How to Win an Election
An Ancient Guide for Modern Politicians
Quintus Tullius Cicero

Translated and with an introduction by Philip Freeman

“Just in time for the primaries and the big showdown in November comes the wisdom of the ancients, in this case from Quintus Tullius Cicero, younger brother of Marcus, the greatest ancient Roman orator—perhaps the greatest of all time—who, more than two thousand years ago, ran for the highest office in the Roman Republic.”

Overreach
Leadership in the Obama Presidency
George C. Edwards III

“In this provocative, accessible, and timely volume, George Edwards presents a sobering analysis not just of the Obama presidency, but of the very possibility of transformative political change. Overreach constitutes a valuable reminder that what the public expects of presidents, and what presidents expect of themselves, often amounts to a gross exaggeration of what is genuinely possible. Moreover, this book argues, presidents who proceed undaunted risk paying a significant political cost.”

for the Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs

Editor-in-Chief: Joel H. Rosenthal
Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs, USA

Ethics & International Affairs aims to help close the gap between theory and practice (and between theorists and practitioners) by publishing original essays that integrate rigorous thinking about principles of justice and morality into discussions of practical dilemmas related to current policy developments, global institutional arrangements, and the conduct of important international actors. Theoretical discussions that originate in philosophy, religion, or the social sciences should connect with the interests of journalists, activists, policy-makers, and citizens who are primarily concerned with assessing and reforming specific policies, as well as existing rules and institutions such as the United Nations, the World Bank, and the International Monetary Fund; arrangements governing trade, environmental protection, and the use of force; and the International Criminal Court and ad hoc tribunals that address genocide and past societal injustices.

Editors:

Daniel Carpenter, Harvard University

Elisabeth Clemens, University of Chicago

Scott James, University of California, Los Angeles

Studies in American Political Development

publishes scholarship on political change and institutional development in the United States from a variety of theoretical viewpoints.

Articles focus on governmental institutions over time and on their social, economic and cultural setting. In-depth presentation in a longer format allows contributors to elaborate on the complex patterns of state-society relations.

Studies in American Political Development encourages an interdisciplinary approach and recognizes the value of comparative perspectives.
