CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions are invited from all over the world, and especially from scholars working in African universities. Articles written in languages other than English will be considered on their merits, and where necessary translation will be arranged. The average length suggested is 3,000 to 6,000 words, with occasional exceptions of up to 10,000 words. Notes on centres of African studies, research projects, and reports of recent conferences are also welcome.

All correspondence and contributions should be addressed to

DAVID & HELEN KIMBLE,
THE EDITORS, THE JOURNAL OF MODERN AFRICAN STUDIES,
at either CAFRAD, B.P. 310, TANGER, MAROC, or UNIVERSITY PRESS, CAMBRIDGE, ENGLAND.

Each contributor will receive a copy of the number and 25 offprints of his article free of charge.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Subscriptions (55s. net per annual volume of four parts, post free) are payable in advance, and may be sent to any bookseller, or to Cambridge University Press, Bentley House, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W.1. Subscribers in the U.S.A. should send their subscriptions ($9.50 per volume) to Cambridge University Press, American Branch, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Readings in the Applied Economics of Africa

Volume I: Micro-Economics

Volume II: Macro-Economics

Edited by EDITH H. WHETHAM and JEAN I. CURRIE

Two volumes of readings in applied economics particularly relevant to the teaching of African economics. Volume I is concerned with micro-economics: the use of available resources viewed from the standpoint of the firm or farm. The papers in Volume II have been chosen to illustrate the wider issues involved in framing economic policy, and include sections on national accounting in African countries, public finance, economic development, employment and inflation.

A Phonetic Study of West African Languages

An Auditory-Instrumental Survey Second Edition

P. LADEFOGED

The first book to describe the application of modern phonetic techniques to a wide range of languages. Professor Ladefoged concentrates on the more unusual phonetic events of 61 major West African languages, and in a large appendix lists pronunciations which illustrate points of similarity and contrast between the languages. An outstanding feature of this study is the extensive use made of electronic, photographic, and other phonetic instruments.

●An important new book on Kenya ---

THE GEOGRAPHY OF MODERNIZATION IN KENYA

A Spatial Analysis of Social, Economic, and Political Change

Edward W. Soja

Using a new approach to the study of a society in transition, this book presents a detailed historical and contemporary analysis of modernization in Kenya from the perspective of a geographer. Dr Soja examines areal differences within Kenya resulting from the varying impact of modernizing forces, and traces both the evolution of those differences and the reasons for them. His study begins with the cultural setting in Kenya before European colonization, and his discussion includes the development of transportation and communication systems, a money economy, education, and the extension of trade.

The author's research methods as well as his conclusions make this a book of unusual significance. $11.00

●Of related interest ---

LOCAL GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS IN UGANDA

by Fred G. Burke

"This book is an excellent study of the extent to which modern Western institutions are adapted and conformed in order to meet traditional values and needs. The author has succeeded in weaving political systems based on a complex of tribal patterns with varying cultures and forms of Government into a substantial study for everyone interested in this important topic. Highly recommended."

TANGANYIKA: PREPLANNING

by Fred G. Burke

"Valuable insight into the complex world of mobilizing public support for planning aimed not only at raising standards of living, but also at fusing the disparate elements that make up newly created states into cohesive 'modern' nations.

"The analysis of Tanzania's efforts to build up its own grass roots organization for effective planning is the best part of Burke's study."—African Affairs
