

New from Columbia

The Prefatory Epistles of Jacques Lefevre D'Étaples and Related Texts

Eugene F. Rice, Jr.

This work assembles some 152 Latin texts dating from 1492 to 1534. Each text is prefaced by an extensive introduction containing an identification of the original source, a history of various reprintings, and background material covering the origin and publication of the work and its place in Lefevre's corpus. $20.00

The Church and the Secular Order in Reformation Thought

John M. Tonkin

The views of Luther, Calvin and Menno Simons on the relation of the institutional church to the secular world are revealed here for students of the Reformation and those concerned with the problem of the church and the world today. $8.00

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

Address for orders:
136 South Broadway, Irvington, New York 10533

New

The Lands of St. Peter

The Papal State in the Middle Ages and the Early Renaissance

Peter Partner

In this first continuous history of the Papal State since Gregorovius's classic, Mr. Partner details the vicissitudes of the secular power of the Papacy from the reign of Gregory I up to the Great Schism. He brings out the local nature of the political objectives of the popes and emphasizes the continuity of the territorial factors in papal policy.

LC: 73-182793 494 pages 16 pages of plates 6 maps $17.50

The Heresy of the Free Spirit in the Later Middle Ages

Robert E. Lerner

Most historians, relying on hostile sources of the 14th century, have described the Free Spirit heretics as a league of anarchical deviants who preached sexual license and subversion of authority. In this study the author uses inquisitorial and polemical sources plus testimony of Free Spirits themselves to conclude that there was no tightly organized Free Spirit sect, and that those who may be called Free Spirits were passive mystics who neither practiced nor preached subversion or libertinism.

LC:78-145790 268 pages frontispiece $10.00

from California

University of California Press • Berkeley 94720