YEMEN COLLEGE OF MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES

YEMEN LANGUAGE CENTER
المركز اليمني للغات

The Yemen College of Middle Eastern Studies (YCMES) was founded in 2006 by Sabri Saleem, in collaboration with Steven C. Caton (Harvard University). It consists of two entities: The Program in Contemporary Middle Eastern Studies (PCMES) and the Yemen Language Center (YLC). The Yemen Language Center was founded in 1989 and has since established an outstanding reputation for teaching Arabic to students from Europe, North America, and Asia. The Program in Contemporary Middle Eastern Studies is new and will begin its first academic year in fall 2008, the first and only accredited MES and Arabic program in Yemen for international study abroad.

The combination of the 18-year-old Arabic program and the PCMES will offer students and universities a new alternative in the Middle East for rigorous semester, year-long and short-term study abroad programs. The Yemen College of Middle Eastern Studies is accredited by the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research in Yemen and has already established relations with many American and European universities for credit transfer.

Description

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a private, non-profit, non-political learned society that brings together scholars, educators and those interested in the study of the region from all over the world. From its inception in 1966 with 50 founding members, MESA has increased its membership to more than 2,600 and now serves as an umbrella organization for more than sixty institutional members and forty-two affiliated organizations. The association is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Council of Area Studies Associations, and a member of the National Humanities Alliance. As part of its goal to advance learning, facilitate communication and promote cooperation, MESA sponsors an annual meeting that is a leading international forum for scholarship, intellectual exchange and pedagogical innovation. It is responsible for the International Journal of Middle East Studies, the premiere journal on the region, the MESA Bulletin and a quarterly newsletter. An awards program recognizes scholarly achievement, service to the profession and exemplary student. MESA is governed by a nine-member Board of Directors elected by the membership.

MESA is a nonprofit corporation with tax exempt status. Contributions to the Association are deductible under both U.S. Federal and British income tax regulations.

Mission Statement

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a non-political association that fosters the study of the Middle East, promotes high standards of scholarship and teaching, and encourages public understanding of the region and its peoples through programs, publications and services that enhance education, further intellectual exchange, recognize professional distinction, and defend academic freedom.

Honorary Fellows

Elizabeth W. Fernea, Oleg Grabar, Hâilil İnalçık, Nikki Keddie, Ann K.S. Lambton, Afaf Lutfi al-Sayyid Marsot, E. Roger Owen, André Raymond and Kamal Salibi.
