

---

NEWS

---

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

Special Meetings on Latin America

Meeting on Interface Institutions in Mesoamerica—Evanston, Ill. May 19–20, 1966

—but overlooked—meeting. Papers included: Cuicatec Cacique by Robert Hunt, An Agrarian Cacique by Paul Friedrich, Brokers in Tlaxcala and Puebla by Hugo Nutini, Educational Brokers by Eva Hunt, Leaders, Education and Factionalism in Amatenango by June Nash, Acculturation and Brokers in Zinacantan by Frank Cancian, The Patron Saint as Broker—Chinautla by Ben Reina, Cacique and Teacher, Brokers in Yalcuc by Frank Miller, and A Model of Caciquismo in Chiapas by Julian Pitt-Rivers. The conference, sponsored by the Joint Committee on Latin America of the Social Science Research Council and the American Council of Learned Societies, was organized by Robert Hunt, Department of Anthropology, University of Illinois at Chicago Circle, Chicago, Illinois 60680.

Nine anthropologists working in Mesoamerica contributed papers on the subject of brokers in the multiple society at this important

Princeton University Conference on Intervention and the Developing States Princeton, November 10–11, 1967

various topics relating to international intervention were the mode of procedure; discussions were along general lines, with some references to Latin American examples. Two dinner speeches dealt specifically with Latin America: Some Aspects of the Doctrine of Non-Intervention in Latin America by Carlos Mantilla Ortega, Ambassador from Ecuador to the United States, and Toward a Doctrine of Positive Interdependence by Lincoln Gordon, president of Johns

The Princeton International Law Society sponsored this conference, which was organized by Warren B. Buhler. A series of panels on Hopkins University. For information, please write Warren B. Buhler, Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

Conference for Corporation Executives
Washington, D.C., December 7–8, 1967

Theme of the invitational conference was Latin America: Economic Integration; this meeting was one in a series of meetings, sponsored by the School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, which are specifically designed to present issues and topics of current importance to American business in its overseas operation. Paper topics at the sessions included: Financial Aspects of Economic Integration by Pedro Abelardo Delgado, IDB; Viewpoints of the U. S. Government by Donald K. Palmer, U. S. Department of State; The U. S. Interests in Latin American Economic Integration by Jacob K. Javits, U. S. Senator from New York; Two Different Ways of Dealing with Latin American Economic Integration: Argentina's Position by Alvaro C. Alsogaray, Ambassador to the United States from Argentina; Problems and Prospects of Economic Integration in Latin America by Luis Escobar, World Bank; Problems of Foreign Private Investment in Latin America by Paul Rosenstein-Rodan, MIT; The Future of Foreign Investment Within a Latin American Common Market by Miguel S. Wionczek, Center for Latin American Monetary Studies; Expectations for Economic Integration in Latin America by Juan D. Sanchez, First National City Bank; Lessons of the Central American Common Market by Hubert F. Havlik, World Bank; and Doing Business in LAFTA by Richard S. Aldrich, International Basic Economy Corporation. All talks and discussions were strictly off the record.

Conference on the Population of Latin America—Ithaca
January 24–27, 1968

The International Population Program and the Department of Sociology, with support from the Latin American Studies Program, of Cornell University sponsored an undergraduate conference on Latin American population problems, organized by Parker Marden. Participants included 30 undergraduate students from universities with course offerings in population studies, 10 instructors from those schools, and 30 invited Cornell upperclassmen. Papers were presented at the meeting by: Henry A. Landsberger, Cornell University, on The Social Context for Population Dynamics in Latin America; Philander Claxton, U. S. Department of State, on United States Policy Towards Latin American Population Growth; Carmen Miró, Centro Latinoamericano de Demografía (CELADE), on Population Growth in Latin America; Robert O. Carleton, CELADE, on Socio-Cultural Factors Affecting Fertility in Latin America; J. Mayone Stycos, Cornell University, on Population Policies in Latin America; Harley Browning, University of Texas, on Internal Migration and Urbanization in Latin America; George C. Myers, Cornell University, on Migration, Urbanization, and Fertility; and Alvaro Lopez, Universidad de los Andes, on Population and Economic Development in Latin America. The conference speeches and additional materials will form the basis for a book to be published in late 1968 by Oxford University Press. Information is available from Susan Horton, secretary, Latin American Program, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. 14850.

Latin America in the Last Third of the Twentieth Century—Mexico City
March 7–10, 1968

One of a number of foreign study seminars sponsored by the Institute on Man and Science, the meeting was attended by invited specialists in Latin American studies, businessmen, and government officials from Western Hemisphere nations. Sessions considered: Democracy's Future in Latin America; The Development of Science and the Impact of Modern Technology on Latin America; The Relations of Political to Economic Development; and Ideological Alternatives in the Context of Democracy—What will be the direction of the New Left? Information is available from Nanette B. Rodney, director, The Institute on Man and Science, 325 East 41st St., New York, N. Y. 10017.

Latin America in Transition: Problems in Training and Research
Stony Brook, March 22–23, 1968

The State University of New York at Stony Brook was host to a group of scholars who focused their attention on the problems and opportunities for training and research in the scholarly disciplines concerned with Latin America. Topics of the sessions included: Preparing the Investigators for a Changing Hemisphere, chaired by Pedro Carrasco, and featuring a panel discussion by Richard N. Adams, Richard M. Morse, Calvin P. Blair, Frank N. Dauster, and Howard F. Cline; Identity in Latin America, chaired by Stanley R. Ross, and with a dinner address by Leopoldo Zea; Research Opportunities and Problems, chaired by Marvin D. Bernstein, and featuring a speech by Charles Wagley and commentaries by Antonio Alatorre and Magnus Mörner; and Collaboration in Research: Interdisciplinary and International, chaired by Frank G. Carrino, with speaker Kalman H. Silvert and commentators Orlando Fals Borda, Richard W. Patch, and Stanley J. Stein. Throughout the meeting, an art show with works by four Latin American artists was held, and in the evenings Lope de Vega's Fuente Ovejuna was presented at the University Theatre. Publication of the conference proceedings will be made possible by the State of New York Education Department's Conversations in the Disciplines program.

Latin American Research Review

Seminar on Social Science and Urban Development in Latin America
Jahuel, Chile, April 22–25, 1968

Co-sponsored by the Centro Interdisciplinario de Desarrollo Urbano (CIDU) of the Universidad Católica de Chile, and the Ford

Foundation, the seminar was attended by invited Latin American, European, and North American social scientists, policy planners and advisors in Latin American countries, and Ford Foundation representatives. Topics of consideration at the sessions were represented by the paper titles: The Role of Cities in National Development by John Friedmann, Changes in the Social Order and the Latin American City by Carlos Delgado, Urbanization and Political Development in Latin America by Robert Daland, Urbanization, Regional Development, and Latin American Integration by Walter Stöhr and Poul Pederson, and National Urbanization Policies by Harry Cole. Prepared comments were delivered by four persons on the content of the papers. Work groups discussed various theoretical and technical issues, then delivered written statements of their conclusions to the meeting. Information may be requested from John P. Netherton, Ford Foundation, Urban and Regional Development Advisory Program, Santo Domingo 504, Of. 81, Santiago, Chile.

