Martha Crago, Université de Montréal, Canada

Applied Psycholinguistics publishes original research papers on the psychological processes involved in language. It examines language development and disorders in adults and children with and without developmental disabilities. Articles in Applied Psycholinguistics address the nature, acquisition, and impairments of language expression and comprehension, including writing and reading. This journal collects the best work from across linguistics, psychology, reading, education, language learning, sociology, speech and hearing, and neurology.
