

Acknowledgements

The letters reproduced in this volume are held in the Imperial College Archives (Huxley Papers) and at the Royal College of Physicians (Huxley ALS Collection). They are reproduced with the permission of The College Archives, Imperial College London, and the permission of the Royal College of Physicians of London. We thank the Wellcome Trust Centre for the History of Medicine at UCL for its support in producing this volume.

We are very grateful to Anne Barrett, College Archivist & Corporate Records Manager at Imperial College and to Pamela Forde, Archivist at the Royal College of Physicians, for their help and for granting access to the letters held in the archives; also for the loan of material to the Wellcome Trust Library which greatly facilitated our initial transcription of the letters. Our thanks too go to the staff of the Wellcome Library, Peter Basham, Heritage Collections Assistant at the Royal College of Physicians, and Catherine Harpham, Assistant Archivist & Records Manager at Imperial College.

We also thank Dr Andrew Hull, now at Swansea University, for returning to the Imperial College Archives with the initial transcription to check readings, fill in gaps and to begin footnoting; Dr Helen Bynum, and Dr Richard Aspin, Wellcome Trust Library, for their help in deciphering Huxley's handwriting; and Elizabeth Gilbert at the Royal Horticultural Society Library and Chris Papadopoulos at the Wellcome Centre for their help with specific queries. We are also grateful to Janet Dudley for compiling the index.