Regional Literacy Seminar for International Non-Governmental Organization Leaders
Colombia, April 22–30, 1968

Literacy as a Factor in Development was the theme of this meeting, sponsored by the World Assembly of Youth as a training program for non-governmental organizations engaged in literacy work in the countries of Colombia, Peru, Ecuador, Bolivia, Venezuela, and Brazil. Delegates considered practical projects used in the countries, discussed other methods to promote literacy programs, studied organization and planning problems, and considered the availability and potential use of visual aids and literature. Information is available from Piet Dijkstra, Assistant Secretary-General, World Assembly of Youth, 66, rue St. Bernard, Brussels 6, Belgium.

1st Annual Symposium of Art History
Austin, April 25–28, 1968

A public symposium on the history of art featured two papers on Latin American art: The Ballcourt in Mesoamerica: Its Architectural Development by Jacinto Quirarte, University of Texas, and The Philosophy of Pre-Columbian Art by Terence Grieder, University of Texas. Information is available from Ralph White, acting chairman, Department of Art, University of Texas, Austin 78712.

The Economic Integration of Latin America—The Movement Toward Latin American Unity—Palo Alto
May 9–11, 1968

was to assess the viability of Latin American integration in various fields, as well as its feasibility. The difficulty in assessing realistically the possibility of successful integration, and what steps are involved in the integration process and its planning were considered by participants. In attendance were nearly 300 invited specialists. About 60 papers were presented and discussed; the bulk of the papers are to be included in a volume published by the sponsoring institution. The papers formed the core of sessions which considered historical review, trade and payments, country and area studies, investment, financing, and industry, science and technology, education and culture, legal and political aspects of integration, relations between the United States and Latin America, telecommunications, and social aspects of integration. Major addresses were delivered by Sidney Dell, on Obstacles to Latin American Integration, Arthur P. Whitaker, on Changing Ideas of Integration in Latin America Since 1810, Joseph Grunwald, on Reflections on Latin American Integration, and Joseph A. Silberstein, on The United States and Latin American Economic Integration. During the conference, sessions were held to consider plans for reviving the Hispanic American Report, which is to be published by a consortium of universities, each school preparing particular sections of the journal (see LARR III:1, p. 137 and 159–160). Information is available from Ronald Hilton, Executive Director, California Institute of International Studies, 766 Santa Ynez, Stanford, California 94305.

The California Institute of International Studies sponsored this conference, with the aid of a grant from the Inter-American Development Bank. Aim of the sessions

Recurring Meetings

52nd Annual Meeting of Association for the Study of Negro Life and History
Greensboro, N. C., October 12–15, 1967

Schuler, St. Mary's College, Indiana, on Ethnic Slave Rebellions in the Caribbean and South America, and Herbert S. Klein, University of Chicago, on Negro Slavery in Late Colonial and Imperial Brazil. Two other papers are of interest: Influences of African Cult Music in the Americas by John A. Sweeney, Morgan State College, and Repatriation of Brazilian Slaves and Freeman in West Africa by Richard D. Ralston, Immaculate Heart College

One session on Slavery in Latin America, chaired by George Cunningham, Texas Southern University, featured papers by Monica of Los Angeles. Program chairman for the conference was Walter Fisher, Department of History, Morgan State College, Baltimore, Maryland 21212.

Latin American Research Review

4th Commonwealth Caribbean Heads of Government Conference—Barbados
October 23–27, 1967

Eighty-five delegates and observers from Commonwealth countries, Caribbean universities, and international organizations attended this meeting which featured discussions on: 1) regional integration measures; 2) regional institutions; 3) travel and communications; and 4) other regional matters, such as education, technical assistance programs, and problems of internal and regional security in the Caribbean. Plans were formulated for the establishment of a Caribbean Development Bank; an inter-governmental committee was appointed to draft the Bank charter and decide on a location for its headquarters.

3rd Seminar on Organization and Administration of Health Services
Paramaribo, Surinam, November 2–18, 1967

The Pan American Health Organization sponsored this meeting, with the collaboration of the government of Surinam. Participants discussed matters of organizational reforms in the health services of the Caribbean region, physical facilities for health services, a survey of health facilities in the West Indies, and plans for medical care. A Final Report (Doc. CSO 3/25) has been published by PAHO, and is available from the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, 525 Twenty-third St., N. W., Washington, D. C. 20037.

6th Special Meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council
Washington, D.C., January 18–19, 1968

Of primary concern at the sessions was approval of a program of statutes for the Centro Interamericano de Promoción de Exportaciones, of which establishment was recommended at the annual meeting of the Council at Viña del Mar, June 1967, and for which the statutes were drawn up in October 1967 by a committee of government experts. The organizational statutes were approved, and the site of Bogotá agreed upon as the headquarters for the Centro. An Informe Final concerning the meeting has been published by the Pan American Union.

2nd U.S.-Brazil Workshop on the Contribution of Science and Technology to Development—Williamstown, Mass.
February 4–9, 1968

Sponsoring agencies for the meeting, organized by Victor Rabinowitch, were the National Academy of Sciences and the Conselho Nacional de Pesquisas, Brazil.

Nineteen U.S. and Brazilian scientists, engineers, and government officials participated in a panel discussion of science policy in Brazil and the United States, chaired by Carroll Wilson, MIT, and in a review of the progress of the Joint U.S.-Brazil Study Groups on Agricultural Research, Agricultural Economics, Industrial Research, Mineral Resources, and Norms, Measurements and Testing, which were established after the first workshop held in 1966. Study groups in chemistry and computer science were proposed. Information may be requested from the Science Organization Development Staff, National Academy of Sciences, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D. C. 20418.

5th Meeting of Inter-American Cultural Council—Caracas
February 15–22, 1968

In an attempt to carry out the recommendations made at the meeting of western hemisphere Presidents in April 1967, participants approved the establishment of a special development fund with separate accounts which would give cohesion and continuity to inter-American efforts at improving education and science. Multinational efforts in projects to develop research, experimentation, and innovation, and to advance the training of educational personnel, are to be organized by two newly-created ICC committees, which will draft budgets and specific programs in their respective fields of science and education. Further business included consideration of the manner of increasing international resources for education in Latin America and the expansion of OAS programs for fellowships, student loans, and teacher exchanges. Adaptation of the functioning of the Inter-American Cultural Council (ICC) to the spirit of the Protocol of Amendment to the Charter of the OAS (approved at the 3rd Special Inter-American Conference; see LARR III:1, pp. 136–137) was the subject of a resolution at the meeting. A new president of ICC was elected: Brazil's Minister of Education Tarso Dutra. Documents concerning the topics discussed at the meeting are available from the Department of Educational Affairs, Pan American Union, Washington, D. C. 20006.

