors in the Contemporary Argentinian Dairy Industry;
D. Browning, Oxford, Preliminary Comments on the 1776 Population Census of the Spanish Empire;
R. Bromley, Swansea, Wales, Urban Growth and Decline in the Central Sierra of Ecuador, 1698–1940: the Demographic Background.
3. The Historical Development of the Pacific Coast Republics, D. Corkhill, Liverpool, convener;
H. Blakemore, London, A Model for Allende's Unidad Popular: the Case of Bal-maceda;
P. Pyne, Ulster, Coleraine, Political Instability in Ecuador: the Case of the 1962 coup;

Latin American Research Review

P. J. Conoboy, Southampton, The Papeleros or Greenbackers in Chile, 1878–1925;
C. Abel, Oxford, The Industrialization of Medellín in Colombian Politics.

4. Literature, J. Parker, Glasgow, convener;

G. Ponteiro, Manchester, The Prose Writings of Manoel Bandeira;

J. Parker, The Poetry of Joao Cabral de Melo Neto;

Alec Andrews, Wolverhampton Polytechnic, Julio Cortázar;

J. McIntyre, Strathclyde, Augustín Yáñez;

M. Gonzales, Glasgow, Carlos Fuentes.

5. Alternative Approaches to Latin American Politics, P. Calvart, Southampton, convener;

A. Knight, Oxford, The Dynamics of Revolution in Mexico, 1910–1917;

D. Stansfield, Glasgow, The Mexican Cabinet: An Indicator of Political Change;

C. J. J. Anglade, Essex.

6. Aspects of Social Change in Latin America, P. E. B. Coy, Stirling, convener;

A. & E. Leeds, Oxford and London, Accounting for Behavioral Differences: Political Systems and Squatter's Responses to Them—Brazil, Chile, Peru;

A. Sanders, Ulster, Continuity and Change in Coastal Amerindian Society in Guyana;

V. Hewitt, Strathclyde, Applied Anthropology as an Agency of Social Change (with special reference to the Vicos project in Peru);

B. Roberts, Manchester, Migration patterns in the Central Sierra of Peru in Relation to Recent Historical Developments;

C. Hakim-Gouldsbrough, Commonwealth Institute, Political Socialization in Secondary Schools in Venezuela.

Alexander Stakhovitch, Central Planning Bureau of the European Economic Commission, delivered a discussion paper to the Society. The next annual conference of the Society will take place during the last week of March 1974 in the South of England. For additional information write: The Secretary, S.L.A.S., History Department, University of Southampton, S)9 5 NH, England.

TWO PATHS TO SOCIAL JUSTICE

Kalamazoo, Michigan

March 29–30, 1973

Western Michigan University held a Latin American Conference on Chile and Peru . . . Two Paths to Social Justice. The program was made up of the following papers:

Luigi Einaudi, Rand Corporation, Chile and Peru—Can the U.S. Adjust?;

William Foote Whyte, Cornell, The Peruvian Paradox—Military Rule and Popular Participation;

David Palmer, Bowdoin College, Social Mobilization in Peru;

Markos Mamalakis, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Social Reform Policies of Salvador Allende;

Linda McEwen, Wayne State, The Road to Socialism in Chile: Forces in Opposition to Structural Change;

John Strasma, University of Wisconsin, Madison, Agrarian Reform in Peru and Chile;

Harold Bradley, Georgetown University, The Church and Social Justice in Peru.

David Chaplin, Oscar Horst, Arturo Jasso, and Leila Bradfield all of Western Michigan University, presided over the various sessions. For additional information write: Ms. Mona Green, Secretary, Latin American Conference, Institute of International and Area Studies, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan 49001.

SOUTH EASTERN CONFERENCE ON LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

Knoxville, Tennessee

April 5-7, 1973

The 20th annual South Eastern Conference on Latin American Studies took place on the campus of the University of Tennessee. Richard B. Gray, Florida State University, coordinated the conference program on the theme: Urbanization in Latin America. The following presentations were made:

Session I. Ione S. Wright, University of Miami, presiding;

Donald Robertson, Tulane, Colonial Urbanism in Mexico;

Robert Mullen, University of South Alabama, discussant;

Richard M. Morse, Yale, Urban Systems in the Americas: Comparative Perspectives for the 19th Century;

Anthony P. Maingot, Florida International University, discussant.

Session II. William J. Blough, Winthrop College, presiding;

Luis Valdés, Rollins College, Voting Patterns in Urban and Rural Brazil;

José M. Aybar, Florida International University, discussant;

Roland H. Ebel, Tulane, Community Political Culture;

Leo F. Pozo Ledesma, University of Florida, discussant.

Session III. Ron L. Seckinger, University of North Carolina, presiding;

Irving L. Webber, University of Alabama, Major Trends in Urbanization in Colombia in the 20th Century;

Charles J. Savio, St. Leo College, discussant;

J. S. Hollingsworth, University of Alabama, Demography and Urbanization in Colombia;

James Henderson, Grambling College, discussant.

