Managing Disasters through Public-Private Partnerships

Ami J. Abou-bakr

"Ami J. Abou-bakr undertakes one of the first comprehensive assessments of public-private partnerships as a tool for integrating and improving management of all aspects of the disaster cycle. This very readable study will be of considerable interest to managers and policy makers at all levels of government, and across all economic sectors. This is a must-read book for those planning to design and promote PPPs."

Beyond Machiavelli

Policy Analysis Reaches Midlife

Second Edition

Beryl A. Radin

"The first edition of Beyond Machiavelli was an important and valuable book for those of us seeking to understand the role of analysis in the policy-making process. The second edition adds to that value by extending assessment to the contemporary period of increased globalization, sharpened political polarization, and ever more complex organizational environments. This book should be read by all policy analysts and the researchers who study them."

—David L. Weimer, Edwin E. Witte Professor of Political Economy, University of Wisconsin-Madison

978-1-58901-958-4, paperback, $26.95

China's Sent-Down Generation

Public Administration and the Legacies of Mao's Rustication Program

Helena K. Rene

"The book clearly shows the relevancy of public administration to the Chinese rustication policy and it is the first of its kind to examine a major policy of the Cultural Revolution through the lenses of public administration and policy. . . . This book should be required reading for all public administration students."

—Norma Riccucci, professor, Rutgers University, Newark

Interest Groups and Health Care Reform across the United States

Virginia Gray, David Lowery, and Jennifer K. Benz

"The foremost scholars of interest groups take on the major domestic issue of our time—health care reform. By using the multitude of state actions in this area over the past generation, Gray, Lowery, and Benz shed more light on the politics of health care in the United States than ten books on the PPACA."

Political Bubbles

Financial Crises and the Failure of American Democracy

Nolan McCarty, Keith T. Poole & Howard Rosenthal

“This extremely interesting book subtly argues that political bubbles are an important dimension of financial bubbles. Financial bubbles are caused by exuberant expectations and greed, but political bubbles are about how institutions channel ideology and interest into outcomes. The authors make clear how polarization produces gridlock and leads reformers to prefer regulation over legislation—with attendant problems.”

—James Alt, Harvard University

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-14501-3

The Muslim Brotherhood

Evolution of an Islamist Movement
Carrie Rosefsky Wickham

“Given the profound political changes taking place in Egypt today, Wickham’s in-depth, richly composed, and intimate analysis of the Muslim Brotherhood has never been so relevant or timely. This is a first-rate book on an important topic, written by a distinguished scholar, and utilizing an impressive array of sources.”

—John P. Entelis, Fordham University

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-14940-0

The Terrorist's Dilemma

Managing Violent Covert Organizations

Jacob N. Shapiro

“The Terrorist's Dilemma expertly incorporates organizational perspectives into the study of terrorism, producing a theoretically insightful and empirically rich work that upends many conventional assumptions. Shapiro proves that differences within the chain of command, management weaknesses, and other problems common to organizations of all stripes plague terrorist groups and offer numerous opportunities to fight them better.”

—Daniel Byman, Georgetown University

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-15721-4

War Powers

The Politics of Constitutional Authority

Mariah Zeisberg

“Zeisberg’s book on war powers brings you in, stops you short, and forces you to reassess your own assumptions. Taking war powers scholarship in a new direction, this book encourages engagement with the right set of issues, asks the right questions, and is a breath of fresh air.”

—Stephen Griffin, Tulane University Law School

He Runs, She Runs

Why Gender Stereotypes Do Not Harm Women Candidates

Deborah Jordan Brooks

“It seems almost a given that women face a range of disadvantages as political candidates. In this book, Brooks does a masterful job setting up the conventional wisdom before showing that the conventional wisdom is wrong. Accessible, timely, and important, He Runs, She Runs takes on a question that will interest a wide range of people—scholars and political observers alike.”

Partisan Balance

Why Political Parties Don't Kill the U.S. Constitutional System

David R. Mayhew

“David Mayhew illuminates a previously confusing aspect of American politics: the extent to which the U.S. Congress since World War II has concurred with or rejected presidents’ major legislative proposals. As always, Mayhew’s careful analysis of data and sensitivity to political factors produce definitive and surprising conclusions.”

2013–2014 Call for Applications

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Scholars in Health Policy Research

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Scholars in Health Policy Research program helps to develop a new generation of creative health policy thinkers and researchers within the disciplines of economics, political science and sociology. Each year, the program selects up to nine highly qualified individuals for two-year fellowships at one of three nationally prominent universities with the expectation that they will make important research contributions to future U.S. health policy.

The participating universities are: Harvard University; the University of California, Berkeley and San Francisco; and the University of Michigan.

Applicants who expect to begin training in August 2014 must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents at the time of application and have received a doctoral degree after January 1, 2009 but no later than July 2014. For those applicants who expect to receive degrees in 2014, all degree requirements must be completed by July 15, 2014.

Application Deadline
October 8, 2013

The complete call for applications is available on the Foundation's website at www.rwjf.org/cfp/scholarsinhealthpolicyresearch and the program's website at www.healthpolicyscholars.org or by calling (617) 353-9220.

About the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation focuses on the pressing health and health care issues facing our country. As the nation's largest philanthropy devoted exclusively to improving the health and health care of all Americans, we work with a diverse group of organizations and individuals to identify solutions and achieve comprehensive, meaningful and timely change.

For more than 40 years we've brought experience, commitment and a rigorous, balanced approach to the problems that affect the health and health care of those we serve. When it comes to helping Americans lead healthier lives and get the care they need, we expect to make a difference in your lifetime.

For more information visit www.rwjf.org. Follow the Foundation on Twitter at www.rwjf.org/twitter or on Facebook at www.rwjf.org/facebook.