Annual Meeting of the Association for the Advancement of International Education
Atlantic City, February 16, 1968

In order to evaluate present programs and projections for the future, discussion groups of regional overseas operations met together.

The Latin American session, attended by approximately 80 persons, considered the present status and methods of achieving greater success and participation for the School-to-School Project, a system which pairs a Latin American secondary school with a U. S. school or school system for the internationalizing of education in both areas. Information regarding the Project is available from Edward W. Rushton, president, Association for the Advancement of International Education, Inc., Charlottesville Public Schools, 1562 Dairy Road, Charlottesville, Virginia 22903.

Latin American Research Review

Annual Meeting of CHEAR
Lima, February 25–March 1, 1968

of the hemisphere discussed graduate training programs in agricultural research, professionalization of management education and the university, and the fields of agriculture, science, and educational technology in regard to the university. Papers were delivered by Clifford M. Hardin, University of Nebraska, Kenneth S. Pitzer, Rice University, and Wilbur Schramm, Stanford University. Selected commentary of conference discussions is being published by CHEAR, c/o Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, N. Y. 10017.

At the sessions of the Conference on Higher Education in the American Republics, leading educators

3rd Annual Meeting of Southern Anthropological Society
Gainesville, February 29–March 2, 1968

Adams, University of Texas, chairman; papers by Michael Micklin, Tulane University, on Methodological Problems in the Anthropological Study of Cities in Latin America; Richard P. Schaedel, University of Texas, on The Central Issue in the Anthropological Study of Cities in Latin America; Emilio Willems, Vanderbilt University, on Urban Classes as Subcultures in Latin America; and Anthony Leeds, University of Texas, on Certain Issues in the Anthropology of Cities. Other papers on Latin America included: Some Problems of Urban Anthropology in Latin America by Michael Olien, University of Georgia; The Family in Urban Migration in Mexico by E. Lamar Ross, Lee College; The Reorganization of Counties in the Bolivian Highlands by Hans Buechler, University of Montreal; Village Politics, Modern Technology, and Water from the Well of the Virgin by Asael T. Hansen, University of Alabama; "Amoral Familism" and Social Change in a Spanish Village by Joseph B. Aceves, University of Georgia; Subcultural Diversity Within a Mexican Municipality by Luise Margolies, Columbia University; Social Stratification and Social Change in the Western Caribbean: San Andrés Island by Jay Edwards, Louisiana State University; Symbolic Communication in Baptismal and Mourning Ceremonies among the Shouters of Trinidad by Franklin Loveland, Duke University; and Peruvian Values Revealed by Turmoil by Henry F. Dobyns, University of Kentucky. Proceedings of the meeting are to be published by the University of Georgia Press, Charles Hudson, editor. Program chairman of the meeting was

One key symposium featured Latin American content: Anthropology and Latin American Urbanization, with Richard N.

William E. Carter, Department of Anthropology, University of Florida, Gainesville 32601.

10th World Conference of the Society for International Development
Washington, D.C., March 6–9, 1968

International Development—Accomplishments and Apprehensions was the theme of the meeting, which scheduled panel workshops on Latin America during one afternoon. Topics of consideration at the workshops were: Promotion of Export Markets Inside and Outside the Region, with Pedro Iraneta, IDB, presiding, and panelists José C. Cardenas, IDB, and Isaiah Frank, Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies; Education for Development, with Luis Escobar, World Bank, presiding, and Bernard Grossling, U. S. Geological Survey, and José Vera, IDB, on the panel; Fertilizers and Contraceptives, presided over by José A. Guerra, World Bank, with Rémy Freire, Pan American Union, and Quentin West, U.S. Department of Agriculture, as panelists; and Have Economists Said Their Final Word in the Fight Against Inflation?, with Robert Triffin, Yale University, presiding, and panel members E. M. Bernstein, EMB Ltd., and Emile Despres, Stanford University. At a plenary session on Africa and Latin America, an address was delivered by Roberto de Oliveira Campos, former Minister of Economic Planning, Brazil.

Annual Institute on Business Transactions in Latin America—Miami Beach
March 15–16, 1968

The annual Institute of Recent Innovations in the Structure and Methods of Business Transactions in Latin America was designed to examine existing laws, pertinent organizations, and economic and political structures which affect business investment. Speakers included: George L. Christopher on Trade Advantages and Problems Created by the Central American Common Market; Donald K. Palmer on Problems and Prospects of Economic Integration in Latin America; Soia Mentschikoff on The Day to Day Problems of Trading with Latin America: Export Licenses, Credit Instruments, Shipping and Insurance Problems; Stanley Metzger on The Meaning of the Kennedy Round to United States Trade with Latin America; Burton A. Landy on The Role of the U. S. Lawyer: Selection of Latin American Counsel, Choosing the Form of Doing Business and Sources of Latin American Law; R. A. Argueta on A Latin American Businessman's View of Doing Business with Private United States Companies; Joseph Guttentag on Recent Developments in U. S. Tax Systems and Their Effect on Doing Business in Latin America; Marshall Langer on Recent Developments in Latin American Tax Systems and Their Effect on Doing Business in Latin America; Leigh Miller on

Latin American Research Review

Current Efforts of the Agency for International Development to Increase Private Investment in Latin America; Warren Glick on Recent Developments in Exim-Bank's Activities; Paul Garrigue, Jr. on The Foreign Credit Insurance Association (FCIA) Insurance Program; R. B. J. Richards on The Expanding Role of the International Finance Corporation; Elting Arnold on Recent Developments in the Activities of the Inter-American Development Bank; and Walter S. Surrey on Practical Guides for the Lawyer and Businessman in Dealing with the Lending Agencies. A luncheon address was delivered by Covey T. Oliver, Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs.

Annual Meeting of Western Political Science Association and Pacific Northwest Political Science Association—Seattle
March 21–23, 1968

An entire session was devoted to Cuba's Continuing Revolution: International and Domestic Implications. George I. Blanksten was chairman; speakers and topics were Edward Gonzalez, UCLA, on Cuba Revisited: Fidel's Combative Internal and External Revolutions, and Richard R. Fagen, Stanford University, on Transformation of Political Culture under Castro. Information is available from Bernard L. Hyink, vice president, Western Political Science Association, Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, California State College at Fullerton, 800 North State College Blvd., Fullerton, California 92631.