Session IV. Earl W. Thomas, Vanderbilt, presiding;

Miles Richardson, Louisiana State University, The Material Expression of a Small City in a Developing Society: The Case of Cartago, Costa Rica;

Howard Tupper, University of Florida, discussant;

Wilder P. Scott, University of Georgia, Intimations of Urbanization from Recollections of Spanish American Prose Fiction;

Latin American Research Review

H. Ernest Lewald, University of Tennessee, discussant;

W. T. Wilford and G. Christou, Louisiana State University, Trade Flows Within the Central American Common Market;

Raúl Moncarz, Florida International University, discussant.

Lewis Hanke, University of Massachusetts spoke at the luncheon meeting, and Preston E. James, Syracuse University, spoke at the conference banquet.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES CONFERENCE
Brockport, New York
April 5–7, 1973

The State University Latin Americanists sponsored this interdisciplinary conference with the assistance and cooperation of Donald Myers, Director of International Education, and the departments of Anthropology, History, Political Science, and Sociology. James Horn chaired the program committee.

Activities included several films; a slide-lecture: Migration, Urbanization and Favelas in Latin America by William Mangin, Syracuse; and two major addresses: Hemispheric Hot Spots by James Nelson Goodsell, The Christian Science Monitor and The Canal Zone Question by Rogelio Novey, Secretary of the Panamanian Embassy in Washington. The following presentations were made at simultaneous sessions:

Stuart Fischman, SUNY Buffalo, presiding, Geography, Nutrition, & Health;

Charles H. V. Ebert, SUNY Buffalo, Agriculture & Nutrition in Eastern Guatemala & Eastern Peru;

Warren Fish, SUC New Paltz, The Brazilian Diet: A Preliminary Geographical Analysis;

Howard Sengbusch, SUC Buffalo, comment.

Albert L. Michaels, SUNY Buffalo, presiding, Recent Patterns in Inter-American Diplomacy;

Frank Leveness, St. John's, the United States and Puerto Rico;

Richard Salisbury, SUC Geneseo, Mexico & Central America;

J.C.M. Ogelsby, Western Ontario, Canada & Latin America;

Ignacio Mendez, SUC New Paltz, comment.

Manuel Alguero, SUC Brockport, presiding, Social Structure & Social Change;

Vicent Peloso, Howard, Afro-Peruvians & the Cotton Economy, 1850–80;

Ann Twinam, Yale, The Medellín Elite: 1760–1840;

Darrell Levi, Yale, The Prado Family, European Culture, & the Rediscovery of Brazil, 1860–1931;

June Hahner, SUNY Albany, comment.

E. D. Durea, SUNY Buffalo, presiding, Technology & Education;

George Schuyler, SUNY Stony Brook, Experiments in Educational Techniques: Films, etc.;

- Daniel Feinberg, NYC Comm. College, Community Colleges as Centers of Technical Education;
- DeForest Trautman, SUNY Stony Brook, Resource Planning by Computer Simulation;
- William Reynolds, SUC Buffalo, comment.
- Rawle Farley, SUC Brockport, presiding, Economic Development Instruments & Impediments;
- Bernard Katz, Lafayette, Mexican Strategy of Industrial Protection;
- Rolf Hayn, George Mason, The World Bank & Latin American Development;
- Alfin Cohen, Lehigh, Latin America's Tendency to Inflation;
- Marvin Sternberg, SUNY Albany, comment.
- Ray Duncan, SUC Brockport, presiding, Organizational Behavior;
- Dieter Zschock, SUNY Stony Brook, with Anibal Fernandez, Raymond Duncan, and George Schuyler, The Education—Work Transition of Venezuelan University Students;
- George Westacott, SUNY Binghamton, Interpersonal Trust, Modernism & Structure: Peruvian Auto Plant Personnel;
- Marvin Bernstein, SUNY Buffalo, comment.
- Gary Hoskin, SUNY Buffalo, presiding, Collective Behavior and the Politics of Protest;
- Evelyn Stevens, Case Western Reserve, Life & Death of Protest Movements in Mexico;
- Richard Sharpless, Lafayette, The Movement of Jorge Eliecler Gaitan in Colombia, 1944–48;
- Howard Prince, Manhattan Community College, Slave Rebellion in Brazil: Bahia, 1806–1835.
- Adalberto Lopez, SUNY Binghamton, presiding, Social Analysis of Emigration-Migration Patterns;
- Peter Boyd-Bowman, SUNY Buffalo, Patterns of Spanish Emigration to the New World in the 16th Century;
- Bainbridge Cowell, Yale, Migration & Social Structure in 19th Century N.E. Brazil;
- Harold F. Peterson, SUC Buffalo, presiding, Modern Argentina: Blue Collar & Roman Collar;
- Eldon Kenworthy, Cornell, Liberal Scholars, Argentine Labor, & the Rise of Peron;
- John Deiner, Delaware, The Political Role of the Argentine Catholic Church;
- Celso Rodriguez, Massachusetts, comment.
- Jorge Marti, SUC Brockport, presiding, Non-Fiction Writers;
- George Schanzer, SUNY Buffalo, The Documentary Theater of Vicente Leñero;
- Robert Claxton, West Georgia College, The Anticlericalism of Lorenzo Montúfar;
- Albert Becker, SUC Buffalo, comment.

