Slavery on Trial

Race, Class, and Criminal Justice in Antebellum Richmond, Virginia

James M. Campbell

"Not only demonstrates the law's clear bias in favor of the power of slaveholders and the defense of slavery, but also gives us vivid scenes of slaves, free blacks, and working-class whites negotiating and sometimes contesting society's class and color lines before the bar."

The Age of Impeachment American Constitutional Culture since 1960

David E. Kyvig

“Kyvig, one of our most imaginative and accomplished constitutional historians, has produced an extraordinarily well written, deeply researched, and judicious account of the uses and misuses of impeachment over the past 40-odd years. This is an excellent—and timely—history.”—James T. Patterson, author of Restless Giant: The United States from Watergate to Bush v. Gore

“Time and time again, Kyvig unearths or spotlights previously ignored if not undiscovered material. . . . An outstanding and invaluable book. Its readership should be wide and deep.”—Michael J. Gerhardt, author of The Federal Impeachment Process

554 pages, 19 illustrations, Cloth $34.95

Reframing Scopes Journalists, Scientists, and Lost Photographs from the Trial of the Century

Marcel Chotkowski LaFollette

“LaFollette has unearthed a gold mine of new and provocative photographs from the Scopes trial, and she puts these to excellent use in explaining the ways in which scientists, journalists, and lawyers collaborated to publicize their own version of the ‘trial of the century.’”—Jeffrey P. Moran, author of The Scopes Trial: A Brief History with Documents

“LaFollette resurrects a wonderful collection of photographs—some still familiar, others long forgotten—that recaptures a colorful trial from a distant era that still echoes today.”—Edward J. Larson, author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning Summer for the Gods: The Scopes Trial and America’s Continuing Debate over Science and Religion

“Lincoln’s Legacy includes essays by four renowned scholars of Lincoln and the Civil War. The essays are each outstanding in their own right and offer fresh new perspectives on Lincoln’s leadership, the role of patronage and spoils, Lincoln’s ideas on democracy, and the role of freedom of speech and the judiciary in the Civil War.”—Ronald C. White Jr., author of The Eloquent President: A Portrait of Lincoln Through His Words

“Readers who may be wary of books about Lincoln’s ‘legacy,’ which often feature an overdose of apologetics and adulation, will be agreeably surprised and much enlightened by these authoritative and highly readable essays.”—Douglas L. Wilson, codirector of the Lincoln Studies Center, Knox College, and author of Lincoln’s Sword: The Presidency and the Power of Words

William Miller, Mark E. Neely Jr., Phillip Shaw Paludan, and Mark Summers describe major ethical problems that the sixteenth president navigated, highlighting his enduring importance in contemporary conversations about law, politics, and democracy.

American Society for Legal History

The American Society for Legal History is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to fostering scholarship, teaching, and study concerning the law and institutions of all legal systems, both Anglo-American and international. Founded in 1956, the Society sponsors the journal and Studies in Legal History, a series of book-length monographs available to ASLH members at substantial republication discounts. In addition, the Society holds an annual meeting to promote scholarship and interaction among teachers, practitioners, and students interested in legal history, and publishes a semiannual newsletter reporting developments in the field. For further information concerning the Society, please write: William P. LaPiana, New York Law School, 57 Worth St., New York, New York 10013.

To become a member of the Society, please complete and mail the application to University of Illinois Press, 1325 S. Oak St., Champaign, IL 61820.