National Conference on Public Administration—Boston
March 27–30, 1968

Theme of the meeting of the American Society for Public Administration was Intergovernmental Relationships in a Changing Society. One panel session considered Development Models for Public Administration in Latin America; Clarence Thurber, University of Oregon, was chairman, and panel members were Jorge Ide, OAS Administration Section, and Saul M. Katz, University of Pittsburgh. For information, write Ray D. Pethtel, American Society for Public Administration, 1329 Eighteenth St., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20036.

9th Annual National Convention of International Studies Association
Washington, D.C., March 28–30, 1968

Several topics of consideration at panel discussions had broad relevance to Latin American interests.

In particular, the panel session on New Patterns in Regional Cooperation and U. S. Foreign Policy included a paper by Philippe C. Schmitter, University of Chicago, on Latin America, and the panel session concerned with Interaction Between Economic and Political Development included papers by Roger Hansen on Lessons from Latin America and David Bronheim, Harvard University, on Lessons from the Alliance for Progress. Lincoln Gordon, president of Johns Hopkins University, was featured speaker at the main banquet. A session on the status of federal programs in international education was held, with the cooperation of HEW officials and chaired by Paul A. Miller, Assistant Secretary for Education, U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Some of the papers read at the meeting are to be published in the International Studies Quarterly. Information regarding the meeting is available from the program chairman, Alfred Fernbach, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, University of Virginia, Charlottesville 22901.

3rd Inter-American Conference of Partners of the Alliance for Progress—Lima March 31–April 4, 1968

The Community in Action was the theme of this meeting which was organized by Will Pirkey and Eduardo Dibos. Attendance was by representatives of the 33 partnerships between U. S. states and the District of Columbia and Latin American countries, states, or regions. Four prime areas of discussion were agriculture, business and industry, education, and public health. Working papers compiled by committees on those topics were distributed to the delegates prior to the conference. Major addresses were delivered by Edward Marcus, president of the National Association of the Partners of the Alliance, Inc. (NAPA), and by Fernando Belaunde Terry, President of Peru. Information is available from Ed Edstrom, director of Public Information, Partners of the Alliance Program, NAPA, 1518 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

Seminar for Businessmen, Government
Staff, and Others Professionally Interested in Latin America—London, April 2–5, 1968

The Northern Republics of Latin America was the theme of the meeting which was organized by R. A. Humphreys and Harold

Blakemore of the Institute of Latin American Studies, University of London. Papers included: at a session on Mexico—Recent Political Trends in Mexico by Peter Calvert, Southampton University; Agricultural Issues by R. T. F. King, University of Cambridge; and Urbanization and Economic Development by David Fox, University of Manchester; at the session on Mexico and Central America—Mexican Financial Institutions by Michael Black, Baring Brothers Ltd.; Trade with Mexico by W. J. M. Longmore, Bank of London and South America; and The Central American Common Market by David Browning, St. Antony's College, Oxford, and Hugh Holley, Bank of London and South America; at a session on Colombia—Colombian Politics: The Party Battle by Alan Angell, St. Antony's College; Industrial Development in Colombia by Ian Scott, University of Durham; and Coffee and the Colombian Economy by

Latin American Research Review

Hector Jaramillo, International Coffee Organization; at the session on Venezuela—The Recent Political History of Venezuela by D. G. Waddell, University of Edinburgh; The City as Center of Change in Modern Venezuela by David Robinson, University College, London; Energy Requirements and Potential by Peter Odell, London School of Economics; and Brains Trust by George Hall, British Foreign Office, Sir James Joint, former ambassador to Latin America, and Sir John Walker, Hispanic and Luso Brazilian Councils. Inquiries concerning the meeting should be addressed to Miss Molly Pulver, executive secretary, Institute of Latin American Studies, 31, Tavistock Square, London, W. C. 1, England.

Comparative Education Society
Midwest Regional Conference
Urbana, April 4–5, 1968

Theme of the meeting was The Functions and Dysfunctions of Education in Nation Building. Robert Myers, University of Chicago, delivered a paper on Functions and Dysfunctions of Education Abroad—The Peruvian Case. In charge of organizing the meeting was Alan Peshkin, Department of Education, University of Illinois, Urbana 61801.

2nd International Conference on Pidginization and Creolization
Mona, Jamaica, April 9–12, 1968

The Social Science Research Council and the University of the West Indies co-sponsored this meeting, which had as its theme The Social and Cultural Matrix Within Which Pidginization and Creolization Take Place. Forty-three linguistics specialists, representing universities and institutions in the United States, England, Caribbean islands, and nations bordering on the Caribbean considered pidgin and creole languages and their cultural and social correlates in various areas of the world. The majority of papers concerned themselves with the Caribbean region: The Cultural Matrix of Caribbean Dialects by Mervyn Alleyne, Jamaican Creole: Can Dialect Boundaries Be Defined? by Beryl Bailey, The Pidgin Element in Jamaican Creole by Frederic G. Cassidy, Some Sociolinguistic Factors Relevant to Caribbean English Creole by Dennis R. Craig, Toward A Generative Analysis of a Post-Creole Speech Continuum by David DeCamp, Kongo Words in Saramacca Tongo by Jan Daelemann, Questions of Prestige in Language Choice in a Multilingual Setting by Christian Eersel, Creole Studies by John J. Figueroa, A Provisional Comparison of the English-Based Atlantic Creoles, With Accompanying Word Lists by Ian F. Hancock, The Question of Creolization in a Dialect of Spanish: Puerto Rico by David Lawton, Some Aspects of the Historical Process of Creolization by Robert B. Le Page, Linguistic Values and Cultural Values in an Antigua Village by Karl Reisman, The Language Situation in Haiti by Albert Valdman, Church

Creole in Surinam by Jan Voorhoeve, Linguistic Hybridization and the "Special Case" of Pidgins and Creoles by Keith Whinnom, and Current Research on the Language Situation of Guyana by D. Bickerton. Publication of papers and proceedings of the meeting is planned. Information is available from the organizers, Dell Hymes, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia 19104, or Gertrud Buscher, University of the West Indies, Mona, Jamaica.