AMERICAN CATHOLIC HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Villanova, Pennsylvania

April 6-7, 1973

Villanova University hosted the first spring meeting of the American Catholic Historical Association. One session of the conference considered the Reaction of the Latin American Church to Change in the Modern World. This Latin American session was chaired by Della M. Flusche, Eastern Michigan University and included the two following presentations:

William M. King, St. Joseph's College, Ecuadorian Reaction to the Concordat of 1863;

Joseph A. Gagliano, Loyola, comment.

David C. Bailey, Michigan State, The Mexican Clergy and the Revolution;

Michael Burke, Villanova, comment.

WISCONSIN COUNCIL OF LATIN AMERICANISTS

Milwaukee, Wisconsin

April 6-7, 1973

The Center for Latin America, of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and Mt. Mary College jointly sponsored the Spring meeting of the Wisconsin Council of Latin Americanists. Gary Kuhn (University of Wisconsin-La Crosse) and Leonor Andrade (Mt. Mary College) organized the program. Earl M. Aldrich, University of Wisconsin-Madison, presented the principal address, Spanish American Fiction: A Perspective on Human Experience. A special teachers session was conducted by Thomas J. Lauders, Koscuiskzy Jr. High School. Program topics were as follows:

Edward Jamison, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and Alex Wilde, University of Wisconsin-Madison, Bogotazo, 25 Years Later;

Graeme S. Mount, Laurentian University (Canada), Recent Relations between Canada and Puerto Rico;

J. F. Torres, University of Wisconsin-River Falls, An Examination of the Relationship between Concentration of Political Power and Levels of Economic Development in Latin America;

Ruben J. de Hoyos, University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, Como y porque dejan los militares el poder político en América Latina, Cuatro modelos de transferencia y un caso estudio: Argentina, 1973.

John T. Fishel, UW-La Crosse, The Political Function of Kinship Among Leaders in a Peruvian Village;

Mary Jean McGrath, UW-Extension Division, The Role of Cooperatives in Land Reform in Peru.

For information on the Council or news of the fall (October 12-13, 1973) meeting contact: Armando Alonso, Spanish Department, Viterbo College, La Crosse, Wisconsin 54601.

THE ROLE OF UNIVERSITY
RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA

University of Kansas
April 9–10, 1973

The Ford Foundation sponsored this symposium on the status and trends of research and research priorities in Central America. John P. Augelli organized the program. The following papers were presented:

- Richard N. Adams, Texas, Power: The Dynamics of Latin American Development and History;
Ivan L. Barrientos, Kansas, Status and Trends of Education Research in Central America;
J. K. Frenkel, Kansas, Status and Trends of Biomedical Research in Central America and its Relationship to Economic Development;
Robert E. Nunley, Kansas, The Role of Anglo American Scholars in Central American Development;
Robert Casad, Kansas, Collaborative Research: Advantages and Disadvantages. The North American Viewpoint;
Julio Quan, San Carlos, Guatemala, Ventajas y desventajas de la investigación llevada a cabo en forma colaborativa entre Estadounidenses y Centro Americanos; and Investigaciones Prioritarias en América Central.

ECONOMIC RELATIONS BETWEEN MEXICO AND
THE UNITED STATES

Austin, Texas
April 16–20, 1973

The Institute of Latin American Studies of the University of Texas sponsored this conference on economic relations. The conference was chaired by William P. Glade and directed by Michael E. Conroy. Fernando Enrique Cardoso, CEBRAP, São Paulo, gave the major address, Dependency Revisited. The following sessions were held:

1. History and Contemporary background
Richard N. Sinkin, UT, Mexico and the United States: An Historical View of Dependency;
María de la Luz Aguilera Mejía and Angel Palerm, discussants;
Michael E. Conroy, UT, Mexico and the United States: Issues in Contemporary Economic Relations and the Theory of Dependency;
Luis M. Szekely Sanchez and Javier Michel Vega, discussants;
Manuel Gollás Quintero, El Colegio de México, Employment Problems in Mexico;
Manuel Cavazos Lerma and Donald L. Freebairn, discussants.
2. Trade Relations
Manuel Cavazos Lerma, Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México, the General Area of Trade and Tariff Policy;
William P. Glade and Américo Sanchez, discussants;

Latin American Research Review

Donald K. Freebairn, Cornell, Complementarity and Competition Between United States and Mexican Agricultures; Liborio Villalobos Calderón and Javier Michel Vega, discussants.

3. Border Relations

Vernon M. Briggs, Jr., UT, The Mexico-United States Border: An Assessment of the Policies of the United States upon the Economic Welfare of the Chicano Population;

Robert Bravo Garzón and Donald K. Freebairn, discussants;

Giorgio Berni, Instituto Tecnológico de Monterrey, Border Industry: The Case of Ciudad Juarez, Chihuahua;

Susan Carey Fouts and Vern Briggs, discussants;

Liborio Villalobos Calderón, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, On the Importance of the "Assembly Industries" to the Mexican Economy;

Giorgio Berni and Michael E. Conroy, discussants;

Susan Carey Fouts, UT, Mexican Border Industrialization; An Analogy and a Comment;

Francisco Maydón Garza and Henry M. Steiner, discussants.

