THE LORD AS THEIR PORTION

The Story of the Religious Orders and How They Shaped Our World

ELIZABETH RAPLEY

“Life under a religious rule has been a hallmark of the Catholic tradition for millennia. Elizabeth Rapley shows how these rules of life have given shape to a plethora of religious orders and why those orders are crucial for understanding the history of Christianity. Her overview of this way of life, ranging from the fourth-century desert ascetics to the missionary orders of men and women in the modern period, is a carefully researched and highly readable work.”

AMERICAN CHRISTIANITIES

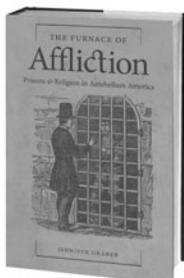

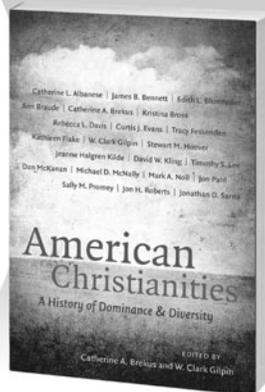

A History of Dominance and Diversity

EDITED BY CATHERINE A. BREKUS AND W. CLARK GILPIN

"An outstanding volume that will be ideal for undergraduate and graduate classes in religious studies and American studies. This collection of essays provides readers with a renewed appreciation for the many ways that American Christians have shaped culture, politics, social life, and worldviews while illuminating corners of American Christianities that have been missing from mainstream scholarship."
—Diane Winston, University of Southern California

"This anthology is here to stay. All of the essays in this volume represent original scholarship, all deal with topics of broad scope and enduring significance, and almost all of the authors are senior figures widely respected for their command of their specialties. Brekus's and Gilpin's sixteen-page introduction alone is worth the price of admission. This work will serve admirably for students, scholars, and thoughtful browsers who desire vivid descriptions and clear analyses of the contours of the American Christian landscape."
—Grant Wacker, Duke University

544 pages $75.00 cloth / $34.95 paper

THE FURNACE OF AFFLICTION

Prisons and Religion in Antebellum America

JENNIFER GRABER

"The most sophisticated and comprehensive history of prisons and religion in early America that has ever been written. Eloquent, powerful, and riveting . . . required reading for anyone who wishes to understand the painful history of prisons and incarceration in the early republic."
—Harry S. Stout, Yale University

248 pages $39.95 cloth

GOD'S ALMOST CHOSEN PEOPLES

EARLY CHRISTIAN THINKERS

This collection of essays presents the thought and practice of the early church through the lives and works of twelve key Christians from the second and third centuries. Edited by Paul Foster and written by a team of renowned scholars, Early Christian Thinkers is a necessary window into the early development of Christian orthodoxy.

"Teachers of the period will find this an invaluable volume, both for the quality of the essays and for the particular selection of figures included. In English this collection has no equal."

ATHANASIUS

Peter J. Leithart

978-0-8010-3942-3 • 224 pp. • $27.99p

"Leithart's excellent study shows Athanasius to be christocentric in his biblical interpretation and theology long before Barth made it fashionable to be so. The 'sense of the Fathers' is indeed being visited upon their evangelical great-grandchildren, and with mostly salutary effect. Leithart has got the Foundations of Theological Exegesis and Christian Spirituality series off to a splendid start."—Kevin J. Vanhooser, Wheaton College and Graduate School

EVANGELICALS AND NICENE FAITH

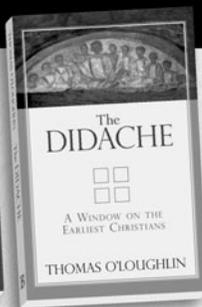

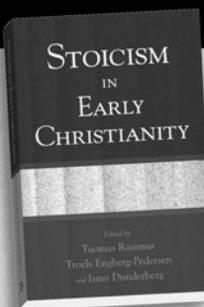

RECLAIMING THE APOSTOLIC WITNESS

Timothy George, editor

978-0-8010-3926-3 • 272 pp. • $24.99p

Coming November 2011

In this volume, top scholars examine the Nicene Creed's connection with the evangelical tradition, helping readers see evangelicalism as a renewal movement within the one holy catholic and apostolic church. Particular focus is given to the Creed's practical outworking in the life of the church—its theology, spirituality, worship, and mission.

“A Brilliant Summary!”

RETRIEVING NICAEA
THE DEVELOPMENT AND
MEANING OF TRINITARIAN
DOCTRINE

Khaled Anatolios

978-0-8010-3132-8

400 pp. • $39.99c

“With this impressive book, Khaled Anatolios takes his place alongside luminaries like R. P. C. Hanson and Lewis Ayres as one of the most distinguished interpreters of Nicaea and its legacy. Especially important is his sympathetic interpretation of Athanasius. For anyone who wants to understand Nicene Christianity and its relevance for today, Anatolios is quite simply indispensable.”—George Hunsinger, Princeton Theological Seminary

“[Retrieving Nicaea is] a work of profound theology: a brilliant summary of the conflicts and debates that originally led the church to articulate just what God is for a Christian, as substance and person, and of the beginnings of some accepted answers to the questions that troubled many believers in the controversies surrounding the Council of Nicaea (325).”—Brian E. Daley, SJ, University of Notre Dame (from the foreword)

Belief and Unbelief

During the academic years 2012/13 and 2013/14, the Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies will focus on belief and unbelief and how they have interacted in history. How has the line been drawn between religion and other forms of deeply held conviction: secularism, secular religions, political theologies, and the like? At issue are not just questions of demarcation and definition but processes: secularization, proselytizing, conversion. How does belief manifest itself in lived experience, in ritual, observance, and daily-life practices? How have people and cultures moved across the borderline between belief and unbelief? How has belief itself become a subject of study, whether from a secular or theological point of view? As always, we hope to address these questions from a wide variety of periods and places, from prehistory to the present and from all parts of the world.

