CONTEXT AND CHANGE

Theological Bioethics Participation, Justice, and Change

Lisa Sowle Cahill

"Cahill helps her readers not only to think in new ways about some of the issues in bioethics but also to act more compassionately. If more of us who are interested in theological bioethics were to follow her call to engagement and to justice, there might really be change."

—Allen Verhey, Duke University

Moral Traditions series

Altruism in World Religions

Jacob Neusner and Bruce Chilton, Editors

"A fascinating assessment of the 'place' of altruism in religion. Generally perceived as a religious value, it is surprising to learn that altruism as generally defined in the West is either irrelevant or in tension with the fundamental concerns of most of the world's major religious traditions."

—Don Wiebe, University of Toronto, and cofounder of the North American Association for the Study of Religion

1-58901-065-5 paperback, $26.95

Family Transformed Religion, Values, and Society in American Life

Steven M. Tipton and John Witte, Jr., Editors

"This volume will become an instant classic in the field of interdisciplinary family studies. . . . These informative and brilliantly argued essays demonstrate why healthy families are an important key to vital democracy and public life. A collective tour de force of erudition, imagination, and lively prose."

—Robert M. Franklin, Jr., Emory University