4. Border Flows

José Antonio Murguía Rosete, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Foreign Investment as a Factor in Development;

Calvin P. Blair and Richard N. Sinkin, discussants;

Calvin P. Blair, UT, U.S. Direct Investment in Mexico;

Manuel Gollás Quintero and Wendell M. Gordon, discussants;

Russell M. Moore, UT, The Role of U.S. Companies in the Expansion of Mexico's Non-Traditional Exports;

David Barkin and César Santomé Figueroa, discussants;

César Santomé Figueroa, Instituto Politécnico Nacional, Comments on the Proposed Mexican Law on Transfer of Technology;

Russell M. Moore and Luis Szekely Sanchez, discussants.

5. Effects upon Mexico

María de la Luz Aguilera Mejía and Robert Bravo Garzón, Universidad Veracruzana, On the Regional Effects of External Economic Development in Developing Countries;

Américo Sanchez and Clark W. Reynolds, discussants; David Barkin, CUNY, Mexico's Albatross: The U.S. Economy;

Alan I. Rapoport and Manuel Gollás Quintero, discussants.

6. Complementary Considerations

William P. Glade, UT, The Role of Public Enterprises in Development;

Clark W. Reynolds and Francisco Maydón Garza, discussants.

7. Final Considerations

Clark W. Reynolds, Stanford, Do Good Fences Make Good Neighbors: Recent and Prospective U.S.-Mexican Relations;
Joseph Hodara and Walt W. Rostow, discussants;
Walt W. Rostow, UT, From Dependence to Interdependence;
José Antonio Murguía Rosete and David Barkin, discussants.

Workshops followed all major sessions. Several sessions were videotaped. For additional information write: Institute of Latin American Studies, The University of Texas, Sid W. Richardson Hall, Austin, Texas 78712.

THE SOCIOLOGY OF LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE

Austin, Texas
April 19–21, 1973

This symposium was co-sponsored by the Inter-American Studies Institute (UT at El Paso) and the Institute of Latin American Studies and Department of Spanish and Portuguese (UT at Austin). Rudolfo Cardona presented an introduction to the conference. Sessions focused on the following themes:

1. Modes of Perceiving Reality
L. Coser, SUNY, A Sociologist's View;
Earl Aldrich, Wisconsin, The Perception of Social Reality by Writers;
Chester Christian, UT at El Paso, discussant.
2. Interdisciplinary Communication
Alex Portes, UT at Austin, The Uses of Literature by Sociologists;
Fernando Alegria, The Uses of Sociology in Literature;
Lanis Bosworth, UT at El Paso, discussant.
3. The Brazilian Reality: Two Views
Fabio Lucas Gomes, The Literary View;
Fernando Henrique Cardoso, The Sociological View;
Harley Browning, UT at Austin, discussant.

ANSPACH INSTITUTE CONFERENCE
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
April 26–27, 1973

The Anspach Institute for Diplomacy and Foreign Affairs of the University of Pennsylvania sponsored this fourth annual conference on:

The Organization of American States Today and Tomorrow: Twenty-five Years of Regionalism Examined. Covey T. Oliver and Henry Wells chaired the program committee. The following sessions made up the program:

1. The OAS and Development: Reflections and Perspectives
Jere R. Behrman, Pennsylvania, presiding;
Carlos Sanz de Santamaría, Alliance for Progress, speaker;

Latin American Research Review

Jerome I. Levinson, U.S. Senate, and Irving G. Tragen, Inter-American Foundation, discussants;

Suzanne Sullivan, relator.

2. The OAS Today and Tomorrow

Covey T. Oliver and Henry Wells, presiding;

Galo Plaza, OAS, speaker;

Dirk Lorenz, relator.

3. Political and Security Issues

Nancy Farriss, Pennsylvania, presiding;

A. J. Thomas, Jr., SMU, The OAS Views Interventions, 1948–1973;

C. Neale Ronning, New School for Social Research, Changing Concepts of Collective Security in the Western Hemisphere;

Jerome Slater, SUNY, Buffalo, The United States and the Inter-American System: Premises and Policies for the 1970's;

Yale H. Ferguson, Rutgers, and Abraham F. Lowenthal, Princeton, discussants.

Rita Freedman, relator.

4. Present Trends and Future Prospects

Arthur P. Whitaker, Pennsylvania, presiding;

Pedro Contreras, OAS, Present and Future Activities of the Inter-American Council for Education, Science, and Culture;

Gabriel Valdés S., UN, Is the Inter-American System Useful to Latin America?;

John W. Ford, U.S. Permanent Representative to the OAS, The Inter-American System in a Changing World;

Ann Van Wynen Thomas, SMU, and Jorge I. Domínguez, Harvard, discussants; Laurie Taylor, relator.

For additional information contact: Henry Wells, Director, Anspach Institute, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. 19104.

