
The Letters and Diaries of John Henry Newman

Volume XXX: A Cardinal's Apostolate. October 1881 to December 1884

Edited by Charles Stephen Dessain and Thomas Gornall, S.J.

Newman was in his eighties during the period covered by this volume, but still extremely active. For much of this time he was engaged in the thought and debate that led up to his paper On the Inspiration of Scripture. He was also concerned with the problems of university education for English Catholics, Irish unrest, and Gladstone's affirmation bill of 1883. £15

A Bibliography of George Berkeley, Bishop of Cloyne

His Works and His Critics in the Eighteenth Century

Geoffrey Keynes

This comprises full bibliographical descriptions of every edition published in Berkeley's lifetime of all the major and minor works, an historical introduction, and clear summaries of the complicated publishing history of Berkeley's work. Also given are descriptions of the controversial works, both for and against Berkeley, which were provoked by his writings. Illustrated £12 Soho Bibliographies

The Tory Crisis in Church and State, 1688-1730

The Career of Francis Atterbury, Bishop of Rochester

G. V. Bennett

This study of Anglican Toryism focuses on Francis Atterbury, whose career is indistinguishable from that of the Church at that time. He became leader of the Tory Party but in 1723 was deprived and exiled after a state trial; he subsequently became minister to the Old Pretender. Illustrated £10

The Miscellaneous Works of John Bunyan

Volume II: The Doctrine of the Law and Grace Unfolded and I Will Pray with the Spirit

Edited by Richard L. Greaves

This edition, planned to be thirteen volumes including an index volume, provides reliable scholarly texts for all Bunyan's works, excluding the better known and more easily accessible. It is based on the earliest texts and Doe's Folio (1692) for works unpublished during Bunyan's lifetime. £12.50

MUHAMMAD and THE COURSE OF ISLÁM

H. M. Balyuzi

A sympathetic account of a world religion by one who accepts 'the God-given mission of Muḥammad'. Like other world religions, Islám has experienced great divisions. In this book, the only one-volume work which comprises a full biography of the Prophet and a history of Islám from its beginnings to the nineteenth century, they receive impartial treatment.

'A monumental work on Islám which will eclipse most of the books written on the subject.'

The Message of the Buddha

K. N. JAYATILLEKE

K. N. Jayatilleke was one of the best-known Buddhist scholars in Asia. This book, on which he was working at his death, is based on his radio talks and has been prepared for publication by Ninian Smart. It is a brilliant account of Theravada Buddhism and covers a wide variety of themes from the birth of Buddhism to the Buddha's teachings regarding the future of mankind.

Topics covered include the background of early Buddhism; the significance of the Buddha's birthday; the Buddhist doctrines of re-incarnation; the conception of truth; good and evil; the individual; the universe and the material world.

He writes in a highly readable and penetrating style.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. Contributions and books for review should be sent to the Editor, Professor H. D. Lewis, King's College, Strand, London, WC2R 2LS. Books published in America should be sent to Professor J. E. Smith, Department of Philosophy, Yale University, New Haven.
2. Articles submitted to the journal should in general be between 5,000 and 10,000 words long, though articles outside these limits will be acceptable if there is some good reason for their exceptional length or brevity. Articles in two or more parts may occasionally be accepted provided each part is independently intelligible. They should normally be in English.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. The typescript should be prepared to accord as closely as possible with the typographical conventions of the journal.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
8. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorises otherwise.
9. All contributors of articles receive 50 free offprints. Reviewers will receive five or more offprints of their reviews.
10. If rejected manuscripts are to be returned, stamps or international coupons should be sent to cover postage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