The Center will offer a limited number of research fellowships for one or two semesters, running from September to January and from February to June. Early career scholars must have their doctoral degrees in hand at the time of the application. Fellows are expected to live in Princeton in order to take an active part in the intellectual interchange with other members of the Seminar. Funds are limited, and candidates are, therefore, strongly urged to apply to other grant-giving institutions as well as the Center if they wish to come for a full year.

To apply please link to: <http://jobs.princeton.edu>, requisition # 0110383. The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of recommendation for fellowships for 2012/2013 is December 1, 2011. Please note that we will not accept faxed applications. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, cover letter, research proposal, abstract of proposal, and contact information for three references. The Real Luther

NEW!

"Students and researchers should read this book as a model for how to do Reformation History."

Markus Wriedt, Goethe University Frankfurt/Main and Marquette University

"A fascinating history . . . Luther is both a Catholic and a Reformer at the same time."

Wolfgang Thönissen, Faculty of Theology, Paderborn

"I was constantly fascinated and sometimes even thrilled by his insights into Dr. Martin's continuity with medieval theology."

Bishop Richard J. Skiba, Milwaukee; Co-chair of the National Lutheran/Catholic Dialogue

Anticipating the 500th anniversary of the Reformation in 2017, Roman Catholic scholar Franz Posset explores the history of Luther's development in the crucial years of 1501-17 before Luther's views were disputed. The book includes:

- Illustrations from Luther's career
- A new translation of Melancthon's memoirs of Luther's life
- A fresh chronology of Luther's life from 1501-17, based on the latest research
- Extensive references to both primary and secondary literature for Luther studies

Posset is an independent researcher and an associate editor of Luther Digest. In 2003, Renaissance and Reformation/Renaissance et Réforme awarded Posset the Natalie Zemon Davis Prize for superb scholarship.

The Church from Age to Age

A History from Galilee to Global Christianity

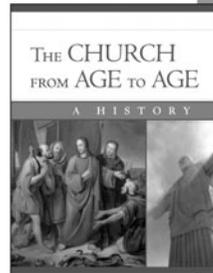

12-4370LWC

"A marvelous survey text. . . Its global frame of reference will be especially helpful to many. I strongly recommend this text for use in Christian colleges, seminaries, churches, and Protestant homes around the world. I will certainly be using it in my own teaching ministry."
Douglas A. Sweeney, Trinity Evangelical Divinity School

"Both timely and timeless. It . . . takes cognizance not only of the history of the Western and Eastern churches, but also of the history of the churches in the global south where the majority of Christianity currently resides."

Joel C. Elovsky, Concordia University Wisconsin and Eastern University

- One volume (1048 pp.)
- Historical narrative extending into the 21st century
- Extensive timeline
- 15 historical maps
- Readings from primary sources
- Lists of Popes, Patriarchs, and Councils
- General and period specific bibliographies

Founded in 1869, Concordia is the publishing house of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Gospel According to the Klan

The KKK's Appeal to Protestant America, 1915–1930

Kelly J. Baker

“An original and sobering work. In the present age, when we may no longer pretend that the lines between violent fanaticism and religious fervor are clearly discernible, this book makes a timely and urgent intervention. Hatred may have more to do with religion than we care to acknowledge.”

—David Morgan, author of Protestants and Pictures: Religion, Visual Culture, and the Age of American Mass Production

“An important contribution to Klan scholarship that gives sustained attention to the centrality of Protestant Christianity in the construction of the movement's identity.”

—Rory McVeigh, author of The Rise of the Ku Klux Klan: Right-Wing Movements and National Politics

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Send manuscripts and books for review to the editorial office. Manuscripts should run 6,000–11,000 words (or approximately 30–35 pages), not including endnotes, and should be printed double-spaced in 11- or 12-point font; endnotes must be printed double-spaced on separate pages following the text. The editors request an electronic submission (either by email attachment or by 3½" disk or cd-rom sent to the address below) of the following items:

(1) the manuscript (in order to protect the author's anonymity during the review process, the author's name should appear only on the title page of the essay);

(2) a 200-word abstract (this is used during the review process and if Church History publishes the essay, the abstract may be included on the Church History web page at www.churchhistory.org).

Please see www.churchhistory.org/churchhistoryguidelines.html for further manuscript submission guidelines. The editors will consider submissions of 70–90 pages for publication as "extended articles." Persons wishing to submit such manuscripts should query before sending them.