JAPANESE, LATIN AMERICAN,
U.S. RELATIONS

New York City
April–May, 1973

The Center for Inter-American Relations and the Japan Society, Inc. sponsored three meetings during the spring of 1973 as an exploratory look at major problem areas in Japan's new relationship with the Western Hemisphere. Ronald G. Hellman and F. Roy Lockheimer organized this seminar for thirty-five members of the academic, financial, and government communities in the New York area. Specific topics covered included: Japanese multinational corporations and Latin America; the role of international financial agencies in Japanese-Latin American investments, and U. S. reaction to Japanese-Latin American relations. For additional information write: Ronald G. Hellman, Director, Public Affairs, Center for Inter-American Relations, 680 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10021.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Fourth National Meeting

Madison, Wisconsin

May 3–5, 1973

Martin C. Needler, University of New Mexico, chaired the program planning committee for the Fourth National Meeting of LASA. Activities included films, workshops, round-table discussion groups, meetings of special interest groups within LASA, and the following twelve panel sessions:

1. Ecological Problems

Warren Dean, NYU, coordinator;

Hugh Popenoe, Florida, Problems of Agricultural Development;

George Klinzing and J. W. Tierney, Pittsburgh, Problems of Industrialization;

Taghi Farvar, Washington of St. Louis, John Culbertson, Wisconsin at Madison, and Angus Wright, Sacramento State, discussants.

2. The State of the Arts

Stanton Catlin, Hunter, coordinator;

Damián Bayón, Buenos Aires, The Contemporary Artistic Scene;

James Lynch, Maryland, Cuban Architecture since the Revolution;

Mario Pedroza, Santiago de Chile, Contemporary Horizons in Brazil;

Alfredo Boulton, Caracas, Contemporary Horizons in Venezuela;

Kazuya Sakai, Mexico City, Contemporary Horizons in Mexico;

Rita Guibert, New York, discussant.

3. Volunteered Papers

James Wilkie and Edna Monzón de Wilkie, UCLA, co-coordinators;

Manuel Carvajal and David T. Geithman, Florida, An Economic Analysis of Migration in Costa Rica;

A. J. Jaffe and R. J. Rios, Columbia, Demographic & Related Developments in Latin America during the 1960's;

William Tuohy, UC—Davis, Psychology in Social Science: The Case of Mexican Politics;

Margaret Todaro Williams; USC, Social Psychology in Brazilian Studies;

Susan Kaufman Purcell, UCLA, and John F. H. Purcell, Calif. State, Fullerton, Community Power and Benefits from the Nation: The Case of Mexico;

Carl E. Solberg, Washington, The Tariff and Politics in Argentina: 1916–1930;

John H. Petersen and John W. Eley, Western Kentucky, An Approach to the Study of Comparative Latin American Foreign Policy;

William F. Cooper, Baylor, The Concept of Man in the Works of Francisco Romero and Octavio Paz;

Paul W. Drake, Illinois, The Populist Origins of Chilean Socialism in the 1930's.

4. The Contemporary Narrative

Ivan Schulman, SUNY/Stony Brook, coordinator;

Latin American Research Review

Evelyn Picón Garfield, Montclair State, The Impact of Surrealism on Cortázar;
Alexandrino E. Severino, Vanderbilt, Grande Sertão: Veredas as an Epic; Oscar Fernández, Iowa State, García Márquez and Contemporary Currents in the Narrative;

Graciela Coulson, Ohio, Raíces ideológicas de la narrativa de Leopoldo Marechal;
Seymour Menton, Calif. at Irvine, René de Costa, Chicago, and Joseph Sommers, Washington, Discussants.

5. Foreign Investment and Inter-American Relations

Markos Mamalakis, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, coordinator;

Eric N. Baklanoff, Alabama, U. S. Investments and Inter-American Relations: Toward a Low-Profile Policy;

A. A. Fatouros, Indiana, The Multinational Firm in Inter-American Relations: Some Legal Aspects;

Theodore Moran, Vanderbilt, Pulling, Pushing, Shoving: A Model of the Relations Between Foreign Investors & Host Countries in Large Natural Resource Concessions;

John H. Petersen, Western Kentucky, Economic Interest and U.S. Foreign Policy
in Latin America;

Bryce Wood, FAFP and SSRC, discussant.

6. Ethical Problems of Scholars & Public Responsibilities of Scholarly Organiza- tions

Tom E. Davis, Cornell, coordinator;

John Harrison, Miami;

John Murra, Cornell, How U. S. Anthropologists Come Close to Taking an Interest in their Discipline as Practiced in the Hemisphere;

Maurice Zeitlin, Wisconsin.

7. Economic Development & Economic Inequality

Clark Reynolds, Stanford, coordinator;

Martin Carnoy, Stanford, Education & Economic Inequality: The Brazilian Case;

Carmelo Mesa-Lago, Pittsburgh, Social Security & Inequality;

William G. Tyler, Florida, A Model of Income Distribution & Economic Development;

Susan Eckstein, Boston, Harley Hinrichs, U. S. Naval Academy, and Donald Kees-ing, North Carolina, discussants.

8. The Reintegration of Spain & Portugal into Ibero-American Studies

Charles W. Anderson, Wisconsin-Madison, and Martin C. Needler, co-coordinators; Antonio López Pina, Univ. Autónoma de Madrid, The Political Development of Spain Compared to Argentina & Mexico;

Francisco José Moreno, NYU, A Psycho-Cultural Analytical Proposition: The Incorporation of Spain into the Study of Latin American Politics;

Evelyn Stevens, Cleveland, Policy Outputs in Mexico and Spain . . . ;
 Ronald Newton, Simon Fraser, Corporatism in Spain & Latin America;
 Alistair Hennessy, Warwick, discussant.

