Glossary

ansa bele a practice regulating pregnancies out of wedlock by which a man accepts full social and financial responsibility for a pregnancy

ataya bes a coffee place for men serving ataya tea, which is believed to provide energy; mostly young people gather there to drink and discuss politics and daily events bambrus or bambrusing treating someone or something roughly; can also be used to describe rough sex limited to penetration; can also indicate rape

bod ose a wooden house bossing consensual sex where the man is dominant cher am to tear, to rip apart; here it is describing men's sexual conquest of attractive women cober lappas minors, 'girl lovers' contract relationships cohabiting partners who are not exclusive but may not bring other lovers home cut male orgasm cut and play sex that considers male and female pleasure

fala-fala someone who loves to escort another person; here a love potion that leads a person to follow another person wherever they go; fala can also mean to have sex faray an addicted smoker; also used to describe a woman who is embedded in street life and who smokes but who does not engage in sex work

xii

Glossary xiii

financiers or providers middle-aged men/elders who enjoy the (sexual) company of women and girls in exchange for financial support, often in the form of school/university fees or rent fine boy pretty boy; a physically attractive or sexually skilled person without the financial resources desired of a main partner gbagba black magic that prevents someone from urinating or going to the toilet; this spell is said to be often used against 'passers-by' (q.v.)

get bele to be pregnant get-to geda or chillin outing organised by social clubs in Freetown for club members and friends traditional medicines used in oath ifohn or swear medicines traditional medicines used in oath ceremonies as truth-determining devices in theft cases

kedi masta someone who runs a brothel or gambling place and who takes a commission for services provided in exchange for a place, security, or introduction to customers; brothels are often run by women ketch to catch; also the name a female sex worker may use for a customer or a man to describe a new sexual partner kongosa gossip, backbiting lek-lek love potion mixed in substances, food, or ointments; used against a partner to prevent them from loving someone else; used against a stranger to make them fall hopelessly in love and surrender all control; the charmed person's free will is taken away calling someone's children bastards, thereby cursing someone's mother mami kwin or mammie queen female leader mami kəs

mas am to step on someone; also used to describe men or boys sexually penetrating women or girls, yet not necessarily in a violent way na mi bos am I am the one responsible for taking her virginity

xiv Glossary

nak am means to hit someone, but is also a slang term for having sex; for example, Ar wan nak am means I want to have sex with her nor lef mi so do not leave me like that pan bodi corrugated-iron house; zinc house passer-by a man who makes empty promises to a woman or who only takes when having sex and does not give the woman pleasure pikin biznes child's play; also used to indicate a physical relationship that involves kissing and touching but does not lead to sex plaba palaver, to quarrel or fight play female orgasm playing in her garden a man sexually pleasuring a woman; a man giving oral sex to a woman to have an abortion; to perform pul di bele or pwel di bele to have an a an abortion pul na do the naming ceremony for Muslim babies put mot pan di fet or putting involving oneself in someone else's mouth into the fight argument; talking to people while they are fighting rare gal female sex worker deeply involved in street life and sometimes in gangs to deny having caused a pregnancy

I nor ansa di bεlε to deny having caused a pregnancy rob- rob ointments that are believed to be magical and that people rub on their bodies either for protection from magic that could be used against them or as a charm to use against others for personal desires sexing consensual sexual act show face the father of a baby introduces himself to the family of the woman he impregnated, to confirm that the baby has a father without taking social or economic responsibility for the child or the mother side-chick a woman who is very attractive or sexually skilled but who is believed not to possess the qualities of a main partner and is therefore an intimate partner among others

snatching stealing someone's partner

Glossary xv

sugar daddies middle-aged men/elders, who enjoy the (sexual) company of girls and young women in exchange for money, mobile phone credit, clothes, or hair swallow apologise ritually at the end of informal community and household mediations and acknowledge that all issues have now been attended to swear (n.) an oath

tongue jammed together tabulay (n.) or tabule (v.) a drum or to drum; can also be a nickname for male or female sexual organs

tap to mi cohabiting without being engaged or married tay-tay (mostly ropes) that are believed to be magical that people tie on their bodies, for example on the waist, ankle, wrist, or neck; this is done either for protection from magic used against them, or as a charm to use against others for personal desires tedi bəi a gang member or young man engaged in the illicit economy who asks his girlfriend to make money for him (often through sex work and associated trickery) tit en ton mos jam or teeth and the quarrels that necessarily occur between people who are close (e.g. kin, lovers, or friends); it is used to describe the relationship between men and women toma namesake (i.e. someone with whom you share the same first name); a term especially used by the Mende people wahala conflict, trouble, or problem