University of Houston 3rd Annual Conference on Latin America
Houston, April 11–13, 1968

Contemporary Latin America was the theme of the meeting, which was organized by the Committee on Latin American Studies of the University of Houston. Papers delivered were: United States-Latin American Policy: Where We Stand Now by Charles A. Bacarisse, University of Houston (U of H); Party Identification and Political Attitudes in Mexico by William J. Blough, U of H; Political Organization and Instability: The Industrial Elite of Coastal Ecuador by Norris G. Lang, U of H; Avant Garde Trends in Contemporary Brazilian Literature by María Teresa Leal de Martínez, Rice University; Julio Cortazar's Short Stories by Richard F. Allen, U of H; Roberto Arlt by Santiago J. J. Luppoli, University of Texas; La crisis del hombre actual a través de dos autores hispanoamericanos: Alejo Carpentier y Julio Cortazar by Jaime Valdivieso, Stephen F. Austin State College; The San Blas Indian Sociedad as a Vehicle for Economic Development by Gloria E. Shatto, U of H; Londrina and Piracicaba: Urban Foci of Two Regional Monocultures by Charles A. Pieper, U of H; Population Trends in Latin America by Alfonso González, University of Calgary; Structural Reform in Latin American Universities by Frank M. Tiller, U of H; an illustrated lecture on the Marimba: National Musical Instrument of Guatemala by Carlos H. Monsanto, Sam Houston State College; and a keynote address on The Essay and Latin America by Germán Arciniegas, Colombian ambassador to Venezuela. Further information is available from the Committee on Latin American Studies, Office of International Affairs, University of Houston, Houston, Texas 77004.

Annual Meeting of Southwestern
Social Science Association
Dallas, April 11–13, 1968

A substantial number of papers dealt with Latin American topics: Export Tax Theory in Developing Countries: The Venezuelan

Experience by Mary Fish, University of Alabama; The Spatial and Social Mobility of the Syrian and Lebanese Community of São Paulo by Clark S. Knowlton, University of Texas at El Paso; Negro Fighters for Freedom in Latin American Revolutions by Paul L. Sanford, Southern University, New Orleans; Santiago Vidaurri and the Confederacy by Ronnie C. Tyler, Austin College;

Latin American Research Review

The Bandeirantes by Gordon Kenyon, Southern Colorado State College; and Ethnic Group Identity and Orientations toward Educational Attainment: A Comparison of Mexican-American and Anglo Boys by Rinaldo Z. Juarez and William P. Kuvlesky, Texas A & M University. At a session on The Role of Political Parties in Crisis Situations in Latin America, papers were delivered by Marvin Alisky, Arizona State University, on Uruguayan Political Parties For-sake the Plural Presidency in Time of Crisis, and by Paul Lewis, Tulane University, on Argentine Political Parties in the Crisis of the 1960's. Two papers were delivered at a session on The Organization of American States and Collective Security: The OAS and U. S. Containment Policy by William R. Garner, Southern Illinois University, and The Origin and Development of the Inter-American Peace Committee by E. A. deShazo, Southwest Texas State College; a related paper was UN vs. OAS in Latin America by Keith S. Petersen, North Carolina State University. General program chairman of the meeting was Anthony S. Lis, professor of Business Communication, University of Oklahoma, Norman 73069.

12th International Congress of Romance Linguistics and Philology
Bucharest, April 15–20, 1968

At least 40 persons from Latin America attended the meeting, which featured treatises on the languages of the western hemisphere in a session on Romance Idioms Outside the Territory of the Old Romania. Papers covered the topics of neologisms in the administrative language of Chile, indigenous linguistic influences in Entre Rios, Argentina, polyvalence of the verb dar in southern Brazil, the use of personal pronouns in the Cuban variation of Spanish, and methodological questions of American Spanish. Full texts of papers and discussions are to be published by the publishing house of the Rumanian Academy. Further information may be requested of Marius Sala, assistant secretary, Comité d'Organisation, XII<sup>e</sup> Congrès International de Linguistique et Philologie Romanes, 22, I. S. Frimu, Bucarest, Roumanie.

6th Congress of Inter-American Indian Institute—Pátzcuaro
April 15–21, 1968

Nine working sessions, operating with the theme Socio-Economic Problems in Indian Communities and Programs of Indian Communities Development, considered the topics of systems of population, economic problems of land tenancy and deficient production, education vis à vis indigenous languages, communications, public health and sanitation problems, Indians of the arid zones, Indians of special ecological areas—agricultural base in the selva or tropics, effects of technological advances on the organization of indigenous communities, and training of personnel for Indian labor. For information, write Alfonso Caso, director, National Indian Institute, Av. Revolución 1279, México D. F., Mexico.

17th National Congress of Sociology
Mexico City—April 22–26, 1968

The International Association of Sociology of UNESCO sponsored the congress which had as its theme The Sociology of Art. Topics of consideration included general theory of art: painting, sculpture, and architecture, music, literature, religion and art, the movies, criticism in art, variations of art, censorship, and art and rights. Information is available from Lucio Mendieta y Nuñez, Providencia 330, México, D. F., Mexico.

The Sociedad Mexicana de Geografía y Estadística and the Asociación Mexicana de Sociología of

21st University of Kentucky
Foreign Language Conference
Lexington, April 25–27, 1968

and Brazilian Literature, organized by John E. Keller, and chaired by Merlin Forster, University of Illinois, featured The Cronica—A New Genre in Brazilian Literature? by Gerald M. Moser, Pennsylvania State University, and The Brazilian Novel of the Sea by Earl W. Thomas, Vanderbilt University. The Spanish section, organized by Joseph R. Jones, featured the following papers: The Contemporary Peruvian Short Story as a Mirror of Social Reality by Earl M. Aldrich, Jr., University of Wisconsin; Manuel Zapata Olivella y el "cuento negro" by Kurt L. Levy, University of Toronto; Sistema y azar en los cuentos de J. L. Borges by Marta Morrello-Frosch, Ohio State University; and Recent Developments in the Brazilian Short Story by Alex E. Severino, University of Texas. Information is available from the organizing professors, at the Department of Spanish and Italian, 311 Bradley Hall, University of Kentucky, Lexington 40506.

Participating scholars operated under the theme Recent Developments in the Latin American Short Story. A session on Portuguese

27th Annual Meeting of Society for Applied Anthropology
Oakland/Berkeley, April 25–28, 1968

In a session on Health and Social Change: Contrasting Strategies in Community and Organization Development, Paul L. Doughty, Indiana University, discussed the Community Modernization Program at Vicos, Peru. Program chairmen for the meeting were Clifford R. Barnett, Stanford University, and Homer G. Barnett, University of Oregon.

Latin American Research Review

Comparative Education Society
Northeastern Regional Conference
Albany, N. Y., May 2–4, 1968

entirely with the determination of educational policies in Latin America; papers at that session included: The Autonomous University in Latin America and the Formation of Educational Policy by Richard G. King, Harvard University; The Peruvian Teacher in Social and Educational Development by William Sayres, Columbia University; and Interaction of Secondary Students' Goals and Educational Policy in Venezuela by Gordon Ruscoe, Syracuse University. Proceedings and papers delivered will be published by the State University of New York at Albany in late 1968.