9. Audio-Visual Teaching Aids for Latin American Studies Programs: A CLASP Service Panel

Paul Doughty, Florida, coordinator;
 Jane Loy, Massachusetts, Report on Latin America: Sights & Sounds;
 Joedd Price, Delaware, The Use of Slides in the Teaching of Latin American History.

10. Labor Systems & Economic Development in Brazil, 1850–1914

Thomas E. Skidmore, Wisconsin-Madison, and Ann Pescatello, Florida International, co-coordinators;
 Douglas Graham, Vanderbilt & São Paulo, Internal Migration & the Labor Supply;
 Michael Hall, Tulane, and Peter Eisenberg, Rutgers, Labor Supply & Immigration: A Comparison of Pernambuco & São Paulo;
 Emília Viotti da Costa, Smith, The Land Law of 1850 & the Problem of Labor Supply;
 Claudia Goldin, Wisconsin-Madison, and Eric Hobsbawm, London, discussants.

11. The Role of Data Banks in Latin American Studies: A CLASP Service Panel

William G. Tyler, coordinator;
 David Nasatir, Calif. at Berkeley, Developing the Infrastructure for Social Science Computing in Latin America: Strategy and Tactics;
 Alice Robbin, Wisconsin-Madison, Problems of Social Science Data Banks: The Wisconsin Experience;
 Richard J. Hofferbert, Michigan, The Inter-University Consortium for Political Research as a Resource for the Social Sciences;
 Philip K. Hastings, Williams, and H. Jon Rosenbaum, CUNY, Problems of Servicing and Data Acquisition in Latin America: The Roper Public Opinion Research Center;
 Manuel Carvajal, Florida, Carlingford Gray, Jr., U. S. Bureau of the Census, and Kenneth Ruddle, UCLA, discussants.

12. The Allende Government at Midpoint

James Petras, Binghamton, coordinator;
 Albert Michaels, SUNY/Buffalo, United States-Chilean Relations;
 Patricia Fagen, New College, Calif. State, San Jose and CEREN, Santiago, Chilean Universities and the Transition to Socialism: The Struggle Against Cultural Dependency;
 Sandra Powell, San Francisco State, The Victory of Salvador Allende: A Comparative Study of Chilean Presidential Elections 1958–1970 and the Consequences for Chilean Socialism;
 Marvin Sternberg, SUNY/Albany, Agrarian Reforms;
 Maurice Zeitlin, Wisconsin-Madison, and Anibal Quijano, Instituto de Estudios Peruanos, discussants.

Latin American Research Review

Small round-table discussion groups focused on the following topics:

Gabriel García Márquez, Helmy Giacomani, Adelphi;
The Situation in Haiti, Jean-Claude García-Zamor, OAS;
The Economics and Politics of Oil, Robert L. Allen, Missouri-St. Louis;
Puerto-Rico & the United States, Frank P. LeVeness, St. John's;
Intra-Latin American Relations, Edward Milenky, Boston College;
Oral History, Lyle C. Brown, Baylor;
Urbanization, Richard Schaedel, Texas;
The Good Neighbor Policy, Bryce Wood, SSRC;
Social Change among Andean Indians, Janet Siskind, Rutgers-Newark;
Christian Democracy, Donald Herman, Grand Valley State;
Political Thought, Harold E. Davis, American;
Industrialization & Tariffs in Argentina & Uruguay, Carl Solberg, Washington;
New Trends in Educational Policy, David Barkin, Lehman;
Colonial Central America, Murdo MacLeod, Pittsburgh;
Mexican Literature, Joseph Sommers, Washington;
The Training of Latin American Officers in the U. S., Miles Wolpin, New Mexico;
The Brazilian Military in the Nineteenth Century, Michael MacBeth, St. Olaf;
European Dependencies, Edward Dew, Fairfield;
Cuba, Cole Blasier, Pittsburgh;
Science & Technology, Theodore Berson, Newark State;
Religion, Brady Tyson, American;
The U. S. Foreign Aid Program, William J. Brisk, Inter-American Foundation;
Contemporary Chile, Sandra Powell, San Francisco State;
Urban & Regional Planning, Alejandro Portes, Texas;
Central American Integration, Jo Ann Aviel, San Francisco State;
Perón, Gilbert W. Merkx, New Mexico;
Economic History of Gran Colombia, William McGreevey, Population Research Center;
Economic Development Strategies, William Glade, Texas;
Mexico and the Chicano, Robert Kern, New Mexico;
New Uses of Quantitative Data, Kurt Kent, Florida;
The Peruvian Military, Abraham Lowenthal, Princeton;
Demographic Problems, Shirley Harkess, Cornell;
Documentary Theatre, George Woodyard, Kansas.

During the National Meeting the Consortium of Latin American Studies Programs, the institutional branch of LASA, met in several business sessions. The Women's Coalition of Latin Americanists (WOCLA) held a meeting on Thursday. Also Solari presided over a meeting of ECLA, Progress of Social Science Research Program. Joel Jutkowitz presented a report at that session.

The Union of Radical Latin Americanists (URLA) conducted two business meetings and presented:

Mary Elizabeth Harding, U. S. Policy in Bolivia: Human Rights under the Banzer Régime; Suzanne Bodenheimer, Calif. at Berkeley, Progress of Yanqui Dollar Project.

