The African Studies Review is edited by the Center for African Studies, University of Florida. All editorial correspondence and manuscripts should be sent to: R. Hunt Davis, Jr., Editor, African Studies Review, Center for African Studies, 470 GRI, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida 32611, U.S.A.

Book reviews are edited by Frank A. Salamone, Associate Editor. All correspondence regarding book reviews should be addressed to Frank A. Salamone, Associate Editor, African Studies Review, Elizabeth Seton College, 1061 North Broadway, Yonkers, New York 10701, U.S.A.

All manuscripts should be submitted in triplicate. Manuscripts should be typed double-spaced (notes, excerpts, and references should also be double-spaced) and should be clear and dark. Please do not use erasable or onionskin paper. Maps, tables, charts, graphs, and other illustrations must be camera-ready. Manuscripts should conform to the recommendations of the latest edition of A Manual of Style (University of Chicago Press); a Review style sheet may be secured from the editors. Footnotes and references should appear at the end of the manuscript. Manuscripts will be submitted without the name of the author to outside readers; please include a removable cover page giving title, authorship, affiliation, and address; the article itself should carry only the title. The Review will only consider manuscripts that have not been published elsewhere and are not being considered by other journals.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS: The United States Postal System does not forward periodicals. We must receive written notification from you at least five weeks in advance of any change of mailing address. Failure to notify us of your correct mailing address will result in suspension of your membership until we receive such notification. We can make address changes only when current dues are paid. Domestic claims for non-receipt of issues must be made to the association's office within six months of the month of publication (overseas claims, one year). Copies of the Review damaged in the mail will be replaced without charge.

The African Studies Review is published four times a year (March, June, September, and December) by the African Studies Association, 255 Kinsey Hall, University of California-Los Angeles, 405 Hilgard Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90024, U.S.A. Articles in the Review represent neither the views of the African Studies Association nor those of its officers; responsibility for opinions expressed and for the accuracy of facts published rests solely with the individual authors. The publishers of the African Studies Review assume that contributors to the journal are literate in the English language, coherent in thought, and conversant with the principles of scholarship. The publisher has not copyedited this material; responsibility for copyediting is entirely the author's.

CONTRIBUTORS

ROBERT CANCEL teaches and writes on African literature, oral traditions, and film in the Department of Literature at the University of California, San Diego. He has conducted research in Zambia since 1975. His book-length study of the Tabwa oral narrative tradition will be completed this year.

DAVID COPLAN is Assistant Professor of Comparative History, Ideas, and Culture at SUNY, Old Westbury. His research focuses on contemporary African music, performance styles, and popular culture. He has conducted studies of contemporary music, art, and urban theater in Ghana, Lesotho, and South Africa. Coplan's most recent book is entitled Essays on African Class Formation, Culture, and Consciousness in South Africa (Longman's, 1984).

BENNETTA JULES-ROSETTE is Professor of Sociology at the University of California, San Diego. Her research focuses on new religions, contemporary art, and urban migration in Africa. She has conducted field studies in Zaire, Zambia, the Ivory Coast, and Kenya. Jules-Rosette's most recent book, The Messages of Tourist Art (Plenum, 1984), contains a comparative analysis of tourist and commercial art forms in three African nations.

LOUISE FIBER LUCE is Professor of French and Associate Provost at Miami University. She has published several studies on nineteenth century literature. She is co-editor of Toward Internationalism (Newbury House, 1985), a collection of papers on cross-cultural communication.

V. Y. MUDIMBE is Professor of Sociology, Anthropology, and Philosophy at Haverford College. His research is far-reaching, spanning the areas of philosophy, comparative ethnology, ethno-linguistics, and religious studies. His recent publications include L'Odeur du Père (Présence Africaine, 1981).

JONATHAN NGATÉ teaches French and African literature in the Department of Romance Languages at the University of Michigan. He has published on the problems of language, culture, and history in African and Caribbean literature. He is currently finishing a book-length treatment of these questions entitled Beyond the Esthetic of Difference in Francophone African Literature.