Joint Meeting of Ethnologists and Anthropologists
Detroit, May 2–4, 1968

Honoring the Wayne State University Centennial, joint meetings were conducted by the American Ethnological Society and the Central States Anthropological Association. Leonard W. Moss coordinated the meeting. At the general sessions, three papers dealt with Latin American topics: Social Pluralism and Politics in Haiti by Anselme Remy; Georgetown, British Honduras: An Inland Village of Black Carib Pioneers by Nancy P. and Harold Hickerson; and The Pishtaco: Institutionalized Fear in Highland Peru by Anthony Oliver-Smith. A symposium on Social and Cultural Aspects of Modernization in Mexico was directed by the University of Minnesota, with papers by Frank C. Miller and Pertti Pelto, co-chairmen of the session, Gerald Gold, Jean Kliman and Gretal Whitaker, Barbara Simon, John J. Poggie, Jr., Timothy Roufs, and John Lozier. A three-part Symposium on Spanish-Speaking People in the United States was sponsored by the American Ethnological Society; thirteen papers were presented on such subjects as the Mexicans of the Southwest, urban experiences of Spanish-American migrants, paradoxes in Curanderismo folk tales, and Spanish-American resistance to acculturation.

33rd Annual Meeting of Society for American Archaeology—Santa Fe
May 9–11, 1968

Host institutions for the meeting were the Museum of New Mexico, the University of New Mexico, the School of American Research, the Museum of Navajo Ceremonial Art, the National Park Service, and the Institute of American Indian Arts. Latin American topics constituted a major portion of the considerations at the sessions; space limitations prohibit the listing here of individual paper titles and authors. Symposia on the Problems of Pre-Columbian New World Contacts were conducted on four occasions, each session featuring six or seven papers with relevance to Latin American archaeological and anthropological studies. Other sessions considered the archaeology of South America, Mexico, the Maya area, and the Mexico-Central America-Caribbean area; a symposium treated the organization of the Classic Maya society. Abstracts of the papers are available upon request from the program chairman, John M. Campbell, Department of Anthropology, University of New Mexico, Albuquerque 87106.

Annual Meeting of Kroeber
Anthropological Society
Berkeley, May 11, 1968

The University of California, Berkeley, sponsored the meeting, which was organized by Alan Almquist and attended by graduate students and faculty from state junior colleges and universities. Two sessions featured papers with Latin American content: 1) The Archeology at La Venta, Mexico, chaired by Richard Ambro, with papers by Lewis Napton on Recent Explorations at La Venta, James O'Connell on the Stirling Group, La Venta, Tabasco, William Clewlow on Olmec Monumental Sculpture, and Patrick Hallinan on Supraorganic Aspects of Dirt Archeology in Mexico; and 2) Meso-American and South American Ethnography, chaired by Sylvia Forman, with papers by Michael Kearney on The Aire System in Meso-America: A Symbolic Representation of Perceived Social and Geographic Environment, Robert Van Kemper on The Changing Marketplace, Political Intervention and Conservative Reaction in Pátzcuaro, Paul McDowell on Toward a Holistic Model of the Middle American Closed Corporate Community, and Patricia J. Lyon on Wachipaeri Attitudes Towards Death: The Use of Song Texts in Ethnographic Study. Next meeting of the society will be in the spring of 1969; information is available from the Kroeber Anthropological Society, Department of Anthropology, University of California, Berkeley 94720.

Annual Conference of Council of Social Science Data Archives
Pittsburgh, June 11-13, 1968

The conference, based on the theme The Use of Archives for the Study of Public Policy Issues, featured papers and symposia devoted to the uses of archives in the information-processing sciences, in order to solve such public policy problems as urban planning, civil disorders, national economic forecasting, and education of the public. Although none of the program topics related specifically to Latin America, three of the 25 participating data archives have specialized collections of Latin American material: the Latin American Data Bank at the University of Florida (see LARR II:3, p. 195), the International Development Data Bank at Michigan State University, and the International Data Library and Reference Service at the University of Cali-

Latin American Research Review

ifornia, Berkeley. Information is available from William A. Glaser, Council of Social Science Data Archives, 605 West 115th St., New York, N. Y. 10025.

Conference on Urbanization in the United States–Mexico Border Region
El Paso, June 14–15, 1968

This meeting was the second on the topic to be sponsored by the Inter-American Institute and the Department of Political Science of the University of Texas at El Paso. Organizer of the sessions was Leonard Cardenas, Jr., of the Department of Political Science. Paper titles and authors, and their respective discussants, included: Trends and Problems of Urbanization in the United States-Mexico Border Area by Leonard Cardenas, Jr., with discussant Pedro F. Hernandez, Louisiana State University; Urbanization in Baja California by John A. Price, San Diego State College, with discussant Reynaldo Ayala, University of New Mexico; Political Implications of Urbanization by Martin C. Needler, University of New Mexico, with discussant Marvin H. Alisky, Arizona State University; Cultural Resistance to Urbanization by Chester C. Christian, Jr., UT El Paso, with discussant Robert C. Fried, UCLA; The Economic Development of the Border Region by William O. Freithaler, University of Virginia, with discussant Dilmus D. James, UT El Paso; Comparative Social Structures and Attitudes Along the Border by Ellwyn R. Stoddard, UT El Paso, with discussant David C. Jordan, University of Virginia; and Urbanization in the Ciudad Juarez-El Paso Region by Nestor A. Valencia, El Paso City Planning Department. An address was delivered by Raymond L. Telles, ambassador to the U. S.-Mexican Commission for Border Development and Friendship. Further information may be requested from the Inter-American Institute, University of Texas at El Paso, El Paso, Texas 79999.

Meetings of Regional Associations of Latin American Studies

15th Annual Meeting of Southeastern Conference on Latin American Studies
Tuscaloosa, April 4–6, 1968

Members of SECOLAS, college professors, and Alabama high school teachers of Spanish were in attendance at the meeting which had as its theme The Role of Artists, Thinkers, and Writers in the Evolution of Latin America. Program chairman for the conference and president for 1968–69 is Manuel D. Ramírez, University of Georgia. A session on Portuguese America featured the following papers: Euclides da Cunha: Spokesman for the New Nationalism by John L. Vogt, Jr., University of Georgia; Negritude in Poetry from the Portuguese-Speaking World by Richard A. Prêto-Rodas, University of Florida; International Institutions for Development by Oyama César Ituassú, Universidade do Amazonas; and The Role of Artists and Men of Letters in the Evolution of Brazil by Mario Ypiranga Monteiro, Universidade do Amazonas. The session on Spanish America featured: The Cohesive Influence of José Carlos Mariátegui on Peruvian Art and Politics by Daniel R. Reedy, University of Kentucky; Some Reflections on Chile's Revolution in Freedom by Federico G. Gil, University of North Carolina; and Social Aspects of the Contemporary Spanish American Novel by Roberto Esquenazi-Mayo, University of Nebraska. Papers at the session on Mexico and The Revolution were: The Revolution of 1910 as Reflected in Mexican Art by Lester C. Walker, Jr., University of Georgia; José Vasconcelos: Philosopher of Synthesis by John H. Haddox, University of Texas at El Paso; and The Influence of the Revolution of 1910 on Contemporary Mexican Music by Delbert Sterrett, University of Florida. Keynote speaker at the SECOLAS banquet was Francisco Monterde, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, who spoke of Art and Life of the Mexican People; at the President's Luncheon, John E. Englekirk, UCLA, spoke on Miguel Angel Asturias, "Mejor llamarlas novelas . . . !" Proceedings of the conference are to be published by the University of Alabama Press, for the Latin American Area Program. Information may be requested from Manuel D. Ramírez, Department of Romance Languages, University of Georgia, Athens 30602.

