Help students discover why and how literature matters

Making Literature Matter An Anthology for Readers and Writers Fifth Edition

John Schilb, Indiana University

John Clifford, University of North Carolina at Wilmington

In its fifth edition, Making Literature Matter continues to deliver on the promise of its title. Its thematic anthology gathers memorable stories, poems, plays, and essays into unique literary clusters addressing issues that rouse passionate responses in students. At the same time, its comprehensive rhetoric shows students how to harness those responses into thoughtful arguments about the issues raised by the clusters and the literature.

SEEING DOUBLE

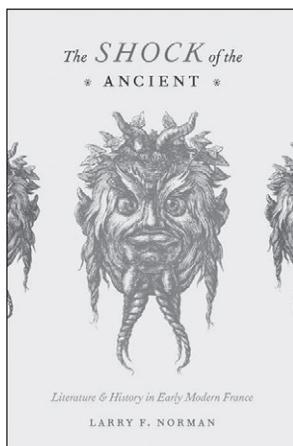

Baudelaire's Modernity

Françoise Meltzer

"Francoise Meltzer's rich and suggestive study ranges widely over nineteenth-century thought and art to explore the bifurcated vision of modernity that Baudelaire's work registers and into which the prose and verse poems lead the reader."—Jonathan Culler,

Cornell University

THE SHOCK OF THE ANCIENT

Literature and History in Early Modern France

Larry F. Norman

"Well-researched, thought-provoking, and very engaging, Larry F. Norman's book makes a clear point and makes it compellingly: that the French classical period was far more aware of questions relating to its own historicism than we moderns tend to believe and that the Quarrel of the Ancients and Moderns indeed reflected a protomodern sensibility of self and otherness."—Richard E. Goodkin, University of Wisconsin–Madison

KATHERINE PARR

Complete Works and Correspondence

Edited by Janel Mueller

"In this much-needed and meticulously annotated edition of the devotional writings and correspondence of Katherine Parr, Janel Mueller recovers the voice of an important Tudor author whose writings have received little attention from readers over the centuries."—John N. King, The Ohio State University

THE UNREPENTANT

RENAISSANCE

From Petrarch to Shakespeare to Milton

Richard Strier

"Well-articulated, intelligent, and written with the ease and confidence of a mature scholar, there is nothing in this book that isn't freshly thought through in an energetic and open way."

—Gordon Braden, University of Virginia

THE ART OF THE NOVEL

Critical Prefaces

Henry James

With an Introduction by R. P. Blackmur and a new Foreword by Colm Tóibín

"As the story of a story, each preface has its dramatic interest, and those who have not read the stories in the light of each preface have missed half the enjoyment to be got from them."—Times Literary Supplement
