History in Africa

A Journal of Debates, Methods, and Source Analysis

History in Africa - A Journal of Debates, Methods, and Source Analysis (HiA) is published annually (in June) for the African Studies Association by Cambridge University Press. HiA is an international, peer-reviewed academic journal that publishes original research and review essays on methodological and historiographical matters pertaining to African history. It has been at the forefront of critical discussion of these topics for more than four decades. It seeks submissions that suggest new methodological approaches, provide insights into source materials, and reflect critically on themes in existing literatures or emerging fields of inquiry. HiA is a venue for rigorous analysis of both established and emerging research practices as well as of the resulting scholarly production about the African past.

HiA does not pay authors for their manuscripts, nor does it provide retyping, drawing, or mounting of illustrations, or other such services. Those are the responsibility of the author. The editors reserve the right to reject or return for revision any material submitted on the grounds of inappropriate subject matter, quality, or because of nonconformity with this style guide.

Authors must recognize that they (and not the African Studies Association, nor the editors of HiA) are responsible for the content of their articles, for the accuracy of quotations and their correct attribution, for the legal right to publish any materials submitted, for the inclusion of mandatory acknowledgements and/or disclaimers, and for submitting their manuscripts in proper form for publication.

A manuscript submitted to HiA may not be under simultaneous consideration by any other journal or have been published elsewhere.

Format requirements are explained in the Style Guide available at <https://www.cambridge.org/core/journals/history-in-africa/information/instructions-contributors>