The Wisconsin Council of Latin Americanists presented: The Study of Social Revolution—A Methodological Round-Table, Alexander C. Hooker, Jr., Ripon, coordinator. Participants included: Robert Knowlton, Wisconsin-Stevens Point, Kenneth J. Grieb, Wisconsin-Oshkosh, Markos Mamalakis, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Clarence Zuvekas, Jr., Moorehead State, Max Manwaring, Memphis State, and Gerard Flynn, Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

For additional information on the Latin American Studies Association or the LASA meeting write: Felicity M. Trueblood, Latin American Studies Association, Box 13362, University Station, Gainesville, Florida 32601.

MANAGING THE MULTINATIONAL COMPANY
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
May 7-8, 1973

The Graduate School of Business of the University of Pittsburgh and Zenoff International Executive Programs Inc. sponsored this conference on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. Several topics discussed touched on marketing and the multinational company in Latin America including the following specific papers:

Donald A. Taylor, Michigan State, The Brazilian Market for U. S. Multinational Companies;

Joseph Bevan, Vick Far East/Latin America, Multinational Personnel Policies for Expatriates and Third-Country Nationals;

Harvey Wallender III, Council of the Americas, Corporate Response to Nationalism in Latin America.

For additional information write: Division of Executive Development, Graduate School of Business, University of Pittsburgh, 1617 Cathedral of Learning, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15260.

ANNUAL LATIN AMERICAN CONFERENCE OF ARIZONA
LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES
Arizona State University
May 9, 1973

Arizona State University in cooperation with Northern Arizona University and the University of Arizona held a First Latin American Conference. Lewis A. Tambs, ASU, was responsible for organizing this conference which involved the faculty of public and private Arizona institutions of higher and secondary education.

The theme for the conference was: Arizona looks at Latin America. Specific topics considered included: The economics of Mesoamerica, the Latin American economic crisis, third world dramatic art, myth and reality in the modern Latin American novel, Borges as Critic, Quechua poetry, and law in the Andes.

Latin American Research Review

LA LATINOAMERICANA Y LA
CHICANA: LIBERACIÓN, TEORÍA
Y PRACTICA

Stanford University

May 12–13, 1973

Jean Franco and María Baeza de Smith coordinated the program for this conference sponsored by the Center for Latin American Studies and the Chicano Fellows Program of Stanford. A panel discussion in which each participant gave her own view of this study and the solution of the problems shared by the Latin American and Chicano women opened the conference. Panel members included: Antonia Castaneda, Neyde Alexander, Glaura Vasques de Miranda, Marta Esviza, and Clara Ines Olaya.

Conference workshops included:

History of the Chicana, Antonia Castaneda and a group from Washington State;
Latin American Women in Socialist Societies, Susan Purcell and Carmen Alegría;

Women in the Barrio, Lila Garfinkel;

Political Consciousness and Community Action; Dorinda Moreno;

Women and the Study of Latin American History, Louisa Hoberman;

Health and the Chicana, Barbara Sandoval;

Women in Colonial Mexico, Mary Felstiner and a group from San Francisco State; Studying Women in the Indian Communities of Latin America, Seminar with Lois Paul and May Díaz.

Jane Jacqueline spoke on The Changing Role of Women at a general session on Sunday. Tapes of all meetings will be deposited in the Stanford Library.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION
BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION

Miami Beach, Florida

June 1–2, 1973

The American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Florida in cooperation with Florida International University sponsored the second in its series of symposia on Florida's role in the American Revolution. This two-day meeting focused on: Eighteenth Century Florida and the Caribbean. Samuel Proctor, Florida Bicentennial Commission, chaired the Symposium. Richard Klimmer, Ann Pescatello, and Darden Asbury Pyron, Florida International University, acted as chairpersons for each of the sessions. Sir Philip Sherlock, Association of Caribbean Universities and Research Institutes, spoke at the luncheon on Friday.

Speakers at the three symposium sessions included the following: Richard B. Sheridan, Kansas, William S. Coker, West Florida, Jack C. Greene, Johns Hopkins, Barry Higman, West Indies, Orlando Patterson, Harvard, Thomas Mathews, Puerto Rico, Charles Fairbanks, Florida, R. Duncan Mathewson, The Institute of Jamaica, and John Griffin, Historic St. Augustine Preservation Board.

For additional information write: Florida International University, Tamiami Trail, Miami, Florida 33144.

PRIVATE INVESTMENTS ABROAD
Symposium
Dallas, Texas
June 13–15, 1973

The International and Comparative Law Center of the Southwestern Legal Foundation conducted a symposium on private investments on the campus of Southern Methodist University. The conference was designed for public officials, lawyers, economists, and businessmen. One session of the symposium focused on present developments and trends in investment in Brazil. Joao Augusto de Araujo Castro, Ambassador of Brazil, spoke at a luncheon meeting on: Foreign Investment in Brazil—Opportunities. For additional information write the Registrar, Southwestern Legal Foundation, 3315 Daniels, Dallas, Texas 75205.

