

Language Variation and Change

The official journal of the annual New Ways of Analyzing Variation (NWA) conference

Editors

Rena Torres Cacoullos, Pennsylvania State University, USA
William Labov, University of Pennsylvania, USA

Language Variation and Change is the only journal dedicated exclusively to the study of linguistic variation and the capacity to deal with systematic and inherent variation in synchronic and diachronic linguistics. Sociolinguistics involves analysing the interaction of language, culture and society; the more specific study of variation is concerned with the impact of this interaction on the structures and processes of traditional linguistics. Language Variation and Change concentrates on the effects of linguistic structure in actual speech production and processing (or writing), including contemporary or historical sources.

Language in Society

Editor-in-Chief

Jenny Cheshire, Queen Mary University of London, UK

Language in Society is an international journal of sociolinguistics concerned with all branches of speech and language as aspects of social life. The journal includes empirical articles of general theoretical, comparative or methodological interest. Content varies from predominantly linguistic to predominantly social. Language in Society aims to strengthen international scholarship and cooperation in this field. In addition to original articles, the journal publishes numerous reviews of the latest important books in the field.