Meeting of Wisconsin Council of Latin Americanists—Milwaukee
May 9–10, 1968

Dedicated to the twentieth anniversary of the Organization of American States, the meeting was attended by approximately 40 persons. Four papers were delivered: The Rise of Nationalism in Mexico during the Colonial Period by Melvin Bloom, Wisconsin State University, Stevens Point; Getulismo v. Integralismo and Nazismo: Destruction of the Brazilian Integralista and Nazi Parties, 1938 by Frank McCann, WSU, River Falls; Some Thoughts on Nineteenth Century Mexican and Colombian Expropriation of Church Property by Robert Knowlton, WSU, Stevens Point; and The Political Value of the Religious Factor in a Latin American Revolution: The Role of the Catholic Church in the Revolution against Juan D. Perón by Ruben De Hoyos, WSU, Oshkosh. Retiring president of the Council Daniel DiPiazza delivered an address on the origins of the OAS. Next meeting is scheduled for fall 1968, at Wisconsin State University, Stevens Point.

Annual Meeting of Midwest Council of Association for Latin American Studies
St. Louis, October 24–26, 1968

Members of MCALAS will consider the theme Cultural and Religious Factors in Latin America. For information, write Charles

Latin American Research Review

Fleener, program chairman, Department of History, St. Louis University, St. Louis, Missouri 63103.

Annual Meeting of Latin American Studies Association—New York November 7–9, 1968

A provisional program was issued in February 1968, listing the topics of the major sessions. Subjects to be considered are: Latin American Studies Outside the Western Hemisphere, chaired by Charles Wagley, Columbia University, with four papers from representatives of European, Soviet, and British associations of Latin American studies: The Study of Literature: Criollos and Peninsulares, chaired by Gregory Rabassa, City University of New York, with three speakers and three panelists; The New Comparative Politics of Latin America, chaired by Kalman Silvert, New York University, or Federico Gil, University of North Carolina; Colonial Art and Architecture: Europe in America and Mestizaje, chaired by Stanton Catlin, Center for Inter-American Relations, Inc., New York; The Culture of Cities, chaired by Richard Morse, Yale University; The Roots and Characteristics of Nationalism, chaired by Stanley Ross, University of Texas; and Food Supply for Latin America, chaired by Kempton Webb, Columbia University. Information is available from Charles Wagley, Institute of Latin American Studies, Columbia University, New York, N. Y. 10025.

Future Meetings

11th Meeting of the Directing Council of the Pan American Institute of Geography and History

Location: Mexico City

Date: July 31–August 9, 1968

Write Carlos A. Forray Rojas, Secretary General, IPGH, Ex-Arzobispado 29, México 18, D.F., Mexico.

Conference on Problems of Urbanization in Latin America

Location: El Paso

Date: August 1968

Write Leonard Cardenas, Jr., Coordinator, Latin American Projects, Department of Political Science, University of Texas at El Paso, El Paso, Texas 79902.

15th International Congress of Historical Sciences

Location: Moscow

Date: August 1968

Write the International Committee of Historical Sciences, 270, Boul. Raspail, Paris 14<sup>e</sup>, France.

2nd World Congress for Rural Sociology

Location: Enschede, Netherlands

Date: August 5–10, 1968

Theme of the meeting is Development of the Rural Social Structure. Write A. L. Bertrand, Department of Rural Sociology, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70803.

Inter-American Symposium on Common Hemispheric Problems

Location: Williamstown, Mass.

Date: August 10–30, 1968

Economic Integration and Improvement in Rural Zones is the theme of the symposium. Write Richard H. Stephens, International Study Center, Inc., 1755 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

38th International Congress of Americanists

Location: Stuttgart and Munich

Date: August 11–18, 1968

Subject matters in the fields of ethnology, archaeology, physical anthropology, linguistics, sociology, history, and problems of acculturation are to be studied. Write Amerikanistenkongress, c/o Linden-Museum, D-7 Stuttgart 1, Hegelplatz 1, Bundesrepublik Deutschland.

7th International Congress on Mental Health

Location: London

Date: August 12–17, 1968

The meeting is sponsored by the National Association for Mental Health of the United Kingdom; theme is Keys to Progress—Mental Health Education. Write E. F. Carr, organizing secretary, Seventh International Congress on Mental Health, 39 Queen Anne Street, London, W. 1, England.

14th International Congress of Schools of Social Work

Location: Helsinki

Date: August 14–17, 1968

For information regarding Latin American content, write Maria Augusta Albano, Assistant Secretary General, International Council on Social Welfare, Regional Office for Latin America, Avenida General Justo 307, Rio de Janeiro, GB, Brazil.

Annual Meeting of Association of American Geographers

Location: Washington, D.C.

Date: August 18–22, 1968

Write Hibberd V. Kline, Jr., University of Pittsburgh, 717 Cathedral of Learning, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania 15213.

16th International Congress of Applied Psychology

Location: Amsterdam

Date: August 18–22, 1968

General theme of the meeting is Interaction of Theory and Practice in Psychology. Write the Secretariat of the XVI International Congress of Applied Psychology, c/o Holland Organizing Centre, 16 Lange Voorhout, The Hague, Netherlands.

14th International Conference of Social Welfare

Location: Helsinki

Date: August 18–24, 1968

Through the theme of the meeting, Social

Welfare and Human Rights, an attempt will be made to compare, while acknowledging the interdependence of, social welfare and human rights. Write Mrs. Kate Katzki, Executive Director, International Council on Social Welfare, 345 E. 46th Street, Room 1016, New York, N.Y. 10017.

34th Council of International Federation of Library Associations

Location: Frankfurt am Main

Date: August 18–25, 1968

Write Anthony Thompson, Permanent Secretary, International Federation of Library Associations, 13 Fine Court Road, Sevenoaks, Kent, England.

Annual Meeting of Rural Sociological Society

Location: Boston

Date: August 23–26, 1968

Write Howard M. Sauer, secretary-treasurer of Rural Sociological Society, Department of Rural Sociology, South Dakota State University, Brookings, S.D. 57006.

