THE World Peace Foundation is a nonprofit organization which was founded in 1910 by Edwin Ginn, the educational publisher, for the purpose of promoting peace, justice, and goodwill among nations.

For many years the Foundation has sought to increase public understanding of international problems by an objective presentation of the facts of international relations.

Recently, increased attention has been focused on international organization through the publication of this journal and the maintenance of a library specializing in documents and publications of governmental international organizations and secondary sources in the field.

Prize Award for 1966

The Board of Editors of International Organization is pleased to offer a 1966 Prize Award of $300 and publication in International Organization to the author of the best adjudged manuscript submitted in the field of international organizational affairs by an author not more than 32 years of age.

The Prize Award competition for 1966 will be focused on the United Nations and the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

Authors may choose their own subject, but manuscripts will be considered only to the extent that they are related to the broader theme mentioned above.

Manuscripts must not exceed 30 double-spaced, 8½" by 11", typewritten pages, including citations and footnotes. They should be plainly marked as manuscripts submitted for the Award, and must be accompanied by a curriculum vitae of the author, including the date and place of his birth. In order to be considered for the competition, the manuscript must be submitted by June 20, 1966, to the editorial office (40 Mt. Vernon Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02108).

In reviewing the manuscripts, the Board will pay particular attention to their scholarly character, originality, relevance to some aspect of the main theme, and quality of style and composition.

All manuscripts will become the property of the Board of Editors. The Board reserves the right to make no award if, in its judgment, no manuscript is deemed suitable for the Prize Award.