CLASES SOCIALES Y CRISIS
POLÍTICA EN AMÉRICA LATINA
Oaxaca, Mexico
June 17–24, 1973

The Instituto de Investigaciones Sociales of the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México sponsored this conference. Raúl Benítez Zenteno and María Luisa Rodríguez Sala de Gomezgil organized the program. The following presentations were made: Fernando H. Cardoso, Centro Brasileiro de Analise e Planejamento, Las Clases Sociales y la Crisis Política en América Latina; Anibal Quijano Obregón, Imperialismo, Clases Sociales y Estado en el Perú, 1895–1930; Edelberto Torres-Rivas, CSUCA, Costa Rica, Notas Sobre la Crisis de la Dominación Burguesa en América Latina.

Additional participants included: Enzo Faletto, Tomás Amadeo Vasconi, Roger Bartra, Julio Labastida, Orlando Fals Borda, Octavio Ianni, José Luis Reyna, Manuel Villa A., Adolfo Gurrieri, Agustín Cueva, Victor Manuel Durand, Enrique Contreras, Sergio Bagú, François Bourricaud, Victor Flores Olea, Eric Hobsbawn, and Ernest Mandel. Conference papers will be published by the Instituto de Investigaciones Sociales, UNAM.

CONFERENCE OF LATIN
AMERICANIST GEOGRAPHERS
University of Calgary
June 28–30, 1973

The Fourth General Session of CLAG was organized by Richard P. Momsen, Jr., University of Calgary, on the topic: Geographic Analysis for Development in Latin America.

Participants included geographers from Canada, the United Kingdom, Latin America, and the United States.

More than sixty papers on Latin America were presented within the general framework of four sub-themes: 1) Evaluating Rural Development Potentials; 2) Special Opportunities for Resource Use and Development; 3) Political Geography and Regional Development; and 4) Special Issues of the Commonwealth and French Caribbean. Publication of papers presented is anticipated in 1974.

Latin American Research Review

For additional information on the conference or papers write: C. W. Minkel, Secretary-Treasurer, Conference of Latin Americanists Geographers, P.O. Box 132, East Lansing, Michigan 48823.

7º CONGRESSO BRASILEIRO DE
BIBLIOTECONOMIA E
DOCUMENTAÇÃO
Belém, Pará
July 29–August 4, 1973

This Seventh Congress focused on the topic: As Bibliotecas e os Centros de Documentação em função do Sistema Nacional de Informação Científica e Tecnológica. Sessions dealt with documentation in the fields of agriculture, medicine, law, administration, economics, science and technology, and education. The Congress was attended primarily by librarians from Brazil. Clara Maria Galvão presided over the program committee. For additional information write: 7º Congresso Brasileiro de biblioteconomia e documentação, Museu Goeldi, Caixa Postal 1.330, 66.000, Belém, Pará, Brasil.

FUTURE MEETINGS

MIDWEST ASSOCIATION FOR LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES, Terre Haute, Indiana, October 26–27, 1973. The 1973 meeting of MALAS will be held at Indiana State University in Terre Haute on the general theme of race relations in Latin America. For information write: Lois Coulson, Department of Geography, Indiana State University, Terre Haute, Indiana 47801.

SEMINAR ON IDEOLOGY AND INTER-AMERICAN RELATIONS, New York, Fall 1973. The Center for Inter-American Relations will sponsor this seminar for U. S. and Latin American specialists on Latin American ideologies and international relations. Focus will be on the role of politicization in development and the foreign policy-making process. For details write Ronald G. Hellman, Director, Public Affairs, Center for Inter-American Relations, 680 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10021.

SOCIOLOGY OF DEVELOPMENT AND DEVELOPMENT, Berlin, November 4–11, 1973. The German Foundation for Developing Countries, the Consejo Latinoamericano de Ciencias Sociales (CLACSO) and the Consejo Europeo de Investigaciones Sociales sobre América Latina (CEISAL) will sponsor this meeting on the latest developments in the field of Latin American sociology of development and its influence on political decision making in Latin America and the relationship to European sociology. Gerhard Drekonga, c/o Villa Borsig, D-1 Berlin 27, Germany, is responsible for organizing the meeting.

FUTURE MEETINGS

ART IN LATIN AMERICA, Detroit, Michigan, January 1974. The annual session on Latin America will be held at the meeting of the College Art Association of America. For information write John F. Scott, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York 14850

MODERN COLOMBIA: THE CHALLENGE OF REGIONAL DIVERSITY, University of Alabama, March 11–13, 1974. Write: Edward H. Moseley, Latin American Studies Program, University of Alabama, University, Alabama 35486.

XLI CONGRESO INTERNACIONAL DE AMERICANISTAS, Mexico City, September 2–7, 1974. The scientific discussion of problems related to the Americas is the aim of the Congress. Guillermo Bonfil Batalla is president of the organization committee. Address inquiries to: XLI Congreso Internacional de Americanistas, Secretaría General, Departamento de Investigaciones Históricas, I.N.A.H., Apartado Postal 5–119, Mexico 5, D. F., Mexico.

SOUTHERN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION, Dallas, Texas, November 6–9, 1974. Send suggestions for panels and papers on Latin America to: William S. Coker, The Library, University of West Florida, Pensacola, Florida 32504.