

Fifty years of research and service has made Rafter Radiocarbon the leader in radiocarbon analytical techniques. We provide both Accelerator Mass Spectrometry and liquid scintillation services to a range of disciplines.

Analytical Services

Our clients enjoy superior consultative services, competitive prices, rapid turnaround times on analysis, and results backed by continuing, world class research in the geochemistry of a wide variety of sample types.

Multi-disciplinary Team

Client Service

Recent work undertaken by our team of multi-disciplinary scientists includes:

Established History

- Analysis of organic materials associated with paleoseismic activity
- Tracer studies in biological research
- Improving the analysis of bone, pollen, and marine shell
- Refining paleodietary studies
- Water and sediment analysis in oceanographic research

On-line Service

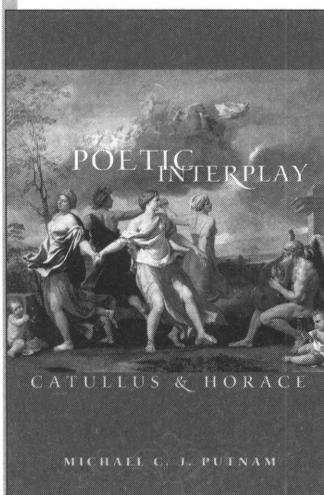

The Rafter Laboratories also offer a wide range of associated analytical services including, stable isotopes ($\delta^{13}\text{C}$, $\delta^{15}\text{N}$, $\delta^{18}\text{O}$) amino acid profiling, PIXE/PIGME, x-ray diffraction, petrology and palynology.

Poetic Interplay

Catullus and Horace

MICHAEL C. J. PUTNAM

In the first book-length study of Catullus's influence on Horace, Michael Putnam shows that the earlier poet was probably the single most important source of inspiration for Horace's Odes, the later author's magnum opus. Horace found in the poetry of Catullus, whatever its mode of presentation, a constant stimulus for his imagination. Putnam's close readings reveal that many of Horace's poems echo Catullus verbally, thematically, or both. By illustrating how Horace often found his own voice even as he acknowledged Catullus's genius, Putnam guides us to a deeper appreciation of the earlier poet as well.

"This is a book that has long been needed and I can't think of anyone better to have written it than Michael Putnam. For any scholar working on either Horace or Catullus, this book will be essential reading. Putnam's argument about the extent of their 'poetic interplay' is not only convincing, but also quite astonishing."—Ronnie Ancona, Hunter College

THE MEDITERRANEAN ARCHAEOLOGICAL TRUST GRANTS TO ASSIST PUBLICATION

The Mediterranean Archaeological Trust, set up in 1959 for the promotion of the study of archaeology, invites applications for grants, made on a competitive basis, for expenses in 2007-8, in the preparation for publication of material from archaeological fieldwork in the Mediterranean world, excluding subventions to publishers. Within the terms of the Trust, priority may be given to Bronze Age subjects. Grants for any amount, however small, will be considered, provided they expedite publication. The grants do not normally exceed £3000.

Applications comprising a 2000-word-maximum description of the proposed work and an outline budget, together with two referees' names, should be sent no later than 15 January 2007, to:

Professor R.R.R. Smith
(Mediterranean Archaeological Trust)
Ashmolean Museum
Oxford OX1 2PH

The references (which are essential) should be sent direct by the referees to arrive before the deadline, or accompany the application in a sealed envelope. Successful applicants will be informed by around the end of March 2007.

New titles from Thames & Hudson

The Moundbuilders

Ancient Peoples of Eastern North America

George R. Milner

'Without question the best available book on the pre-Columbian Indian societies of eastern North America' – Bruce D. Smith, Curator of North American Archaeology at the Smithsonian Institution

'George Milner has jettisoned the jargon ... archaeologists, students and other interested readers can all find something of value in this book' – Southeastern Archaeology

Newly available in paperback, this volume in the distinguished 'Ancient People and Places' series covers the entire sweep of the United States' Eastern Woodlands prehistory, with an emphasis on how these societies developed from hunter-gatherers to village farmers and town-dwellers. Heavily illustrated throughout, with beautiful photographs of the mounds and Native American artworks, it remains the only book on the market that describes the achievements of the Moundbuilders for the general reader and student.

153 illustrations, 20 in colour 24.1 x 15.8cm 224pp ISBN 0500 284687 £12.95 pb

Figuring It Out

What Are We? Where Do We Come From?

The Parallel Visions of Artists and Archaeologists

Colin Renfrew

'A very relevant, revealing and thought-provoking book, and an easy and enjoyable read. Well recommended' – British Archaeology

'A tremendously exciting book that succeeds in building bridges between two fields of human endeavour ... refreshingly clear and accessible' – The Lecturer

Figuring It Out is a compelling, richly illustrated analysis of how the processes of archaeological investigation and discovery have been paralleled by the art and installations of the modern era. Central to the exploration is a group of leading contemporary artists, including Richard Long, Mark Dion, Barry Flanagan, Antony Gormley, Eduardo Paolozzi and David Mach, whose works are notable for their engagement with our world.

175 illustrations, 55 in colour 25.5 x 18.3cm 224pp ISBN 0500 286450 £19.95 pb

Notes for Contributors

Antiquity* aims to report new archaeological research, methods and issues of international significance in plain language to a broad academic and professional readership.

We ask prospective authors to consult previous issues of the journal and the full Notes for Contributors on our website at <http://antiquity.ac.uk/contnotes.html>.

Submissions for publication in the JOURNAL should be sent with a disc and hard copy to The Editor, Antiquity, King's Manor, York, YO1 7EP, UK, or by e-mail to editor@antiquity.ac.uk.

Text should be submitted in English in MS Word 2000 or a compatible program and have a maximum length of 5000 words. Please indicate the corresponding author. References should be in the Harvard format (Antiquity does not use footnotes or end-notes). For initial consideration, figures may be embedded in the Word file or submitted as low-resolution jpeg files, but please note our publication image requirements.

Papers submitted to the journal are peer-reviewed by two or more referees. The Editor aims to make a decision on whether the paper is to be accepted within four to six months of receipt.

Authors whose papers are declined are notified via e-mail by the editor, and we can normally pass on part or all of the referees' reports to assist feedback.

Authors whose papers are accepted may be asked to send an updated, revised text and will need to send figures of publication quality. These should be sent as hard copy photographs or drawings or as TIFF files at 600 dpi (colour or monochrome photographs) and EPS files at 1200 dpi (line drawings) on a CD-ROM or Zip disk. Colour images should be prepared in CMYK; RGB should not be used. Authors may be asked if we can mount long tables and other data on our website.

Authors will be asked to contribute towards the cost of publishing colour images. The charge is £100 per page with colour images.

Authors receive a free PDF of their paper, and may order offprints at a charge of £0.75 each (orders must be for 25 offprints or multiples thereof).

Submissions for publication in the PROJECT GALLERY on the website (<http://antiquity.ac.uk/ProjGall/>) should be e-mailed to editor@antiquity.ac.uk as attachments. Text should be in MS Word and have a maximum length of 1000 words. Figures (colour or monochrome, maximum of 6 pictures) should be jpeg files at 72 dpi. Submissions for the Project Gallery are not peer-reviewed but the Editor may request changes before a submission is accepted. Authors will be asked to check their page before it goes live online.

BOOKS FOR REVIEW

We welcome books for review on archaeology and associated research. Please send books to the Reviews Editor, Dr Madeleine Hummler, at Antiquity, King's Manor, York YO1 7EP, UK. E-mail: mrh106@york.ac.uk.
