2 by DERRIDA

POSITIONS

Translated and Annotated by Alan Bass

This inside view of the French intellectual scene shows Derrida taking positions on his detractors, his supporters, and the two major preoccupations of French intellectual life: Marxism and psychoanalysis. Available for the first time in English, the three interviews comprising this volume clarify Derrida's thought and writing.

Cloth $11.95 128 pages

SPURS: Nietzsche's Styles/ EPERONS: Les Styles de Nietzsche

With an Introduction and Preface by Stefano Agosti

Drawings by Francois Loubrieu

Translated by Barbara Harlow

"...this is no ordinary scholarly essay, for Derrida exemplifies Nietzsche's comment that thinking wants to be learned as a kind of dancing, a dancing with concepts and the pen."—The Key Reporter, Phi Beta Kappa

Cloth $8.95 Paper $4.50 166 pages

LITERATURE AGAINST ITSELF

Literary Ideas in Modern Society

Gerald Graff

"In his recoil from the current anarchy of interpretation, [Graff] has affirmed that 'literary thinking is inseparable from social and moral thinking.' To that... we can only say amen."—Harry Levin, New York Times Book Review

Cloth $15.00 Paper $5.95 272 pages

& READINGS

A READING OF DANTE'S INFERNO

Wallace Fowlie

"Fowlie's reading is philologically sound, informed and updated with luxuriant critical bibliographical information on Dante."—Paolo Cherchi, Department of Romance Languages, University of Chicago

Cloth $18.00 Paper $6.50 248 pages

ESSAYS IN PERSUASION

On Seventeenth-Century English Literature

Frank Livingstone Huntley

In these essays on the major literary figures, genres, and philosophical concerns of seventeenth-century England, Huntley argues persuasively for highly plausible solutions to problems that have proved resistant to easy interpretation by earlier critics.

"Huntley's work has a delightful combination of scholarly expertise and colloquial wisdom..."—Stanley E. Fish, Johns Hopkins University

THE PURSUIT OF SIGNS

Semiotics, Literature, Deconstruction

By JONATHAN CULLER

(Author of Structuralist Poetics)

The task of literary theorists, argues Jonathan Culler, is not to illuminate individual literary works but to understand the system of literary signification—the rules and conventions that determine a reader's understanding of a text and that make literary communication possible. Such general and ambitious goals provoke dispute: disagreement within the field about what this pursuit of signs entails, disagreements with other theories about the feasibility, or even the desirability, of the whole enterprise. In this valuable guide to the complexities of contemporary critical thought, Culler investigates the problems and projects of a semiotics of literature: the study of signs and the analysis of the interpretive process itself. $15.00

HIGH ROMANTIC ARGUMENT

Essays for M.H. Abrams

Edited by LAWRENCE LIPKING. M.H. Abrams's writings on the Romantics have had an incalculable influence on the literary history of his time. High Romantic Argument, treating as it does various aspects of Abrams's work, is in a sense an appraisal of that history. Contributors: Geoffrey Hartman, Jonathan Wordsworth, Wayne C. Booth, Thomas McFarland, Lawrence Lipking, Jonathan Culler, Stuart A. Ende, and Stephen M. Parrish. $14.95

THE SECRET ROSE

Stories by W.B. Yeats • A Variorum Edition

Edited by PHILLIP L. MARCUS, WARWICK GOULD, and MICHAEL J. SIDNELL. "This long-needed variorum edition of W.B. Yeats's stories has been masterfully realized. . . . Truly definitive. Indispensable."—Library Journal. $28.50

THE TEMPTATION OF ST. ANTONY

By GUSTAVE FLAUBERT. Translated with Introduction and Notes by KITTY MROSOVSKY. This new, strikingly illustrated translation of The Temptation of Saint Antony is the first in over fifty years, and it is the only critical edition of the work ever published in English. $17.50