Annual Meeting of the American Sociological Association

Location: Boston

Date: August 26–29, 1968

Write Mrs. Alice F. Myers, American Sociological Association, 1001 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

3rd International Conference of Hispanists

Location: Mexico City

Date: August 26–31, 1968

Write C. H. Magis, Colegio de México, Guanajuato 125, México 7, D.F., Mexico.

Meeting of International Cooperation in History of Technology Committee

Location: Paris

Date: August 27, 1968

Purpose of the meeting is to adopt a constitution, to organize the committee and its staff, and to make preparations for the 1969 international symposium on The Industrialization of Underdeveloped Lands as a Historical Process. Write Maurice Daumas, Conservateur du Musée des Techniques, Conservatoire National des Arts et Métiers, 292, rue Saint-Martin, 75 Paris 3<sup>e</sup>, France.

Latin American Research Review

12th Pan American Congress of Architects
Location: Bogotá
Date: September 1968
Write M. Elliott Carroll, American Institute of Architects, 1735 New York Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

Annual Meeting of World Bank Group
Location: Washington, D.C.
Date: September 1968
Write David C. Fulton, chief, Public Affairs, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 1818 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20433.

8th International Congress of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences
Location: Tokyo and Kyoto
Date: September 3–10, 1968.
Write the Organizing Committee, VIII International Congress of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences, Science Council of Japan, Ueno Park, Tokyo, Japan.

4th Congress of the International Economic History Association
Location: Bloomington
Date: September 9–14, 1968
Write Jean-François Bergier, Secretary General, International Economic History Association, Université de Genève, rue de Candolle, 1205 Genève, Switzerland.

15th International Meeting of Institute of Management Sciences
Location: Cleveland
Date: September 11–13, 1968
Write Harold H. Cauvet, P.O. Box 273, Pleasantville, N.Y. 10570.

Meeting of the Directing Council of the Inter-American Indian Institute
Location: Mexico City
Date: October 1968
Write Gonzalo Aguirre Beltrán, Director, Instituto Indigenista Interamericano, Niños Héroes 139, México 7, D.F., Mexico.

Conference of Latin American Episcopal Council
Location: Bogotá
Date: October 1968
Write Latin American Episcopal Council, Calle 73, No. 15–48, Bogotá, Colombia.

53rd Annual Meeting of Association for the Study of Negro Life and History
Location: New York

Date: October 3–6, 1968
Write program chairman Walter Fisher, Department of History, Morgan State College, Baltimore, Maryland 21212.

24th Annual Assembly of Inter-American Press Association
Location: Buenos Aires
Date: October 14–18, 1968
Write Carlos A. Jiménez, IAPA, 667 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10021.

8th Annual Conference of Western History Association
Location: Tucson
Date: October 17–19, 1968
Write Arrell M. Gibson, secretary-treasurer, WHA, Faculty Exchange, University of Oklahoma, Norman 73069.

7th Inter-American Planning Congress
Location: Lima
Date: October 20–25, 1968
The Inter-American Planning Society sponsors this meeting, which is to be organized by the Peruvian Institute of Development Studies. Write Carlos Zuzunaga-Flóres, Instituto Peruano de Estudios del Desarrollo, Casilla Postal 6125, Lima, Peru.

2nd Latin American Congress of Savings
Location: Guatemala City
Date: October 28–31, 1968
Write B. Palacios, Secretaría General, Federación Latinoamericana de Bancos, Asociación Bancaria de Colombia, Bogotá, D.E., 1, Colombia.

Meeting of Geological Society of America
Location: Mexico City
Date: November 1968
Write R. C. Becker, 231 E. 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

International Conference on Health and Health Education
Location: Mar del Plata, Argentina
Date: November 1968
Write L. P. Aujoulat, International Union for Health Education, 66, rue Pierre Charron, Paris 8<sup>e</sup>, France.

Annual Meeting of Southern Political Science Association
Location: Gatlinburg, Tennessee
Date: November 1968

CALENDAR OF MEETINGS

Write Gladys Kammerer, Department of Political Science, University of Florida, Gainesville 32601.

3rd Seminar on International Voluntary Service

Location: Strasbourg, France

Date: November 4–8, 1968

Cooperation in Economic and Social Development, Responsibility of Trade Unions, Cooperatives, Voluntary Agencies, and Industrial and Commercial Enterprise in Developing Countries is to be the theme of the meeting. Write André Louis, chairman, Regional Conference on International Voluntary Service, 13, rue du Méridien, Brussels, 3, Belgium.

21st International Geographical Congress

Location: New Delhi

Date: November 10–December 23, 1968

To be held in conjunction are the 12th General Assembly of the International Geographical Union (December 1–8) and the 4th Technical Conference of the International Cartographic Association (December 6–13). Write Shiba P. Chatterjee, president of Organizing Committee, National Atlas Organization, 1 Acharya Jagadish Bose Road, Calcutta 20, India.

67th Annual Meeting of American Anthropological Association

Location: Seattle

Date: November 21–24, 1968

Write Allan Smith, program chairman, Department of Anthropology, Washington State University, Pullman, Washington 99163.

2nd Reunión Técnica de Bibliotecarios y Documentalistas Agrícolas

Location: Bogotá

Date: December 2–7, 1968

The General Assembly of the Asociación Interamericana de Bibliotecarios y Documentalistas Agrícolas (AIBDA) will be held in conjunction. Write Angela Hernández de Caldas, bibliotecaria, Instituto Tecnológico Agrícola, Apartado Aéreo 449, Pasto, Nariño, Colombia.

12th Inter-American Congress of Municipalities

Location: New Orleans

Date: December 8–12, 1968

Theme of the meeting is The City Progresses. The 6th Inter-American University Seminar, to be held in conjunction with the congress, will have as its theme The Municipality Faces the Problem of Rural Migration. Write Mario Bermudez, Secretary General, Inter-American Municipal Organization, 541 International Trade Mart, 2 Canal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130.

Symposium on Museum Architecture

Location: Mexico City

Date: December 8–14, 1968

Write Mario Vásquez, Jefe, Departamento de Museografía, Museo Nacional de Antropología, Bosque de Chapultepec, México 5, D.F., Mexico.

Annual Meeting of Modern Language Association of America

Location: New York

Date: December 27–29, 1968

Write Mrs. Annabelle Quick, convention manager, MLA, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10012.

INSTITUTIONAL NEWS

Arizona State University's Latin American Digest Goes on Subscription Basis

Begun in September 1966, the Latin American Digest, a bimonthly newsletter of political, economic, and social trends and events published by the Center for Latin American Studies at Arizona State University, was distributed free through the first two volumes, in order to establish an audience. A subscription rate of $2.00 for the academic year of five issues (September, November, January, March, and May) is now being charged. Marvin Alisky, editor