WHO'S WHO IN LATIN AMERICA:

Government, Politics, Banking & Industry

Third Edition: 1993*

WHO'S WHO IN LATIN AMERICA is an invaluable reference tool providing biographies of the most important leaders in Central and South America, as of November 1, 1992. Included are more than 2,000 prominent individuals in 35 countries: Argentina, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, French Guyana, Grenada, Guadeloupe, Guatemala, Guyana, Haiti, Honduras, Jamaica, Martinique, Mexico, Netherlands Antilles, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, St. Kitts & Nevis, St. Lucia, Suriname, Trinidad & Tobago, Uruguay, Venezuela.

WHO'S WHO IN LATIN AMERICA is a guide to who's in charge in the spheres most important to government officials, business people, journalists, students and scholars around the world. The data are compiled primarily from questionnaires completed by the biographees themselves, supplemented by secondary sources. Every entry in the second edition has been revised for the third. More than 500 names have been added. Included are most of the important people in the most important organizations in each country: Bankers, Economists, Politicians, Religious Leaders, Trade Unionists, Lawyers, Legislators, Business Leaders, Writers & Journalists, Military Leaders, Diplomats, Engineers.

WHO'S WHO IN LATIN AMERICA provides hard-to-find details about each person. Most entries contain the following: Date of Birth, Place of Birth, Education, Publications, Job Title, Foreign Languages, Address, Phone #, Fax #.

* The first two editions were published by Decade Media under the title, "Who is Who: Government, Politics, Banking and Industry, in Latin America," Bettina Corke, Editor. Bettina Corke remains Editor-in-Chief.

HOPE SHATTERED HOPE THE GUATEMALAN REVOLUTION AND THE UNITED STATES, 1944-1954

PIERO GLEIJESES

"Extensively researched and written with conviction and passion, this study analyzes the history and downfall of what seems in retrospect to have been Guatemala's best government, the short-lived regime of Jacobo Arbenz, overthrown in 1954, by a CIA-orchestrated coup."

—Foreign Affairs

"This book is arguably the best monograph written on modern Central American politics in any language."

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Journal of Latin American Studies is published three times a year, in February, May and October. Its editorial offices are located in the Institute of Latin American Studies, University of London. The editorial board includes representatives of the Centres or Institutes of Latin American Studies in the Universities of Cambridge, Essex, Glasgow, Liverpool, London and Oxford.

The scope of the Journal is the study of Latin America from the standpoint of the social sciences (including history and international relations). Articles on literature and the arts are not normally included, but the editors are pleased to consider contributions in the field of intellectual and cultural history. Articles with an inter-disciplinary approach are particularly welcome.

Contributions are invited from all parts of the world. Articles should generally not be more than 8000 words long. Two copies typed with double spacing should be submitted. A style sheet is available from the editors. The Journal is published in English, but articles may also be submitted in Spanish or Portuguese; if the article is accepted, translation into English will be the responsibility of the author. Tables, diagrams and maps may be included by arrangement with the editors. The Journal only publishes original contributions; translations of articles already published will not be accepted. Each contributor will receive, free of charge, 25 offprints of the article and a copy of the issue of the Journal in which it appears.

The Journal publishes book reviews in each issue. Not all books received can be reviewed and editorial policy gives preference to substantial reviews of books regarded as of major importance for the disciplines covered by the Journal.

All contributions and editorial correspondence should be addressed to Journal of Latin American Studies, Institute of Latin American Studies, 31 Tavistock Square, London, WC1H 9HA.
